Struggling to Stay Off Welfare, Mrs. Mary Gordon, 70, Boston, pushes her heavily laden cart along Blue Hill Avenue enroute to a junk yard. She has been a rag picker for as long as anybody can remember, first in the West End and for the last six years in Roxbury. She earns about $1 per day. Her purpose — at all cost — is to stay off welfare, so each dawn she leaves her apartment house with her cart to collect empty bottles, newspapers and old clothes. (AP Wirephoto)

Reactions Vary to Curb on Textiles

ATLANTA (AP) — Legislators and manufacturers in the economically hard-pressed Southern textile belt have greeted President Nixon's announced curb on noncotton fabric imports with a mixture of caution, relief and occasional complaints that the move came too late.

"Anything is better than what we've had," Meno Schoenback of Allied Products in Atlanta said after the White House announced on Friday agreements curbing noncotton textile imports from Japan, South Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

"It's a step in the right direction," said Schoenback. "Many, many jobs have already been lost. Something had to be done. Anything will help us."

'Welcome Relief'

A spokesman for the Alabama Textile Manufacturers Association said "we welcome any relief," although sources close to Gov. George C. Wallace said the Alabama governor feels the Nixon move "came about 100,000 jobs too late."

Sen. David Gambrell, D-Ga., said he was "pleased" with the move but "restrictions should have been imposed several years back in order to protect the jobs of textile workers that have been undermined and wiped out by textile dumping on the U.S. market."

The textile industry, burdened by many worker layoffs, the closing of more than 30 mills during the past three years and threatened with additional shutdowns, has long complained that its domestic market has become inundated by foreign imports, manufactured abroad by cheap labor.

Presidential economic adviser Peter Peterson said imports of manmade fibers increased by an estimated 40 per cent last year and are expected to go up over 70 per cent this year. The new agreements limit annual increases to 5 per cent for Japan and 7½ per cent for Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea.

Alabama's Hanley Mills and Coosa Pie Mills, with some 1,400 workers, have closed in the past year. Alabama Mills, which employs 850 in Alabama, has announced plans to discontinue operations, and Georgia's Bibb Manufacturing says it will close several mills.

The import curb was greeted more enthusiastically by Rep. Nick Galifianakis, D-N.C., who said: "The President deserves the thanks of all North Carolinians for his diligence in pursuing this elusive agreement to a successful conclusion for it will mean much to those thousands of Tar Heel people whose livelihoods depend on the health of our textile industry."

The restrictions should "go a long way towards decreasing the $2 billion unfavorable balance of trade in textiles and apparel," said Charles F. Myers Jr. of Greensboro, N.C., chairman and chief executive officer of Burlington Industries, Inc., one of the world's largest textile companies.

Clothing Prices to Rise?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will Americans be paying more for their clothes as the result of the new agreements reached with Japan and other major Asian producers to hold down exports of non-cotton textiles to this country?

The White House calls that a "good question" but doesn't say "no" to possible price increases.

Members of retailers organizations and representatives of foreign textile producers are predicting a 10 to 15 per cent rise.

But a spokesman for the domestic textile industry says this prediction is "totally without foundation" and there should be no increases in price.

Peter Peterson, presidential adviser on foreign economic policy, was asked if the restraint agreements would mean that textile apparel and madeup goods as well as fibers would cost more.

He replied that it was "a good question," but added that in considering these matters there had to be a tradeoff.

He said that the restraints would result in saving the jobs of perhaps 150,000 American workers in the textile business. These jobs are concentrated in areas least able to handle the unemployment, Peterson said.

The importers, who have fought textile restraints, together with foreign producers expect a rather quick increase in the prices of apparel. They cite figures given by the retailers association earlier this year that quotas would bring a hike of 10 cents to 15 cents on the dollar.

Also it was pointed out that the popular double knits are in short supply and that buyers have been replenishing their stocks even though they had to pay the 10 per cent surcharge imposed since last Aug. 15.

Under the new agreements the surcharge was removed from shipments as of Oct. 1.

Robert Jackson, executive vice president of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, says textiles is a highly competitive industry and he does not expect any increases.

He said that the Wholesale Price Index, with 1967 serving a base of 100, shows all industrial commodities now stand at 113 per cent average. But the average for the manmade fibers is 101 and for the entire textile industry the average is about 103. Recent boosts in the cost of cotton have sent the price of cotton textiles up

"We are not contributing to inflation and they have not placed price controls on our commodities because of increases," he said

Nixon to Pick Boards Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — With less than a month remaining before Phase 2 of his economic policy takes effect, President Nixon reportedly is almost ready to name the members of the Pay Board and Price Commission that will have primary responsibility for making it work.

The White House said Friday members of the two groups, which will have chief responsibility for developing wage and price standards for the post-freeze period that begins Nov. 14, will be named within a few days.

They probably will hold their first meetings next week, the White House said.

"It's important that these people gather next week to do the work the President has assigned," said Donald Rumsfeld, newly named director of the Cost of Living Council.

Time Factors

Despite the time factor, Rumsfeld said he doubted that the Cost of Living Council—which has been the chief enforcer of Phase 1—would develop interim wage-price standards if the Pay Board and Price Commission fail to get them worked out by Nov. 13.

"I think it would not be useful to come up with an interim arrangement that would last only a few hours or a few days," Rumsfeld said.

"It's clear to the country," he said, "that the freeze remains in effect until something happens."

Rumsfeld also acknowledged that some persons who have been asked to serve on the two boards have declined.

Orders Signed

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, meanwhile, signed orders giving the boards authority to "establish criteria, standards, and implementation procedures designed to stabilize wages and salaries" during Phase 2.

The move apparently was designed to allay fears of organized labor that actions by the boards would be subject to veto by the Cost-of-Living Council

In other developments Friday

—The White House said it probably will send legislation to Congress next Monday or Tuesday that would extend Nixon's authority to control wages, prices and rents from April 30, 1972, to April 30, 1973. The bill also will call for new standby controls on interest rates and dividends, creation of a federal court to handle wage-price cases and subpoena powers for the Pay Board and Price Commission.

Trade Pact

—A trade agreement was announced between the United States and Japan, South Korea, Taiwan amd Hong Kong to restrain the flow of noncotton textiles into the United States. As a result, the United States agreed to lift the 10 per cent import surcharge on those products.

—Ford Motor Co. announced federally approved price increases on several 1972 models to reflect equipment changes on domestic models and the 6.5 per cent tax surcharge on imported cars and parts.

Auto Engine Mounts Faulty

U.S. Urges Owners Of GM Models To Get Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Transportation Department says the owners of up to 6 million Chevrolet-built vehicles should bring them in for inspection because failure of engine mounts could cause loss of control.

The department's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration issued the warning late Friday on the basis, it said, of reports that engine mountings on about 500 vehicles failed.

Spokesmen said it was believed many more than the reported 500 failures had occurred.

Model Years

Spokesmen said owners of Chevrolets, Novas, Chevelles and Camaros of the model years 1965 through 1969 should bring them in for front engine mount inspections and possible repair work.

General Motors, manufacturers of Chevrolet vehicles, said in a statement released in Detroit that it shared the agency's "interest" in the problem and pledged continued cooperation in the investigation.

GM said the vehicle owner would have to pay the cost of any repairs.

"Any safety risk that NHTSA has associated with this problem can be present only if an engine mount has failed and the engine is accelerated rapidly from very low speeds or from a standing start," GM said. "It is highly unlikely that this condition can occur at speeds above 25 miles per hour."

New State Insurance Rules OK'd

MADISON, Wis. (AP) —Wisconsin Insurance Commissioner Stanley DuRose said today he has approved a set of strict standards for the settlement practices of insurance companies, the first such standards in the state.

DuRose said frequent violation of the new rules, which go into effect Nov. 1, could cause insurance company to forefeit its license.

The commissioner said the rules will apply to all types of insurance companies in the state, including non-profit companies such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

The standards include prohibition of the failure of a company to execute a claims investigation with reasonable dispatch; failure to attempt in good faith to effect fair and equitable claim settlement.

'Political Tactics' Claimed

Top U.S. Attorney Quits Under Fire About Ties

Will R. Wilson

Wilson said he has been the target of politically based character assassinations and was resigning to save the Nixon administration further embarrassment.

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., carried on a one-man campaign to force Wilson's dismissal since mid-June. In recent weeks a number of national publications also suggested Wilson should quit.

General Counsel

Wilson was general counsel for Sharp's bank, realty firm and an insurance company in a period from 1967 to early 1969, during which the Securities and Exchange Commission said their assets were "systematically looted."

Wilson has not been accused of any crime in the Sharp scandal.

Federal grand juries in Dallas and Houston are still considering material in the case, which broke nine months ago and implicated top state Democratic officeholders.

In a four-page letter to President Nixon dated Friday night, Wilson spoke of his fight against organized crime and then, on the final page, said:

"Political enemies of the past, misplaced confidences and forces whose faces I do not recognize have assailed my character. They have attempted to pull attention away from goals.

"Events involving former clients which have unfolded in Texas in the past few months have, through no fault of mine, created difficulties and embarrassment which your administration should not be taxed with."

Wilson said he is the victim of "character assassination which is currently being used as a political tactic" and he told Nixon that "I must fight my own fight freed from the restraints of this office."

The White House had no immediate comment.

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell praised Wilson's "experience, skill and dedication" and said he had "contributed significantly to the substantial progress that has been achieved in the war on organized crime" in his 30 months at Justice.

Arson Suspected In Madison Fires

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Three fires broke out within 200 feet of each other early today in Madison's Mifflin Street area, and officials speculated whether the apparent arson was connected with the $200,000 fire Friday at the Midvale Community Lutheran Church

The two-alarm fires, discovered at about 4 a.m., destroyed most of the Monona Tire Co. and a small garage, and caused only minor damage to an apartment building.

Fire Marshal John R Tappen said "there is a good possibility that the fires are connected."

Firemen were still battling the Monona Tire Co. blaze four hours after it was discovered.

A Madison fire dispatcher, Hugh Emerson, said the fires today followed a week of apparent arsonist activity

Before Friday's fire at the Midvale Community Church, there were at least two other incidents officials believe were caused by an arsonist.

Another Madison apartment building fire occurred shortly after midnight Wednesday. Wednesday afternoon, a hand towel dispenser and a number of fire prevention posters were set on fire at the Madison Area Technical Collge.

Officials said they have no firm evidence the incidents are related.

Delay Seen in Trial of Youth

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — The start of the trial for Douglas Dean on charges of killing five persons last summer could be delayed past Nov 1, Circuit Court Judge Charles Larson said Friday.

Larson said briefs by the defense attorney, Robert Halvorsen, and Dist Atty Lance Jones on Halvorsen's motion to suppress some evidence in the case must be filed by Oct. 28

Although Larson said he would make a decision as soon as possible, he said the start of the trial might have to be delayed—especially if his decision is appealed to the Wisconsin Supreme Court

The motion alleges the state moved improperly in seizing the 19-year-old youth's clothing, while he was hospitalized.

Cleaver Hits China, Returning to U.S.

ALGIERS (AP) — Scornfully rebuking the Communist regimes in China and Cuba, Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver says he will end his Algerian exile and devote himself to urban guerrilla struggle in the United States

The 36-year-old fugitive called Peking's invitation to President Nixon a setback to the worldwide revolutionary movement and said the Chinese about-face helped him make up his mind to go home.

Cleaver declined in an interview Friday to indicate when he would return, but he said it would be soon The U S State Department has refused to renew his passport since he fled from the country in 1968 when his parole was revoked following a shootout with police in Oakland, Calif.

Wife Returns

His wife Kathleen and their two children arrived in Boston Friday night She said her husband was expected to return "very soon"

Cleaver said some of his followers would remain in Algeria to continue the "revolutionary peoples' communications network" set up with financial aid from the Algerian government.

His future struggle, he said, would follow the example of urban guerrilla movements in Latin America, Quebec and Northern Ireland, and "openly and proudly admit our exploits"

He handed his visitors a manual on "organizing urban guerrilla units" published by the so-called Afro-American liberation army and written by Panther "field marshal" Don Cox, who has shared Cleaver's two-year exile here.

Political Manual

The manual urged political kidnapings on the Latin American model "of such a nature that they will receive nationwide and worldwide coverage through the pigs' news media" It also gave detailed directions on how to make time bombs, Molotov cocktails and hand grenades

Cleaver has abandoned his semi-Afro hairdo and now wears his hair and full beard neatly trimmed He wore a blue T-shirt and blue jeans, and two pear-shaped stones dangled from chains around his neck. The room of the comfortable villa put at his disposal by the Algerian authorities was filled with modern recording equipment

Colonizing Possibility Raised

Moon May Have Water, Scientist Says

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Rice University scientist says water vapor has been detected in the moon's atmosphere by instruments left by Apollo astronauts.

Dr. John W. Freeman told a news conference Friday that the vapor may come from pools of water deep beneath the lunar surface and erupt in geysers which could supply water and energy for colonies on the moon.

A space agency official said the announcement was a "possibly important new discovery about the moon"

'Very Interesting'

"I look at it as a very interesting observation about the moon which nobody had anticipated," said Dr. Paul Gast chief of planetary and earth sciences at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Freeman said the water vapor was detected by instruments left by the Apollo 12 and Apollo 14 astronauts He said the instruments, called suprathermal ion detection experiments (SIDE), are able to sense and identify ionized gases in the near-vacuum of the moon

On March 7, 1971, Freeman said, the instrument reported three groups of readings which indicated the presence of water vapor clouds which quickly dissipated into space The scientist said each reading came about two hours after a seismograph had detected a series of small quakes, which he said may have triggered a geyser

A long analysis of the data, Freeman said, has eliminated all but natural sources for the cloud of water vapor.

Freeman's data goes against most current theories Many geochemists have said that lunar rocks examined so far indicate the moon has been dry. They note that the presence of water changes the chemistry of rocks cooling from lava.

lava

However, Gast said the findings are not mutually exclusive

Gast said rocks which have been examined came from no deeper than 100 to 200 kilometers beneath the lunar surface

"If you go deeper and deeper down," he said, "You may have more volatile material," such as water or water-bearing rock

Moon quakes detected by the seismographs, he said, are thought to be coming from about 800 kilometers beneath the lunar surface. The water vapor, he said, could come from the same depth

Freeman said his findings indicated "there's a good possibility of liquid water somewhere on the moon"

The Rice University scientist said this raises the possibility that one day colonies could find and use water on the moon

Since the water escapes in the form of geysers of hot gas, he said, this could be a source of energy for men living on the moon

Loss of Muscle Tone Cause for Swelling

BY G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Doctor: I had a stroke five months ago. It affected my right hand and my speech. My speech came back and my hand was improving with therapy exercises.

But about six weeks after the stroke the hand began to swell, and now I cannot completely close it. I still do exercises but the hand continues to be swollen and the doctor has given me no reason for it. — Mrs. B S.

There can be different reasons for such swelling, but perhaps the commonest, in the circumstances you describe (following a stroke) is the loss of muscle tone.

Blood circulation, you see, doesn't depend entirely on the pumping action by the heart. Th circulation is very much aided by a squeezing action on the blood vessels by muscle movement.

If circulation is not up to par, congestion develops; more fluid than normal accumulates in the tissues, instead of being swept along by a brisker circulation.

When you have a stroke, it means that some part of your brain no longer can send signals to certain muscles, telling them when to move. So the muscles don't move. Or don't move much.

Without much muscle activity in your hand, the circulation suffers.

So by all means keep on with your hand exercises, but I would add this suggestion: When exercising your hand, keep your arm, or anyway the forearm, pretty much horizontal. Rest it on a table, for example.

Then periodically raise the arm over your head, or up to shoulder level. The purpose of this is to aid circulation not only by muscle movement but by making use of gravity — when the arm is raised, blood flows downward toward the heart, and when the arm is lowered, fresh blood easily flows the other way. This doesn't work in a hurry, but it works.

Another cause of such swelling is called the shoulder-hand syndrome, a reflex nervous disorder of an extremity that can follow a stroke. Exercise, especially involving the shoulder joint, is important. But in that case, if it happens to be your case, better be guided by your doctor's advice. Anyway, as in the other situation, continued exercise is important You don't expect results overnight. You have to keep at it

Dear Doctor: A recent two-hour glucose tolerance test indicated that I was a latent diabetic. However,the blood sugar at the beginning of the test was normal and the doctor felt it was not necessary that I take any precautions in my diet

What would you think? I have friends who also are called latent diabetics and they are on typical diabetes diets and they ask why I am different. — Mrs. U.F.C.

I doubt that you are different. Simple restriction of sugars and concentrated carbohydrates (cake, cookies, too much bread) would still be in order for now.

But no restriction of protein, fruits or vegetables. A bread allowance of three or four slices a day would be quite permissible.

Cutting out the sweets probably is all you really need to do. Perhaps your doctor didn't emphasize diet because he felt that your eating habits are satisfactory now. Or perhaps you aren't overweight but some of your friends are.

Dear Doctor: I am wondering if continually eating peanut butter (about one-quarter cup a day) would cause diarrhea. — Mrs. I.M.

It might.

THE ACES

ON BRIDGE

TEAM CAPTAIN

One of the most highly respected and well-liked players of the French Team is Jean-Michel Boulenger. His play during the 1971 World Championship was excellent and, coupled with his charm and friendly manner, he made a hit with all of The Aces.

Today's hand was played by Boulenger in the finals of the championship. It was his unluckiest hand of the tournament. However, what was most impressive was that he did not allow misfortune to affect his subsequent play.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	All pass

Opening lead: Five of diamonds.

The bidding was routine after South decided to open the bidding and South became the declarer at three no trump.

When the hand was first played, using the Aces Club, Ace Billy Eisenberg (North) became the declarer at the same contract. He had little trouble after East led the club queen. East was put on lead with a third club, after which he switched to hearts. Eisenberg was able to take two hearts, three clubs and three spades for eight tricks. He then gave East the lead in spades for a forced diamond lead for trick number nine.

Boulenger was not destined for the same pleasures. Ace Bobby Wolff started declarer's misery by leading his fourth best diamond and declarer made his first wrong guess when he played the jack. Two more rounds of diamonds were played, dummy winning the king.

Declarer took the king and ace of spades and then ducked a club to East. East returned the spade jack, forcing dummy's queen and establishing a spade for East. Declarer played a low club to his ace and, after Jim Jacoby falsecarded the queen, declarer made another wrong guess and finessed dummy's club nine. East gathered in the jack and cashed his spade.

A heart lead finished Boulenger since he could not prevent West from gaining the lead to cash the heart king and a long diamond. After this nightmare, the defense took three diamonds, two clubs, one spade and one heart. Down 300 at the same contract which was made in the other room.

At times like this what words can serve a player fighting for his country? Boulenger said nothing He merely clenched his jaw and let his bidding and play do the talking for him.

He was eloquent!

Don't Defend, Explain, Discuss

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It seems like a new set of etiquette guidelines should be established to help conservative, square, confused, parents whose unmarried children (fresh out of their teens) are living with someone as man and wife.

Our two daughters have

been living with their boyfriends for over a year. Neither has plans for marriage at the present time because "it isn't necessary."

How do we evade the truth when confronted by friends and grandparents? When children marry, an announcement appears in the papers, but we seem to have acquired a couple of sons-in-law by virtue of the fact that they are shacked up with our daughters. Should we admit it and let the chips fall where they may? — Mixed Mates

Dear Mixed: Where did you get the idea these two jokers are sons-in-law? They are simply friends of your daughters. The light-housekeeping arrangement may be for the bob-o-links, but you are under no obligation to explain, defend or discuss it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a college graduate, age 24, and seriously looking for a girl to marry. No, I'm not asking you to help me find somebody, what I am asking is this: What is wrong with a gorgeous chick, age 21, one year of college, now working as a model, who refuses to express an opinion on anything. I've taken this doll out at least a dozen times. It's O.K. when we are at a party or a movie or a ballgame. She laughs easily, is pleasant, and she's one heck of an ornament, but I'd like to know what she thinks about things.

Last night I took her for a three-hour drive just to listen. I asked questions about politics, philosophy, psychology, religion — all I could get out of her was, "I haven't made up my mind yet."

What's her hang-up? — Pulling Teeth

Dear Pulling: She isn't hung up — she's stupid. A girl can't express an opinion if she doesn't have one. And what's with you that you can take out such a dummy a dozen times and not notice that the doll has a sawdust head? I'm glad you noticed it now, however. Some guys don't make the discovery until after they are married.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm getting fed up reading in your column that brides who fail to send thank-you notes are lazy, ignorant, or bereft of manners One woman even had the gall to complain because the note wasn't long enough

Our daughter was married three months ago. She was brought up right and I have never had to apologize for her manners. At this moment she has three gifts which she cannot acknowledge because she doesn't know who sent them. One card is illegible — sent from a resort. My daughter wrote to the resort to trace the gift and they could not help her. The other two gifts were sent from local shops — cash sales, no records. No cards.

So, please tell your readers that sometimes when a bride fails to acknowledge a gift, there may be a good reason. — Hutchinson, Kan.

Dear Hutch: I've said repeatedly that after a reasonable length of time, if no acknowledgement is received, the giver should contact the bride (or high school grad, etc.) and ask if the gift reached her. If it was received and the recipient is embarrassed because she hasn't gotten around to letting you know, that's perfectly fine — you made no boner. She deserves to be embarrassed.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? When does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — What Are the Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM Heloise

BY HELOISE

Dear Folks:

Here's a new one for you. And I assure you that no one has written it in before or I would have used it long, long ago myself!

I was visiting the other night with a neighbor and after eating our get-together meal, we all helped clean up the kitchen.

They had a cooky sheet lined with foil in the bottom shelf of their oven. They had cooked on it (biscuits), but also it had a few drippings from something that overflowed from the shelf above . . . ugh as usual? By the way that's a dandy idea and sure saves cleaning the floor of the oven itself, eh what?

Natch, I was being inspected — and knew it — so I just looked at that soiled piece of foil and thought, "Well, there are suds in the sink, the dish rag is there, they are washing pots and pans. I always save foil if it is savable. How can I save this?"

I couldn't take the foil out of the pan so I turned on the hot water faucet and let it run over the soiled foil without removing it from that cooky sheet, picked up her soapy dish rage, ran across it, and, believe it or not, all the wrikles came out and that many times used foil and it melded to the pan itself.

All that was left to do was give it a quick rinse under the faucet, shake the water off (no drying as it beads like a good wax)and return to the oven.

I've lost my face many, many times and this time I tried to save it. And sure 'nuf . . . I think I did.

So, go buy you a cooky sheet and keep it on the lower shelf of wax) and return to the oven. lined with foil. Sure saves cleaning the oven's bottom. Which, may I say (outside of making a bed), is about the most hateful thing I know of when it comes to housekeeping. . .

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Have you every wondered what to do with those plastic bags you find hanging on your front door knob with sample of merchandise or advertisements from stores?

Well, here's an answer. Use them for traveling trash bags in your car . . . just hang on a convenient knob. They work just fine.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

Recently I had to clean several small items with upholstery shampoo and needed only one cup of liquid. After trying to make foam with my egg beater, I hit on the idea to put the liquid in the blender. The foam was thick and creamy; what's more, when the foam needed thickening up it took only two seconds. And one can use the shampoo right down to the last drop.

Mrs. Erma Jane Cook

Dear Heloise:

Perhaps some of your readers would like to try this . . .

I purchase ten yards of pillowcase tubing, tear it into 12 equal lengths, then launder them.

When I'm making a cotton garment for one of my daughters, I make a colorful hemmed end of a pillowcase tube, using salvaged scrapes for the garment. The machine is already threaded for the color needed and in a few minutes we have a new pretty pillow case.

I've even used curtain scraps for this.

Once I recut a single bed sheet for a colored tablecloth and used those scraps for pillowcase hems.

Marie Buser

Dear Heloise:

When your kids go on a no-cereal-eating jag and their sugary dried cereal becomes as hard as a brick, set it outside for the birds.

The birds love it and your kids will love watching the birds eat!

M. A. Swope

Dear Heloise:

When you wash something in the sink and can't get the soap suds out, do this Take a sort of dry towel and put it over the suds and pat them down. They're gone in a few seconds. My sister told me that one, but she goes to college and doesn't have time to write to you, so I did

181,821 Women Got Abortions In New York

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A total of 181,821 women—most of them white, under the age of 25 and residents of other states—obtained abortions in New York during the first year of the state's liberalized abortion law.

Three out of four of these abortions were performed during the woman's first three months of pregnancy.

And it appeared that more unmarried than married women had abortions, although complete data could not be provided, the state Health Department reported Thursday in its "tentative conclusions" about induced abortions between July 1, 1970, and June 30, 1971

The department said 98,084 of the abortions were performed on women who live outside the state. They came from all the contiguous 48 states except Utah and New Mexico

Dear Mr Broehm,

Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Mayor by the State Statutes of Wisconsin, I am vetoing the action of the Common Council taken at the meeting of September 15, 1971, with reference to Item No. 1 of the Welfare and Ordinance Committee report signed by Alderman Edward R Maloney, as Chairman

Said item is vetoed for the following reasons.

(1) There is insufficient work for the present staff in the Welfare Department without adding another full-time employee.

Because of the objections as set forth above, I hereby submit my veto of the action taken by the Common Council in adopting Item No 1 of the Welfareand Ordinance Committee report as aforementioned

Fluoridation Of City Waters In 25th Year

State Health Service Will Continue to Urge Others to Participate

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — In the 25th anniversary year of the introduction of controlled fluoridation in Wisconsin, more than 61 per cent of the residents of the state and about 88 per cent of those served by a public water supply are receiving water with adequate fluoride, the state division of health reports.

The addition of fluoride to water that does not contain the element in its natural state has been one of the major causes of the state health administration for many years, in defiance of frequent resistance that has led to many fiercely fought referendum issues in communities over the years.

Lately resistance to the procedure has appeared to be lessening, but the health service makes it plain that it intends to continue its campaign to persuade those communities with public water supplies that have not approved fluoridation to do so.

The agency said there are 11 communities of more than 5,000 inhabitants using water with inadequate natural fluoride content. If they launched fluoridation programs, it said, the ratio of fluoridation in public water systems would be raised to 94 per cent.

Only two cities of more than 25,000 population now use water with inadequate fluoride, the health office noted.

The city government of Sheboygan pioneered the use of fluoride in drinking water when it started the first program of its kind in the state in 1946.

In the next 12 years, 90 other communities approved such a program. During the next six years there was a lag, but interest in the process revived in the 1960's.

Today Wisconsin has 266 communities receiving fluoridated water. Sixty eight others are served with adequate natural fluoride, health officers say.

Health authorities insist, although often under angry challenge by critics, that fluoridation contributes significantly to dental health.

No Clues Found In Disappearance Of Appleton Man

Winnebago County Sheriff's officers have not uncovered any further information in the disappearance of a 27-year-old Appleton man Oct. 9.

Officers reported that a sports car belonging to Roger W. Rohe, 1534 E. Wisconsin Ave., was found parked on the south end of the Butte des Morts bridge. Rohe's personal belongings and clothing were found in the car.

Rohe's family reported having seen him last about noon Friday, when he had dinner with his mother in Appleton.

After the car was found Winnebago County officers conducted a shoreline search for the man but reported no results.

Rohe is described as 5 feet, 10 inches tall, and weighing about 200 pounds. He wears glasses.

3 Telephone Sciences Will be Explained to Retired Persons Group

A look into the science of holography, lasers and picturephones will be presented at the meeting of the East Central Chapter of the American Association of Retired Person at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

The 30-minute slide program will be presented by Richard Van Sistine of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. at the First English Lutheran Church.

Bell Telephone Laboratories recently have made scientific breakthroughs in the development of a laser as small as a grain of sand.

Research is also being conducted on the science of holography which is three dimensional photography without the use of a camera. Holography shows promise as a system for data storage and may aid mankind in the fields of medicine and industry.

Carp Removal Is Attempt to Reverse Historic Blunder

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — When the fisheries officials of the state Department of Natural Resources responded to worried environmentalists by defending the use of toxicants to remove carp from public waters, they disclosed a signification conclusion of the state fish management division.

The old method of carp and other "rough fish" control through the use of seines, employed for more than 30 years, is wasteful, inefficient, and incapable of achieving a serious reduction of such undesirable and harmful fish species, they declared flatly.

Carp netting by state-employed crews or commercial fishermen has continued in some degree since the early days of the Depression, when it was seized upon as a work relief project.

Rapid Breeding

Over the years, tens of millions of dollars have been spent on such work under the name of "control."

Whatever the intensity of the seining effort, some carp escape the nets and survive to breed new generations of their kind, the state officers told their supervising board. So prolifically do they reproduce that they quickly take over many bodies of water, destroy vegetation and muddy the waters to a degree that makes it impossible for normal populations of the desirable game fishes to survive, they explained.

The favorite toxicant now in use is antimycin, an antibiotic. Fish managers net game fish from the waters, keep them in hatchery ponds pending the carp treatment program, and then restock them. Even if a few carp survive the chemical, predatory game fish are able to destroy them because the water has cleared sufficiently for them to attack the inferior fish.

Richer Variety

A. E. Ehly, a district manager of the DNR for southern counties, told the board that a toxicant application in the upper Fox River, heavily infested by carp for decades, destroyed 100,000 pounds of the fish. But only 57 pounds of game fish were found after the treatment, he said, emphasizing the efficiency of the sports species removal.

Such waters are typically restocked with a richer variety of game fish than were able to thrive when they were infested with huge population of carp, Ehly and other district managers told the board.

Norman Hacker of the Oshkosh state fisheries station, a biologist, echoed Ehly's statement that riparian owners generally favor overwhelmingly the application of antimycin for carp control. Once waters are rendered turbid through an excessive carp population, game fish are permanently discouraged, he warned.

Fisheries men emphasized that the chemical was tested before its use in the field at a cost of about $132,000. They have also made surveys of the effects on other organisms after the application of the chemical and have found no damage and some improvement, as in an increase in the population of aquatic insects, they said.

Some critics have demanded that the use of the new toxicant be forbidden until more extensive studies of potential damage can be made.

Late 1900's

But the reactions of the fish professionals and the members of the DNR board suggest that they are not inclined to abandon a method for the control or possibly the elimination of a pest fish that has competed with game fish for many decades.

Charles Lloyd, fisheries chief for the state, recalled that carp were introduced to Wisconsin waters in the late 19th century by enthusiastic but scientifically illiterate anglers. Nearly 100 years later, he suggested to his superiors, a method may be at hand to correct that historic blunder.

Street Paving To be Aired Monday Night

Proposed 1972 Program Includes 15 New Projects

A list of 17 streets proposed for concrete paving next year will be presented Monday to the Streets and Sanitation Committee by the Department of Public Works.

The department is asking the committee and City Council for approval earlier than usual to begin the process of public hearings and related preliminary steps in the paving program. The advanced timing is part of an effort to allow for more orderly planning and implementation.

While the proposed program would more than double the total length of new concrete paving installed, compared with the 1971 program, the out-of-pocket expense to taxpayers would be about the same, according to Public Works Director Robert Miller.

Underestimates

The reason is that in the past the city has underestimated the portion of the cost paid by general tax levy and overestimated the amount financed by assessments against property benefiting from new paving.

For 1971, it was estimated the city would pay $256,000 and assessed property owners $250,000 toward paving. Instead, the city cost is now expected to total $308,000, with assessments paying $196,000.

The proposed 1972 program would also cost the city $308,000, but assessments are estimated at $434,000, according to what the department says are more accurate methods of estimating. The result is an expanded paving program without increased cost to the general taxpayer.

The earlier start is one reason the department says it can be more accurate.

The department is proposing 41,880 feet of street, divided almost equally between new streets and old concrete surface to be replaced. During 1971, the city has paved 14,260 feet of new street and replaced 5,320 feet.

15 New Streets

The list to be submitted Monday to the Streets and Sanitation Committee includes 15 new streets and two to be rebuilt.

An 800-foot stretch of Meade Street from Hancock north to the Railroad Tracks and a 500-foot stretch on S. Oneida Street in the industrial Flats, both heavily used by industrial traffic, are proposed for reconstruction.

New streets proposed for their first permanent concrete surface include:

Durkee Street from Florida Avenue to Capitol Drive; Longview Drive from Ballard Road to McDonald Street; Glendale Avenue from Ballard Road to 70 feet East of Roemer Road; Joseph Street from College Avenue to Forest Street; Theodore Street from Forest Street to Lourdes Drive; Matthias Street from Lourdes Drive to Calumet Street; Walden Avenue from Coolidge Avenue to Roeland Avenue.

Alton Court from Alton Street to south end; Civic Street from Haskell Street to Douglas Street; Douglas Street from Haskell Street to railroad tracks; Eighth Street from Victoria Street to Linwood Avenue; Eugene Street from Glendale Avenue to Marquette Street; Lindbergh Street from Mason Street to end of existing concrete pavement; Telulah Avenue from Taft Avenue to Roeland Avenue, and Taft Avenue from Greenview Street to Telulah Avenue.

If approved Monday by the committee and later in the month by the council, public hearings would be scheduled for property owners to comment on the proposed assessments.

Works Board, Finance Meetings Set Monday

KAUKAUNA — Routine matters are scheduled to be aired at a meeting of the board of public works at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the council chambers with a finance meeting to review 1972 budgets set for 7 p.m. at the same location.

New Approach

Solid Waste Bill Awaits Lucey's OK

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A new approach to the management of the increasingly challenging problem of accommodating solid waste disposal is likely to emerge from legislation approved by the Senate and Assembly and expected to be made effective with the approving signature of Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

It would authorize county boards to establish cooperative districts, singly or jointly, for the collection and disposal of solid wastes as well as others.

The immediate effect will be in solid waste management, according to the sponsors, because of the pressure of state law on municipalities and the concern of some of the smaller communities about the state standards and the costs accruing from compliance as well as the difficulties some of the larger cities have encountered in locating suitable landfill sites.

The measure was sponsored by the Wisconsin County Boards Association and supported by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities. Impetus to the bill was provided in studies conducted last year by the joint Legislative Council.

The measure will be permissive only, but government officials believe that it will be welcomed in many districts. Counties would be authorized to contract with municipalities for collection and disposal, and groups of counties could collaborate in establishing such a utility.

The enabling legislation is broad enough to permit counties to handle liquid waste collection and disposal also, but such enterprises are not anticipated immediately. They also will be authorized to operate research projects, however, including recycling of wastes and "any other innovative form of disposal."

The County Boards Association said it sponsored the bill because of an increasing public concern about waste disposal problems and costs, and the conviction that counties could provide such services in many instances more efficiently than individual municipalities. Many cities are prepared immediately to support the idea of county waste management facilities, said Robert Mortensen of the WCBA.

Man Charged With Intent to Abduct Girl, 11

Robert W. Bendixon Held in County Jail After Friday Incident

A 23-year-old Appleton man was charged with felonious burglary with the intent to abduct, in connection with his alleged entry into an Appleton home at 2 a.m. Friday and lifting of an 11-year-old girl from her bed.

Robert W. Bendixon, 23, 818½ W. Franklin St., appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday and is being held in jail on $1,500 bond.

Bendixon reportedly entered a northside home and walked into the girl's bedroom. He allegedly slid his arms around her, put a hand over her mouth and was carrying her from her room when he was surprised by the girl's brothers, ages 15 and 17.

The girl was dropped to the floor and the man fled the home after scuffling with one of the boys.

The girl's step-father followed the man while other members of the family called police. An officer flagged down by the father took Bendixon into custody.

One of the brothers identified Bendixon as the man who was in the home. An auto belonging to him was parked a few blocks away from the home.

Bendixon will appear before Outagamie County Judge Gustave Keller at 8:45 a.m. Monday. A bail study has been ordered and also will be concluded at that time.

Little Chute Hires Recreation Director

LITTLE CHUTE — Martin Marasch, 23, 720 Adams Court, has begun duties as full time recreation director in the village, hired under the federal Emergency Employment Act in which the federal government assumes 90 per cent of his salary and pays fringe benefits. A native of New London, he graduated from University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. He is married and the father of two children. Marasch will work out of an office in the village hall and be responsible for a year-round recreation program.

United Fund . . . 10

Villa Hope Offers a Place for Rehabilitation

They have forgotten the sound of a child's voice; they have lost the once simple skill of cutting meat with a knife; their material possessions are gone or scattered, but if they're real lucky, they have $30 in their pockets.

According to the Rev. Timon Costello, this amount of money will pay for one week of board and room at Villa Hope, a new United Fund agency this year. Villa Hope was established in January of 1980 with its aim "to prevent criminal behavior and to assist persons not capable of living in a socially acceptable manner."

What the high-sounding words really mean, says Costello, is that men coming from prison have a place to live, called a half-way house, where they can adjust to the outside world again, from where they can go to work, and to which they can return, knowing they will find an atmosphere of respect and decency and acceptance.

No Office Hours

Villa Hope has no office hours, says Costello, because problems among the eight men who live there, and others who call for help at all times of the day or night, do not go according to office hours.

Costello says he finds that rehabilitation, which is one of the aims, through counselling and real group living, is "sometimes difficult to define."

"Sometimes," he says, "the residents come from prison and their hands shake so much that it is difficult to even hold a cup of coffee. After a week, they can sip coffee without spilling it. Maybe this is rehabilitation.

"Other times a person will be silent at the table, not knowing what friendship is. After a few days he will join in the conversation. Maybe this is rehabilitation.

"Others will fear foremen on the new job and come home with upset stomachs. After a brief talk with the foreman about their problems, they will come home from work spirited and happy. Maybe this is rehabilitation.

"Others will pace the floor way into the night, but our room chat and joke with him and in a few days he is enjoying the banter of friendly conversation. He then can sit and enjoy a cigarette and a bowl of popcorn. Maybe this is also rehabilitation."

Many of the 79 men who have come and gone through the doors of Villa Hope over a two-year period come from Winnebago State Hospital, Winnebago County Hospital and the probation department. In November, 1970, the half-way house was approved as a foster home, which Costello says "is one of the best things that happened to us. We began a program of aiding men coming off dope, alcohol and men who were finding it hard to accept the social stresses of society."

Villa Hope tries to maintain a home atmosphere and for this reason all professional services needed are provided outside the residence, although the availability of a resident counselor assures that the residents have on-the-spot help when they need it.

Driver Was Speeding, Jury Says

A six-member coroner's jury ruled Thursday that Michael S. Nechodom, 23, route 5, Appleton, was traveling too fast for conditions Oct. 3 when his auto struck and killed a 7-year-old Freedom girl.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps had called the inquest after Mary Kay Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy Jr., route 5, Appleton, was killed while crossing the road in front of her home.

Several witnesses appeared after a request from county officials for aid from witnesses to the accident.

Among the questions raised was whether Nechodom could have missed the girl and what the road conditions were at the time.

Two witnesses said Nechodom could not avoid hitting the girl. An eyewitness said that the girl ran into the street from behind a stopped car and into the path of Nechodom's auto.

The weather was rainy that day but no one was positive that the road was wet at the time of the accident. Several witnesses said they had their wipers on and others said they didn't.

Outagamie County Dist. Atty. James R. Long testified that when he was on the scene 25 minutes after the accident the road was wet.

Outagamie County sheriff's officers reported measuring skid marks 96 feet in length. An officer testified that test skid marks were made with Nechodom's car later and at 40 miles per hour only 75 feet of skid marks were left.

The officer noted that the road was damp but not wet at the time of the tests. The length of the skid marks was important because our witness had said the car roared past him from the corner and the accident happened in a 25 mile per hour zone.

Another witness said that one party in his car had commented that the skid marks had not come from Nechodom's car. He said the marks were parallel with Nichodom's tires when the car stopped after the accident.

The jury deliberated about an hour before reaching the verdict that Nechodom was traveling too fast. The results of the jury will be turned over to Long and prosecutor will result, he said.

$52 Million for State 57 Plan

Proposal Would Upgrade Highway to Freeway Standards

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The cost of improving State 57 to freeway standards from Sauk ville to Kiel and from Kiel to Green Bay would be about $52 million the state Department of Transportation says in a fiscal advisory note to the Legislature.

The department said that such a project would require about five years to complete so that the expenditure could be budgeted at about $10.3 million yearly.

But the result, even if the funding is derived from bond issues as directed in a legislative proposal, would be to defer highway improvements planned for other districts of the state during the state period, the lawmakers were told.

The State 57 plan was proposed by Sen. Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan when Gov. Lucey ordered the deferral of plans to build a new federal Interstate highway connecting Milwaukee with the Fox River Valley and Green Bay.

Keppler was joined in the plan by several co-authors, including Reps. Kafka and Vanderperren of Brown County and Hephner of Calumet County.

Buffalo Wins Debut Under New Mentor

Bob Love Keys Chicago Bulls Past Baltimore

By The Associated Press

"I'm losing a million dollars, and I want to make a change," snapped owner Paul Snyder of the Buffalo Braves in announcing that scout Johnny McCarthy had been named to replace Dolph Schayes as coach

Snyder's change, made one day after Buffalo had been swamped by Seattle 123-90 in its opening game of the National Basketball Association season, proved beneficial

McCarthy, in his first game as coach, guided the Braves to a dramatic 111-109 overtime victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers Friday night

Battle Back

Buffalo looked almost as bad in the opening quarter against Cleveland as it did in its one game under Schayes, falling behind the Cavaliers by 18 points. But the Braves battled back tenaciously and finally tied the score 97-97 late in the fourth quarter. At the end of regulation time, the teams were deadlocked 101-101.

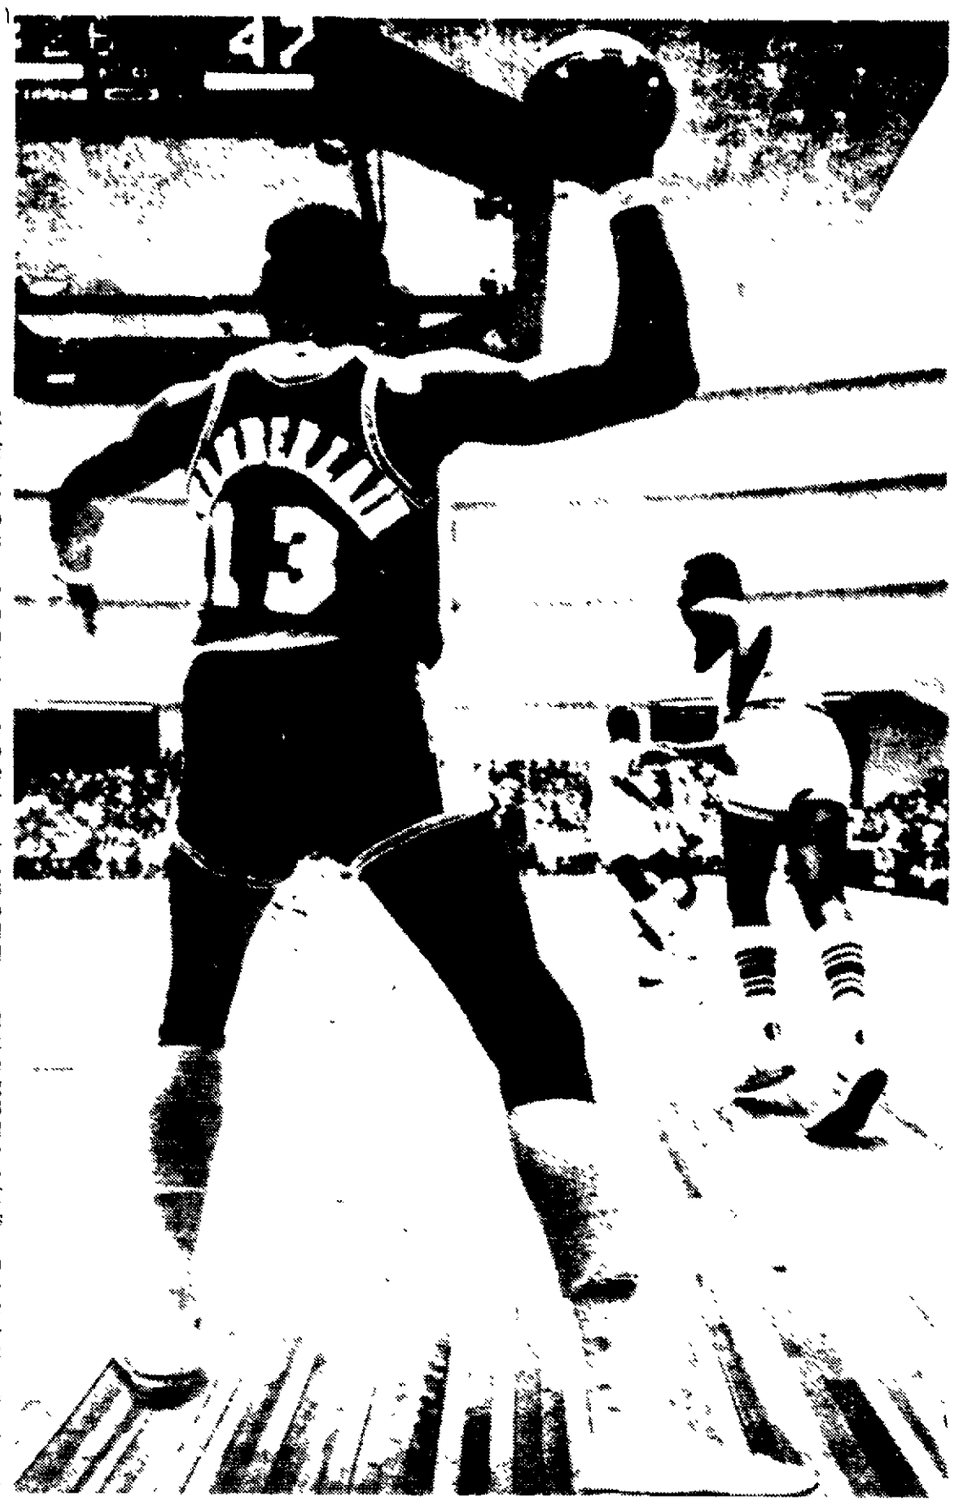

Buffalo again fell back in overtime 107-105, but Walt Hazzard's jump shot tied the score and Bill Hosket's rebound basket gave the Braves the lead for good

Hazzard led all scorers with 35 points, 27 after intermission. John Johnson had 22 points for Cleveland.

Los Angeles, making its debut under Coach Bill Sharman who piloted the Utah Stars to the American Basketball Association title last season, overwhelmed Detroit with a balanced offense, paced by Wilt Chamberlain's 26 points and Jim McMillian's 25

Bob Lanier topped Detroit with 25 points, but scored only

Tingelhoff Out of Action; Hampton May be Sidelined

Minnesota Injury List Growing

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Coach Bud Grant probably is wondering if football injuries are contagious, especially to offensive lineman.

The Minnesota Vikings have lost another regular, center Mick Tingelhoff, for Sunday's National Football League game at Green Bay.

"This is the worst shape we've been in since I came here," Grant said Friday after announcing that Tingelhoff will miss the Packer game with a pulled muscle in his right leg.

Godfrey Zaunbrecker, in his second year of taxi squad duty, will start at center. The Vikings have not yet announced who will be moved to the taxi squad to make room for the 6-foot-2, 235-pound rookie from Louisiana State.

The Vikings already have lost guard Jim Vellone, because of Hodgkin's disease, and tight end John Beasley, knee surgery, for the season. Grady Alderman, a tackle, will not start for the second straight week because of a shoulder injury.

Guard Milt Sunde will play despite a knee injury suffered last week in a 13-0 victory over Philadelphia. John Henderson, wide receiver, will be left at home with a bruised shoulder.

Middle linebacker Lonnie Warwick played only in the season opener against Detroit and then underwent knee surgery.

Zaunbrecher will be the third inexperienced man in the starting lineup this season. Carl Gersbach is manning the middle linebacker spot and Stu Voigt, a second-year man from Wisconsin who saw little action in 1970, has started at tight end since Beasley was lost in the final preseason game.

Grant had a few other surprise changes in his starting lineup for the Packers.

Bill Brown will take over the fullback slot with Dave Osborn moving over to Clint Jones' starting spot.

Al Denson will make his first start at wide receiver for Henderson since acquired in an off-season trade with Denver. Grant said it was possible Gene Washington, bothered all season with a sore ankle, may play. Washington caught his first pass of the season last week.

Gary Cuozzo, who started the first two games of the season, will replace Norm Snead at quarterback.

Winkler and Pitts to be Activated

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, who have been scoring over 30 points per game this season, win or lose, meet the Minnesota Vikings, who haven't allowed a point in their last two National Football League games, Sunday afternoon.

The resultant collision could rock the non-artificial turf at Lambreau Field—but then again, it may just be the opportunity of the year for the Viking offense.

For while the Packers, 2-2, have been scoring and running up total yardage figures averaging over 300 yards per game, their defense has been anything but a fortress.

The Green Bay secondary was riddled for over 300 yards passing by Detroit's Greg Landry last Sunday, and has given up 842 yards in the four league games.

Replaces Snead

Viking Coach Bud Grant decided Friday to switch quarterbacks and the starter will be Gary Gary Cuozzo, in place of veteran Norm Snead.

Cuozzo has completed 30 of 58 passes for 394 yards and three touchdowns, and his favorite receivers have been running back Dave Osborn, with 16 receptions, and end Bob Grim, with 15

Dave Hampton was reported doubtful for the Packers after hobbling around on a severe charlie horse all week. Devine said he would activate Elijah Pitts from the taxi squad for insurance at running back.

Devine also plans to activate Randy Winkler to take the place of injured guard Dave Bradley, out with a torn calf muscle.

The Packers, a team Devine says is "getting better every week," will try and break through the rugged defensive lineup of the Vikings with a running attack only slightly slowed by the Detroit defense a week ago.

Donny Anderson, John Brockington and the doubtful Hampton lead Green Bay rushers, but the Vikings have been allowing only about 86 yards per game on the ground.

Each Threatens Once in Scoreless Tilt

Manawa, Bonduel Deadlock

MANAWA — Bonduel managed to stop the powerful offense of Manawa but failed to put together any of its own as a tough defensive battle ended in a 0-0 tie here Friday night.

The tie keeps runnerup Manawa in contention for the Central Wisconsin Conference title as their record goes to 6-0-1 overall and 3-0-1 in the league Bonduel dropped to 2-1-1 in the CWC, and 4-1-1 in all games

Each team had one sustained drive in the fourth quarter. Manawa drove to Bonduel's 10-yard line but a 25 yard field goal attempt was wide to the left

On the ensuing series, Bonduel headed down the field all the way to the Manawa 8, but the Wolves defense tightened up and shoved the bears back to its 15 The field goal try was faked, and quarterback Bob Schmidt rolled to his left only to fire an incomplete pass

The game's premier runner was Bonduel's Mike Boettcher, who carried 12 times for 74 yards

The game was just as close as the statistics indicate Manawa led in first downs, 13-11, and total yards, 191-158, while Bonduel dominated the passing game Schmidt connected on four of 11 for 41 yards, whereas Manawa's Tim Drath was 3-13 for only 15 yards.

Sullivan Leads Rushers

Miami Hurricanes Defeat Navy, 31-6

MIAMI (AP) — Navy's football Middies may have another Roosevelt, Perry or Dewey within their ranks

Perhaps even a second John Paul Jones

But the well-bruised Midshipmen are short on guys with names like Namath, Plunkett and O. J

Miami's Hurricanes thumped Navy 31-6 Friday night, drowning the 1971 Middies for the fifth time in six games and extending Coach Rick Forzano's four-season miseries to 4-23

"I think we shocked Miami with our fight," said a still-proud Forzano "They didn't know men at the U. S Naval Academy had so much spirit."

The Hurricanes, 3-2, swirled to an early 24-0 cushion and began fighting the football war with subs The reserves — including onetime star quarterback Kelly Cochrane — played like, well, like reserves

I wanted to use a lot of people," said Miami Coach Fran Curci "The errors started coming, but we got through it okay"

Three Pilfers

Cochrane, who lost his job to John Hornibrook, hit 2-of-7 passes and was intercepted three times

Tom Sullivan blazed 48 yards for a touchdown after only 1:59 of action and wound up the night with a career high of 129 yards in 11 carries

The Jacksonville Beach, Fla., senior hiked his season's total to 462 yards, just ahead of shifty running mate Chuck Foreman, who gained 75 against the Middies for an aggregate of 454.

"There's no question that Sullivan-Foreman is one of the best running combinations in college football," said Curi "Either one can bust a home run anytime It's nice to have them around"

Breaks Loose

The two scatbacks scored once apiece, backup speedster Sylvio Cardoso busted loose on a 30-yard TD romp and Mike Burke hit a 47-yard field goal to pile up the 24-0 edge

Navy looked capable of taking a licking of the 60-0 neighborhood when the sophomore passing combination of Fred Stuvek to Larry Van Loan began to rip through the Miami defense

A Stuvek-Van Loan bomb for 56 yards set up the Middies' first touchdown a one-yard plunge by Dan Howard, and the passing combo connected from three yards out for the other score

Johnson Brothers Pace Chiefs to Third CWC Win

SHIOCTON — The Shiocton Chiefs, led by the running and receiving of the Johnson brothers, Jeff and Mark, scalped visiting Wautoma, 14-0, here Friday night in the Central Wisconsin Conference Shiocton is 3-2 this season, while Wautoma is 1-4.

Jeff Johnson led rushers with 55 yards on 21 carries, while Mark Johnson caught four passes for 78 yards, including a 33-yard touchdown reception

The first score of the game was in the first quarter, as Shiocton's Neil Conradt galloped 51 yards Mike Bricco passed to Mark Johnson for the extra points

The score remained 8-0 until the final period when Bricco again hit Mark Johnson from 33 yards out for the TD The PAT kick was unsuccessful

Outside of the two touchdowns, the game was played for the most part between the 30s Wautoma only managed 76 total yards to 214 for Shiocton The Hornets rushed for 64 yards and completed four of 11 for 12 yards in the air.

The chiefs piled up 128 yards on the ground, and Bricco completed six of 10 for 86 yards passing

Omro Turns Back Battling Bulldogs

BY JOHN LEE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — The New London Bulldogs rose to the occasion, giving the undefeated Omro Foxes a stern battle here Friday night, but missed early scoring opportunities and lost, 14-6, to the East Central Conference leaders.

Bulldog coach Jack Wohlt said "I hate to see the boys lose when we play football like that."

Omro coach Ted Thompson said that New London played better than he had expected and especially praised sophomore quarterback Jim Snyder. He said the young field general was "cool" with the Omro pressure, and added that Snyder" is going to be a good football player someday if he stays with it."

Snyder passed 16 times and connected on 8, the last one an 18-yard scoring toss to Robbie Slosarek

That aerial came with 10:07 left in the game and the Bulldogs down, 8-0. That Snyder pass capped an 84-yard drive.

The Bulldogs missed earlier scoring chances. They had the ball for over 8 minutes of the first quarter, after recovering the opening kickoff at midfield, but failed to score.

Early in the quarter, Omro picked off a New London pass, but on the next play, Mark Egland picked it back for the Bulldogs.

Omro ran just eight offensive plays in the first quarter.

In the second period, a Bulldog punt left the Foxes on their own five, but with 2:02 left in the half, Foxes quarterback Jeff Schuster, running like a fullback, capped a 95-yard drive when he rambled 22 yards for an Omro score. Mike Bohn ran for two more points.

That ended scoring until the fourth quarter, when Snyder hit Slosarek for the TD.

Recover Kick

The Bulldogs came right back, recovering from an onside kick. But then, when Snyder dropped back to pass from the Omro 43 on the Bulldogs' first play, Bob Ehmke nailed him, picked up a fumble and raced 57 yards for the TD.

The New London squad, still without an ECC win, had one more chance. With 4:32 left in

Argue Over Ball Parks

Clemente, F. Robby Feud

BALTIMORE (AP) —A tasty little controversy was cooking in right field at Baltimore's grassy Memorial Stadium today as the Orioles and Pittsburgh Pirates met in the sixth game of the 1971 World Series

The chefs were Roberto Clemente of the Pirates and Frank Robinson of the Orioles—coincidentally, the leading hitters for their respective clubs in this flip-flop series which saw Baltimore win the first two games at home only to have Pittsburgh take three straight on the Tartan surface of Three Rivers Stadium

Clemente, whose nine hits are four short of the series record, started it when he blasted the Baltimore ballpark

"The conditions of this park are not up to major league standards," said Clemente.

There Are Ditches

"It's hard to pick up the ball in the outfield because of the background There are ditches out there in right field"

Clemente said the conditions of the field affected the way he played.

"You can't execute the way you're supposed to," the veteran Pittsburgh star said "I like to play shallow, but in Baltimore, there's no way you can play shallow If you do, you misjudge the ball"

Clemente claimed the Memorial Stadium outfield is bumpy in many spots

"You run here, it is high," and then you take two steps and it is low," he said as he indicated the fluctuations of the surface with a wave of his hand

Clemente said he talked to the 'Pittsburgh players following the two defeats at the start of the series in Baltimore.

"I said to them, 'fellas, we're going to a major league park now. We'll show them that we're not as bad as people think we are."

Clemente's blast got a rise out of Robinson, who had seven hits for the Orioles going into today's game.

"He's supposed to be such a great outfielder," said Robinson, "he should be able to adjust to any park"

Clemente, in his 17th season with the Pirates, spent the first 15½ years playing in ancient Forbes Field and Robinson had something to say about conditions there.

Ziegler Keys Polar Bears Past Berlin

Two Long TD Runs Aid Hortonville To 21-8 Victory

HORTONVILLE — John Ziegler galloped for touchdowns of 46 and 67 yards to aid Hortonville to a 21-8 victory over Berlin in East Central Conference action here Friday night.

Both teams now have identical 3-3 loop records.

After a scoreless first quarter, Ziegler gave the Polar Bears a 6-0 advantage with his 46-yard jaunt around right end. John Kruel added the PAT boot.

In the third segment, Berlin got on the board when Jim Hackney sprinted around right end en route to a 42-yard TD. Paul Krause's 2-point conversion run gave the losers an 8-7 lead with 8:11 left.

Less than two minutes later Hortonville went ahead to stay as Dean Pingel intercepted a Mike Bartol aerial and ran for a 17-yard touchdown. Ziegler's 2-point run made it 15-8.

The Pistons played without all-pro guard Dave Bing, who underwent surgery earlier Friday for a detached retina in his right eye.

The Warriors built a 43-37 halftime advantage against Boston, then pulled away by scoring the first 13 points in the second half. Boston missed its first 13 shots from the floor after intermission and went scoreless for the first 4:35 of the second half.

Jeff Mullins led the Warriors with 28 points, while Jo Jo White was high for the Celtics with 22. Boston's John Havlicek, the league's second highest scorer last season, managed only six points against Golden State.

Bob Love, game high scorer with 31 points, triggered an early Chicago outburst, collecting nine straight points in the first quarter, in the Bulls' romp over Baltimore. Chicago's defense held Baltimore's Earl Monroe to 10 points. Jack Marin led the Bullets with 20 points.

Haywood Hits

Spencer Haywood and Lenny Wilkens each scored 23 points for the Sonics as the Blazers suffered from erratic shooting. Seattle outscored Portland 69-40 in the second half. Sidney Wicks hit only five of 27 shots from the floor and had an unimpressive 13-point performance.

Giants' Coffey Out for Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Running back Junior Coffey has been placed on the injured reserve list and will miss the rest of the National Football League season, the New York Giants said Friday.

A Giants spokesman said Coffey has been suffering from a series of hamstring muscle pulls which have not responded to treatment. Defensive back Scott Eaton, currently on the taxi squad, probably will take Coffey's place on the roster, the Giants said.

Appleton East Girls Achieve Successful Net Campaign

Appleton East's girls tennis team recently concluded a successful campaign by finishing fifth in the state meet.

Led by Karen Crosby's runnerup finish in the singles competition, the Patriot girls compiled 10 points to tie Janesville Craig for fifth place. The only schools earning more points were Whitefish Bay (21), Nicolet (15), Wauwatosa West (15) and Oconomowoc (12).

Miss Crosby, an East transfer student, lost in the finals, 6-1, 7-6, to Wauwatosa Wests' Debbie Arps. Miss Crosby had won three matches — including a 6-3, 7-6 semi-finals win over Nicolet's Cindy Berger — to enter the finals.

Robin Rohloff, East's other singles player, won one match before losing to Betsy Blaney, the No. 1 seed.

The AHS-E doubles team, of Barb Sorcic and Sue Downey, lost in the first round to a Nicolet duo.

In the previous week's sectional meet, Miss Crosby won the title, Miss Rohloff finished fourth and the doubles team was third.

Hickey Keys 27-0 Win

Panthers Whip Clints

OCONTO FALLS — The combination of Pat Hickey and Erv Tomalak in a powerful rushing attack proved to be too much for Clintonville to handle as Oconto Falls raced to a 27-0 win in Bay Conference action here Friday night.

Hickey, scoring a pair of touchdowns, and Tomalak, one, combined rushing efforts to stack up a total of 321 yards out of the total 361 team rushing yards.

Hickey's first TD and the first score of the game came on a 20-yard run in to the end zone. The conversion attempt was incomplete.

Tomalak came up with his first touchdown with :45 remaining in the second quarter, on a 6-yard dash over the goal line. The PAT was again unsuccessful.

In the third quarter, Tom Reim scored from three yards out to put Oconto Falls ahead 18-0. On the PAT attempt Reim passed to Dave Young for two more.

The final tally came in the fourth quarter on a 16-yard run by Hickey. Dick Jahnke booted the extra point to end the game at 27-0.

Oconto Falls completely dominated the test with a total of 21 first downs to the Trucks' seven. The winners totaled 376 yards, while holding the losers to 92, 50 of them on passing and 42 on rushing.

Oconto Falls boosted its record to 4-3, while Clintonville dropped to 1-6.

Houston Beats Villanova '11'

Gain 632 Yards Total Offense In 42-9 Triumph

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Cougars didn't have to worry about making the third down play Friday night against Villanova — they did it all on first down.

The Cougars oiled their famed ground gobbling offense with 632 yards total offense in burying the Wildcats 42-9 in a tuneup for next week's battle against unbeaten Alabama—and the big plays were on first down.

Robert Newhouse set the tempo. He ran 75 yards on the first offensive play of the game to get the rout in motion.

Later in Houston's 28-point first quarter, quarterback Gary Mullins ran 13 yards on first down for a touchdown and second string quarterback D. C. Nobles threw an 87-yard touchdown pass to Willie Roberts on first down.

Tough First Quarter

The nightmarish first quarter wilted the Wildcats, now 2-4, although they recovered enough for a four-yard touchdown pass from Drew Gordon to split end Mike Siani with 51 seconds remaining in the half. The Cats added two points on a safety in the fourth quarter.

Nobles' touchdown pass was the first completion of his college career.

Says Falcons Will Tip LA

AP Writer Picks Vikings Over Bays

NEW YORK (AP) — Talking about the sweet smell of success. The 1971 National Football League season has been a bed of roses for the Washington Redskins while the Buffalo Bills have been playing in a rock garden.

This weekend the Redskins will smell victory for the fifth time in as many games while the Bills will catch the scent for the first time this season.

Thats how it looks from here, where the speciality is raising winning picks with a thumb whose green matches either grass or artificial turf.

Last week, we had a 9-4 record for a two-week mark of 16-9-1.

Washington 27, St. Louis 24—Washington's Curt Knight and Jim Baaken should get their kicks, but the Redskins' consistency gives them an edge over the Cardinals who run hot and cold.

Buffalo 31, New York Jets 21—The winless Bills have been shut out twice in a row and are hungry for a score. The points should come more easily against a New York defense missing end John Elliott and tackle Gerry Philbin.

Baltimore 27, New York Giants 17—The Giants have been taking advantage of opponents mistakes but making plenty of their own. Baltimore doesn't make many mistakes.

Detroit 17, Houston 7—Shapes up as a good defensive game. Houston scared Kansas City and Washington and might scare the Lions, but the Oilers won't beat them.

Minnesota 24, Green Bay 14—Green Bay can run, but the Vikings have the best defense against the rush and they also like to do things to rookies, which is what Packers quarterback Scott Hunter is.

Cleveland 17, Cincinnati 10—Paul Brown will have Cincinnati sky high against the team he used to run, but the Browns figure to have too much savvy for the Bengals and rookie quarterback Ken Anderson.

Oakland 38, Philadelphia 3—The same old story. The Eagles opponent is solid, the Eagles aren't.

San Francisco 28, Chicago 16—Kent Nix has done wonders at quarterback for Chicago, but San Francisco's John Brodie is better and angry after losing to Los Angeles.

Denver 20, San Diego 17—Denver is tough at home and better than 0-3-1. San Diego is coming off a game, which it lost, with Kansas City, always a tough physical experience.

Atlanta 24, Los Angeles 21—Injuries, of which both clubs have several, records etc. aside, Norm Van Brocklin has a way of getting Atlanta up for teams he used to play with.

Dallas 35, New Orleans 17—Calvin Hill is out for two weeks with a knee injury, but the way Duane Thomas ran against the Giants Hill shouldn't be missed.

Miami 42, New England 14—Rookie quarterback Jim Plunkett has done wonders for New England, but this time the wonders cease

Kansas City 23, Pittsburgh 17—Pittsburgh is improving, but Kansas City is rolling and that's even better.

Then Robinson went to work on the Tartan field at Pittsburgh.

"I don't like the artificial surfaces," he said. "I like natural playing fields. It's a different kind of game at Pittsburgh. You have to be wary when a ball is hit to you.

"It's tough in Baltimore," Robinson continued, "but I don't go around crying about it I just do the best I can. Tell Clemente to sit it out if he doesn't like it. I'll get him a seat in the stands. Tell him to watch the way I play it."

Robinson was sure to be playing right field today as the Orioles battled for their lives against the Pirates, who were trying to become the first team in series history to win four straight games after dropping the first two.

"I'm going to the track today," Weaver said as the Orioles worked out lightly Friday "And I'm going to try and pick some winners."

Snead Leads PGA Club Pro Classic

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Veteran Jerry Barber, who has been on the golf scene a long time, says Sam Snead is hitting the ball better than he has in a decade.

"The way he is playing, he could win the Masters," Barber said after Snead fired a five under par 65 Friday for a 36-hole 132 to take a three-stroke lead in the national PGA Club Pro championship.

Snead had four birdies, an eagle and one bogey in his 32-33 round to go with an opening 67, also five under par.

In second place with 135 at the start of today's third round were Babe Lichardus of Westfield, N.J., and Jimmy Powell of Yorba Linda, Calif.

Five strokes off the pace at 137 were Bobby Benson of Easton, Conn., and John Frillman of Omaha, Neb.

Barber, who played in the foursome with Snead the first two rounds, said, "He is playing superb golf. He is beginning to putt with confidence."

Barber said that for the last three months, Snead has been using a new type putter designed by Barber.

"Sam is one of the real great natural golf athletes of all time," said Barber. "I figure he has five to eight good years left if he doesn't lose interest in the game."

Defeats Soutar in 28th Game

Davis Leads PBA Test

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Dave Davis of Miami maintained his lead over 23 other bowlers Friday night and preserved his bid to win the $85,000 Professional Bowlers Association National Championship for the third time.

The 29-year-old left-hander captured the crown in 1965 and 1967 and, if he wins today's nationally televised finals, will be the only bowler to garner the title a third time.

Davis grabbed the lead after the event's 38th game, defeating Dave Soutar of Gilroy, Calif., a former National Winner.

Soutar had edged Davis 202-173 in the 56th and final contest on the prelude to the windup, which will pay the winner $12,500, but dropped to third place behind Teata Semiz of River Edge, N.J. Semiz defeated Mike Limongello, fourth place, North Babylon, N.Y., 226-91.

The fifth and final berth in the finals went to Gus Lampo, Endicott, N.Y.

Davis took seven of his eight mark in man - against-man play set, each of which earned him a 30-pin bonus. His 24-game murk in man-againstman play was 19-5 and his average of the 56-game competition was 218.

In the finals, which will be aired on ABC-TV's Wide World of Sports starting at 1:30 p.m., CDT, Lampo will face Limongello, with the winner meeting Soutar. High roller of that match will be paired against Semiz and the title match is against Davis.

Uncertain of Vision Damage

Bing's Surgery Successful

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Doctors at University of Michigan Hospital said that surgery Friday to repair a deteached retina in National Basketbal Association All-Star Dave Bing's right eye apparently was a success.

But Dr. Morton S. Cox Jr. said it will be two or three days before it is known whether the repair will hold and perhaps several months until it can be determined whether Bing suffered permanent vision damage.

Fused Back

The standout Detroit Pistons guard suffered the injury in an Oct. 5 exhibition game, but the condition was not diagnosed until Thursday.

The retina—the light-sensitive part of the eye—was fused back in place in a 2½-hour operation by a team headed by Dr. Cox.

Dr. Cox said "everything went very well" during the surgery and "there were no complications."

He declined to speculate on Bing's future in basketball.

Seals Lose Debut Under New Coach

OAKLAND (AP)—The California Golden Seals caught fire for the first 12 minutes under new coach Vic Stasiuk Friday night but their 4-0 lead turned into a 9-6 defeat by Vancouver when the National Hockey League game ended.

A few hours earlier, the Seals fired Fred Glover—mentor for three losing seasons—and named former Philadelphia Flyer coach Stasiuk, 42, to the post.

After the way Vancouver broached California's weak defense, Stasiuk may have wished he was back at his farm in Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

Stasiuk, himself, fired at the close of last season in his second year at Philadelphia, told newsmen before the game:

"My wife thought she'd have me all to herself and when I got the Oakland job, she cried. I thought it would be a long winter and anticipated fencing and cattle feeding on my farm."

Should Win

After the game, Stasiuk said: "With six goals, you should win a hockey game. In the first 15 minutes I thought we'd blow them off the ice. But we forget the game is 60 minutes, not just 15. Fans got on the goalie (rookie Gary Kurt) but I couldn't blame him for all of it. This kid is in a tough spot. It's the hardest job in hockey."

The new coach said he would be "implementing" his own system in weeks to come.

Cards' Torre Picked as Top Player

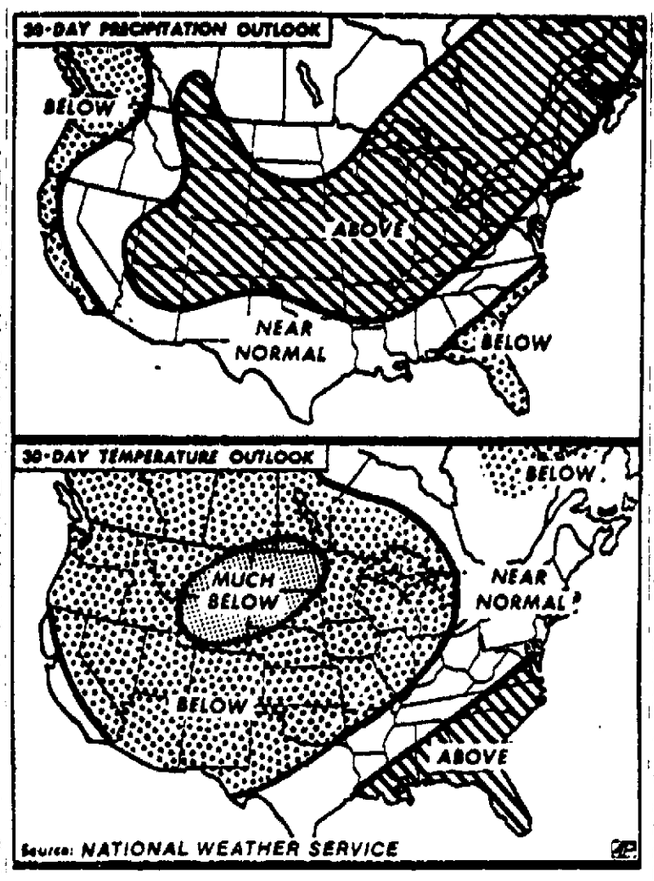

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal third baseman Joe Torre has been named player of the year by Sporting News.

Torre, 31, led the major leagues this season with a .363 batting average and 137 runs batted in. He hit 24 homers, eight triples and 34 doubles to boost his lifetime batting average from .297 to .305.

He is the first Cardinal to capture the League's batting crown since Stan Musial did it in 1948 with a .376 mark.

Bay Golfer Shoots Ninth Hole-in-One

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — It's getting to be old hat for Green Bay golfer Ran Antill. The hole - in - one he got Thursday at the Brown County golf course was the ninth of his career. He aced his tee shot with a six iron on the 180-yard seventh hole.

'New' St. Francis Center Sets Open House Sunday

An open house to explain and show the purpose of the "new" St. Francis Center has been set from 8 to 10 p.m. Sunday. It is located at 116 S. Walnut St.

This will give the people, especially those involved in religious education of one type or another, to get acquainted with research materials and the center itself.

The whole idea of the center, run by the Third Order of St. Francis, a lay fraternity of men and women dedicated to living according to the goals of St. Francis of Assisi, has been altered recently.

The library, which was the primary purpose of the old center, containing mostly religious writings, has been phased out.

"It was not used as much as it could have been and we felt it was inexpedient and a waste of our resources to buy books and materials available at public libraries," explained the Rev. Gilbert Hemauer, OFM Cap., the new director of the Third Order.

More in Line

"We felt it was more in line with our apostolate to provide a religious education service not duplicated by the public libraries," he added.

The Catholic grade schools in the area were then invited to look through the children's books and were allowed to take as a donation the materials they felt they could use.

Some adult books were donated to the Oneida Heights library, many were saved as reference materials for the center and about 7,000 volumes were donated to the American Association of University Women, for their annual book sale Oct. 20 and 21. Proceeds from the sale go for scholarships for needy students.

The new center has another important aspect. It will serve as an "educational" center for Catholic teachers and lay leaders.

The Appleton Catholic Education Council (ACEC), under the direction of Thomas Zanzig, has established office at the Center, in cooperation with the Appleton Catholic Area Board.

Volunteers

Teacher training sessions will be held here and the Third Order volunteers will staff the center during the rest of the week to allow people to use the materials left in the research library. It will be help open by three shifts of volunteers from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day except Sundays.

It also will be used for Third Order activities, such as films and meetings. The women involved in making vestments for foreign missions will work here and the "Crossed Arms," the fraternities publication, will be assembled and published here.

The Fraternity involves about 600 members in the Fox Valley and has a membership of about 1,300 in the region, which comprises Appleton, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Menasha, Mt. Calvary, Oshkosh and Shawano.

George Dubey, Appleton, is the fraternity chairman. Two of the fraternity members recently were elected to the Provincial Council, which consists of eight regions in the Midwest. Miss June Cech, and Miss Ruth Van Handel, both of the St. Joseph Fraternity, will serve three-year terms.

Appleton Man Gets 7 Years For Robbery

Roger Pankow Took Money From Two Men in September

A 30-year-old Appleton man was sentenced to seven years in the Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun Friday after pleading guilty of two counts of robbery.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer sentenced Roger Pankow, 318 W. Winnebago St., to concurrent terms of seven years on each of the robbery counts.

Pankow was charged with the Sept. 17 robbery of Leo Vanden Bloomer, 317 Grandview Ave., Menasha, and the Sept. 4 robbery of Anthony L. Murkowski, Appleton.

Pankow reportedly struck Vanden Bloomer on the head after Vanden Bloomer refused to lend him money. He and an accomplice reportedly waited for Vanden Bloomer outside a N. Appleton Street tavern and then robbed him of $160 and dumped him north of 12 Corners.

Murkowski reported that $180 was taken from him Sept. 4 in an alley along S. Superior Street. A witness later saw a man throw what later proved to be Murkowski's wallet into a sewer.

Pankow pleaded guilty to the two counts when he appeared in court Oct. 6.

Rev. Lester Ott Chairman of Kaukauna U.N. Observance

KAUKAUNA — The Rev. Lester Ott, pastor of United Methodist Church, has accepted an appointment by Mayor Gilbert Anderson as United Nations Week chairman for the community.

Special talks are planned in churches. A 7:30 p.m. program at Kaukauna High School is scheduled on Oct. 24 to mark the observance of United Nations Day.

The high school program will include special music, art work, pottery and other items from around the world of interest to children, youth and adults, according to the chairman. Mayor Anderson and other community leaders are also expected to participate in the program.

A part of the week's observance will be the UNICEF campaign when collections are taken to help children throughout the world through the U.N. program.

"This is not an exclusively, or even primarily religious program, but a program of appreciation of the efforts of individuals and nations as well as the U.N. itself for the many and varied contributions made to world justice and peace. In short we are asking everybody to help to develop a program of unity, celebration and appreciation, in which all ages, religions and people might share in suitably recognizing a very important organization in our modern day," said Ott.

Shepherd of Hills, Greenville, to be Dedicated Sunday

GREENVILLE — The new Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church will be dedicated at 2 p.m. Sunday. It is located southeast of the U.S. 45 and State 76 intersection at Greenville corners.

The $150,000 unit was begun last November.

The Rev. Dr. Lloyd H. Goetz, president of the North Wisconsin District of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, will be the speaker. His message is "Looking Up To The Shepherd of the Hills." The Rev. Philip Hanson, pastor, will be the liturgist.

The nave of the Church seats 344 people. Included in the lower half of the building is the pastor's office, altar care room, conference room, mothers' room and choir cove. The mechanical room, a storage room and the restrooms are in the northeast corner of the building.

At present only the the front half of the nave is used for worship services. The rear half is divided into sever classrooms for Sunday school. Future plans included a Christian education building to the north of the present building. The nave will then be used entirely for worship.

With two services on Sunday morning and a Monday evening worship service, the present arrangement adequately serves the 280 member congregation.

Members of the congregation have made considerable contributions of time and talent to the building program. The painintg was done entirely by volunteers.

Men of the parish, led by Don Schmidt, shingled the roof. Used pews were purchased, and under the direction of Walter Hoewisch, were completely refinished. Richard Peters is making the pulpit, altar, baptismal font, communion railing and chancel wall cross. Ralph Puuri and Eugene Atkinson constructed the cross and verticals on the south end of the building.

The software for all four liturgical seasons was made by Mrs. Ralph Poepke. The landscaping will be done by the members. Many more of the members have offered many hours of work to complete the house of worship.

An opportunity for visitors and guests to tour the building will be provided after the worship service during the fellowship hour. Light refreshments will be served.

Bethany Church To Have Chili Day

KAUKAUNA — The Ladies Guild of Bethany Lutheran Church has organized a chili day, Thursday. Serving time is from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m.

Items on the menu in addition to chili will be hot beef, hot dogs, beverages, homemade pies and cakes and ice cream. Chili will also be sold but patrons are asked to bring their own containers.

Other stands will include a country store featuring a variety of homemade items, a Christmas card and cookbook booth and a fish pond for children. Proceeds from the affair will be used for various projects.

Tickets are being sold by seventh and eighth grade pupils. Earlier this month a problem arose with unknown youngsters selling counterfeit tickets to a chili supper. These tickets are printed professionally.

Underground Evangelism Film Slated

"To Russia With Love," an Underground Evangelism production, will be shown at 7 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Benjamin Moore,

Moore

pastor of St. John United Church of Christ, Wisconsin Rapids, will represent the organization formed to reach behind the Iron Curtain countries with Christian literature.

The 35-minute film portrays the life of Christians in communist lands today.

A professional photographer, with minimum equipment was sent into Russia as a common tourist. The result was the behind-the-scenes shots of the problems and life of the Christians.

Shown also is Underground Evangelism's Bible press in Western Europe, where thousands of pocket-size "smuggling" Bibles and other literature is printed for distribution behind the Iron Curtain.

An actual border crossing is shown to demonstrate the Bible-smuggling ministry.

Moore served for 22 years in the armed services, and was stationed in both Korea and Vietnam. After service, he went to Taiwan as a missionary and began five Chinese churches and a Christian servicemen's center, raising all the needed funds himself. It was while in Taiwan that he realized the religious needs behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

Celibacy Stays Official Synod Report States

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A majority of delegates who have spoken at the third World Bishops' Synod opposed ordaining married men to the Roman Catholic priesthood, an official synod report said today.

The report, prepared by Vicente Cardinal Enriquey Tarancon of Spain, did not give any figures but said "a majority" feared the establishment of a first class and second class priesthood if married men were ordained.

The cardinal's report, midway through the month-long synod, also confirmed that only a handful of speakers suggested the readmission to the ministry of priests who had defected to marry. A similarly small group favored a role for women in the Catholic ministry, the report said.

The document was a summing-up of discussion on practical aspects of the priesthood, the synod's first topic. The 209-member body will continue to debate the priesthood until the middle of next week, when it will turn to the second theme, social justice.

All Have Spoken

Almost all synod delegates have spoken in the closed session, with the Vatican and briefing officers giving only excerpts of what has been said.

Eventually, the synod will vote on resolutions on what to change and what to keep of present priestly regulations, including celibacy.

"The majority holds," the Spanish cardinal said, "that ordaining married men would not only fail to be a solution of fundamental problems but would, rather, bring about other and more serious problems in the church."

He spoke of "a lessened mobility of priests living in marriage .... and lessened capacity for missionary work."

"There then would arise a dual ministry of first and second class priests and that would bring with it very serious consequences that would affect today's priests, seminaries and future vocations."

Split Issue

The minority that favored ordination of married men was split into two groups, the cardinal reported. He said the smaller group felt that married priests would make a new and positive contribution to the church, "showing today's world truly new values."

Pope Paul has said that he would reluctantly consider allowing mature married men to become priests in some priest-short countries. The report showed that a majority in the synod is now counseling him against this.

The report upheld Pope

to help a predominantly celibate priesthood.

The report upheld Pope Paul's view that priests in the Latin, or Western, rite of Catholicism cannot marry.

Pope Paul, however, has said that he would reluctantly consider allowing mature married men to become priests in some priest-short countries. The report showed that a majority in the synod is now counseling him against this.

Assembly of God, Kaukauna, Sets Missionary Convention

KAUKAUNA — A local missionary convention, featuring three speakers, will be held Sunday through Tuesday at the Assembly of God here. The Rev. Walter Tyson is pastor.

Olson

Dwelle

The 10:30 a.m. service Sunday will feature the Rev. and Mrs. Arland Dwelle, newly-appointed home missionaries who recently moved to the Kiel-New Holstein area to organize a church there.

Miss Ruby Peterson, who has spent two terms on the missions of Nigeria, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Her first term was spent in analyzing and reducing the Bette language to writing. During her second term she began a literacy program for the Bette people and translated the books of Mark and the Acts as well as the Sunday school lessons for pastors and teachers.

Miss Peterson

The Rev. Lawrence Olson, a missionary from Brazil, will conclude the convention at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Dwelles are both graduates of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., and for two years participated in pioneering new churchs in Illinois. For the past three years Dwelle has been studying at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Ill.

Miss Peterson was graduated from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo., and attended the Institute of Linguistics at the University of Oklahoma, before going into the mission fields.

Olson has spent 33 years in Brazil. He instituted an Assemblies of God radio broadcast in 1947, a ministry which he still continues over a number of Brazilian stations. The Rio Bible Institute, which trains Christian workers for pastoral, evangelistic and teaching duties, also was founded by him.

He is a graduate of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., and attended Northern Baptist Seminary in Chicago. A native of Wisconsin, he pastored churches in Portage and Appleton and helped set up the Assembly of God here.

2 Episcopalian Dioceses Plan Merger Talks

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Episcopalians are discussing the possibility of reuniting their two Wisconsin dioceses into one large division.

Under the plan which will be considered by church bodies in the next few weeks, the Milwaukee diocese and the Eau Claire diocese—split from Milwaukee in 1928—would merge to form the Diocese of Wisconsin.

The Milwaukee Diocesan Council will take up the proposal Oct. 22-23 in Madison and the Eau Claire Diocesan Council will take it up next month.

The merger would have to be approved by both dioceses and by Bishops Donald Hallock of Milwaukee and Stanley Atkins of Eau Claire, plus a majority of Episcopal bishops throughout the nation.

The Milwaukee diocese has baptized membership of 25,168 men, women and children, while there are only 4,000 members in the Eau Claire diocese.

Hearing Set On Extending Daylight Time

Another Proposal Would Prohibit Any 'Logrolling'

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A hearing to threw some light on a bill which would put daylight saving time into effect year around is scheduled at the Capitol next week.

The Friday hearing comes two weeks before Wisconsin is scheduled to set clocks back and endure another abrupt fall of early dusks—but brighter mornings. The proposal is sponsored by Sen. Mark Lipscomb, D-Milwaukee.

Another proposal, authored by eight GOP senators, is aimed at preventing a governor from throwing his weight around unduly in the legislative wings of the Capitol.

The measure would prohibit the chief executive or his agent from promising to influence, sign or veto any legislation in return for a favor on other legislation.

Bills up for hearings include:

Friday

State Government and Veterans Affairs, 3195, 9:30 a.m.: SJR7 making Daylight Saving Time effective the entire year; SJR8 providing that any candidate filing a disclaimer for Wisconsin's presidential preference primary cannot have his name appear on top of the ballot the following November; SB21 limiting campaign giveaways to 50 cents in value.

Senate Judiciary, 362 south, 10 a.m.: SJR6 prohibiting "logrolling" by the governor; SJR9 to repeal the requirement for sequestered juries in trials where life imprisonment could be imposed; AB, making insurance companies subject to personal property taxes; AB91, creating job of credit union commissioner.

Assembly Bill on Abortions Could Close Madison Clinic

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A measure which would prohibit the performance of abortions outside accredited hospitals and bar suits against physicians or hospitals refusing to perform them, will confront the Assembly when its members return to work Tuesday.

The lower house voted 57-36 Friday against deleting a requirement that abortions be performed only in hospitals unless there is "an emergency."

The West Side Medical Center in Madison directed by Dr. Alfred Kennan, where abortions are being performed pending a test of the state abortion statute's constitutionality, could be closed by the bill.

Opponents of the proposal claim politicians do not have the medical qualifications to determine which procedures are safe.

Rep. Marjorie Miller told her colleagues the Medical Society of Wisconsin has approved the performing of abortions early in pregnancy. She called the measure "an effort to force our moral judgments on the medical profession and the women who want an abortion."

Rep. Michael Ferral, D-Racine, noted the state doesn't apply restrictions on "where doctors may or may not perform brain surgery or open heart surgery."

The state's malpractice statute already prohibits doctors from performing operations contrary to accepted medical procedure, he continued.

Foes of the proposal poohpoohed supporters' contentions that their concern was patients' welfare.

"The main thrust of this legislation should be to prevent quacks from performing abortions," said Rep. Paul Sicula, D-Milwaukee. "I would be the last person to stand up here and tell you I have the necessary background to judge when an abortion is safe and when it isn't."

"Let's be honest—this is an anti-abortion bill," said Rep. Lloyd Barbee, D-Milwaukee. The majority of the people supporting this bill are against abortions of any kind."

Another argument used by lawmakers who questioned the wisdom of such legislation was that the role of hospitals is changing.

Hospitalization, they said, is being required in fewer and fewer cases, while well-equipped clinics are assuming a greater role in delivering health care.

The last argument in the one-sided debate was that rural areas would be discriminated against under the proposed law. Many rural residents would be denied access to abortions, lawmakers argued, because they would be far from a hospital willing to perform abortions.

In other action, the Assembly quickly concurred in a Senate-approved measure which would give all counties authority to set up solid waste disposal operations—now permitted only to Milwaukee County.

The bill sent to Gov. Patrick Lucey gives counties the authority to acquire land and set up solid waste disposal districts. Communities could contract with the districts for a fee, but those within the district with their own disposal operations would not be required to participate.

The lower house also concurred in a Senate resolution extending the legislature's current work period to Oct. 28 before recessing until next year.

Neenah Committee Ponders

No Assessment Policy Yet

NEENAH — The street and sanitation committee, still not firmly set on a new street assessment policy, has decided to disregard a city attorney's opinion and establish special assessments based on development intent and ownership.

The new policy proposed by the committee would assess 100 per cent of the street costs to a developer planning to sell off lots, while if the property is owned by an individual who plans to live on it, the assessment would only be 20 per cent of cost.

City Atty. Duane Philis, in a written opinion, said the variable assessment would not be proper, especially if the two properties were abutting.

Speculation

However, the committee decided that property being held for speculation purposes, such as that owned by a subdivider, would be assessed 100 per cent of the cost of street improvements.

The new assessment policy would assess an individual property owner only 20 per cent, with the other side of the street picking up 20 per cent. The city would pay the remaining 60 per cent.

Under provisions of the proposed policy all property zoned other than R-1 (single family) and R-2 (two family) will be assessed 100 per cent of the costs.

One-Third

The present policy divides the costs on a one third basis with each side and the city picking up equal shares.

One of the reasons the city has been seeking a new policy is due to the strong objections of all property owners when faced with special assessments for street improvements.

The committee also decided to pattern a policy on one already in effect in Sheboygan. It includes assessing public property at 100 per cent, which has been the procedure in Neenah for several years, according to Wayne Bryan, public works director.

However, before the committee decides to recommend a new policy to the council, it wants the ordinance brought back for another review.

Menasha Storm Sewer

Clear Water Solution

MENASHA — Storm drains and other clear water contributors between the Fox River channel and St. Patrick's Church won't be adding an extra load to the Neenah-Menasha sewage treatment plant once the construction of a new storm sewer along Washington Street is completed.

The work, started recently by Charles O. Green, Inc. of Appleton, is costing the city $28,000. The end product will be a new storm sewer running along Washington Street into the channel just east of the American Can Company's Washington Street plant.

The contract deadline for the project is Oct. 31. The contractor got a late start, however.

All storm water in the area formerly had been connected directly to the sanitary sewer system, which meant that the clear water from storm drains and similar sources had gone directly to the sewage treatment plant, adding to the overloading during storms.

The problem, part of the overall problem with clear water infiltration into the sanitary system in the Twin Cities, should end with the new construction.

Menasha Is Installing a new storm sewer east of Washington Street as a step in the clear water separation program. The old line serves the area between the river south to Nicolet Boulevard. The $28,000 project is scheduled for completion this year. The old storm line was connected directly to the sanitary sewer. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Shotgun Blast Hospitalizes Neenah Man

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County police answered a call at 1520 Cold Spring Road, Town of Menasha, about 2 a.m. today to find Jules E. Klapps, 29, with a shotgun wound in the shoulder.

He was taken to Theda Clark Hospital by Neenah ambulance, and was reported in serious condition there later in the morning.

Police were called by Dennis Meyer, 1586 Cold Spring Road, who reported the incident was an apparent accident. Officers found the shotgun outside the front door of the house and said that Klapps was reportedly planning to shoot pigeons for breakfast.

In good condition at Mercy Medical Center this morning was Barbara Ruedinger, 29, route 2, Winneconne, injured in another shooting incident. Police said her husband, Carl Reudinger, dropped a hand gun which discharged.

Cities to Help Draft Tax Plan

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP) — Mayors of Wisconsin's big cities plan to send their finance directors to Madison Monday to draft a compromise tax redistribution proposal with the help of the state Revenue Department.

The mayors decided upon the move Friday at a Wisconsin Alliance of Cities meeting after reconsidering at the request of Gov. Patrick Lucey a resolution opposing the latest Assembly-passed shared tax plan.

Alliance members had voted 14-0 against the proposal adopted Thursday in the lower house, which they charged would take away large sums of money from 11 of the big cities.

Reconsider Action

They reconsidered their action after William Beyer, executive secretary of the alliance, told them he had received a call from Lucey—who felt tax reform was finally at the point of passage and the mayors' action would jeopardize the bill.

After James Rusch, finance director at Eau Claire, told the Alliance that city officials felt they should have been allowed to help with the drafting of tax reform bills, the mayors decided to rescind their resolution if Lucey set up the meeting with the Revenue Department.

Beyer then checked back with the governor and informed them Lucey had agreed to their demand.

The representative from Milwaukee, William Carey of the city's Bureau of Fiscal Liaison, abstained from the original vote.

"We agree with you that we're for something better now," he said. "But at this juncture we can't afford to turn down anything."

Lower Payments

A compromise plan lowering per capita payment, in the shared tax formula from $35 to possibly $25 is favored by the mayors, who feel the current proposal doesn't give enough consideration of actual need.

Beyer said none of the redistribution measures introduced during the current session of the legislature had been acceptable to the alliance because of the higher per capita payments proposed in them.

"It looks like it's finally going to happen, but why do they have to clobber us in the process?" he asked.

Racine Mayor Kenneth Huck said it would be "an irresponsible act" for the legislature to pass the Assembly version of shared tax redistribution.

"This is not a compromise," he said. "Stealing from villages and towns to give to the cities is not the answer."

Fond du Lac City Manager Myron Medin said, however, "Gov. Lucey has been too willing to compromise just so he can have some sort of tax redistribution to brag about."

State Director to Speak at Twin City Credit Union Dinner

NEENAH-MENASHA — John P. Hill, managing director of the Wisconsin Credit Union League, will be the featured speaker Oct. 18 when the credit union chapter here observes International Credit Union Day.

The program will be held at 7 p.m. at Germania Hall, Menasha. A special guest will be W. Trever Jones, Milwaukee president of the league.

The league is a state association of 750 credit unions serving 628,000 members. More than 54,000 credit unions with over 38 million members will be observing the day.

Lights Stolen

NEENAH — A dozen fluorescent light fixtures have been reported stolen from a construction site at the Bergstrom Paper Company's Wisconsin Avenue office.

The fixtures, valued at between $30 and $40 each, were taken from the site during construction which started July 1.

is turned away who needs help, if there is room, and that "friends" in Appleton will take in the overflow when need arises. For the past year, he reports, the home has had full capacity and a waiting list, because the recommended length of stay is three months. At the end of that time, if a man is not ready to go out on his own, he can go to Villa Phoenix, started in July as a three-quarter house or permanent home for men who have no one to care for them.

Costello says the work has gone around that Villa Hope is a neutral source of help in the community and that it is common for the phone to ring at 2 or 4 a.m. Often on the other end is a man who has been wandering the streets, wondering where to go.

The director gives credit to community friends such as members of Alcoholics Anonymous who are on call 24 hours a day to help a man who wants to get off alcohol. He talks of dentists who will help and doctors who have offered their services.

The best recommendations for the success of the home, Costello feels, come from the 70 graduates who also return to rap with the residents and to encourage them.

Menasha's Cash Supply Shows $348,000 Deficit

MENASHA — The statement of the city's financial condition through Sept. 30 still shows the general fund account as being $348,000 in the red.

"We're tight," said acting director of administration David A. Volkman.

But Volkman said the current assets account which is some $25,000 in the hole, the depleted general fund, and revenues that are running below expectations should not create any serious financial problems.

Part of that is because of a $500,000 loan recently floated by the city. Much of that money will go to replenish the sorrowful general fund, which has been used in the past to finance street and sewer construction.

"We probably won't have any cause to reduce the budget in 1972," Volkman added, indicating the most serious effect of the dry general fund.

Menasha Plans to Annex 43 Acres From Town

MENASHA — Some 43 acres of land, including 23 owned by the city, are being considered for annexation from the Town of Menasha.

The annexation committee approved the annexation at a recent meeting. It is expected to come before the common council soon.

The property includes 23 acres of land on the Maplewood Jr. High School property, 1600 Midway Road, and 20 acres of undeveloped land directly north.

If approved, the annexation would be the first by the city since Aug. 4, 1970, when it took in 96.16 acres of town land including the Shopko store on State 47.

Neenah Couple Hurt In Two-Car Crash

NEENAH — A Neenah couple suffered minor injuries, but were taken to Theda Clark Hospital by squad car, following a rear end collision late Friday morning at Winneconne Avenue and S. Lake Street.

Police reported that Irvin A. Schweitzer, 52, 1114 Green Acres Lane, sustained back and neck pain, while his wife, Bessie, complained of pain in the back, neck and right leg.

Authorities said their car, driven by Schweitzer, was eastbound on Winneconne and stopped for a turn onto Lake Street when struck from behind by an auto driven by Ceylon E. Reinert, 41, 1012 Mill St., New London. Reinert was not injured.

Struggling to Stay Off Welfare, Mrs. Mary Gordon, 70, Boston, pushes her heavily laden cart along Blue Hill Avenue enroute to a junk yard. She has been a rag picker for as long as anybody can remember, first in the West End and for the last six years in Roxbury. She earns about $1 per day. Her purpose — at all cost — is to stay off welfare, so each dawn she leaves her apartment house with her cart to collect empty bottles, newspapers and old clothes. (AP Wirephoto)

Reactions Vary to Curb on Textiles

ATLANTA (AP) — Legislators and manufacturers in the economically hard-pressed Southern textile belt have greeted President Nixon's announced curb on noncotton fabric imports with a mixture of caution, relief and occasional complaints that the move came too late.

"Anything is better than what we've had," Meno Schoenback of Allied Products in Atlanta said after the White House announced on Friday agreements curbing noncotton textile imports from Japan, South Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

"It's a step in the right direction," said Schoenback. "Many, many jobs have already been lost. Something had to be done. Anything will help us."

'Welcome Relief'

A spokesman for the Alabama Textile Manufacturers Association said "we welcome any relief," although sources close to Gov. George C. Wallace said the Alabama governor feels the Nixon move "came about 100,000 jobs too late."

Sen. David Gambrell, D-Ga., said he was "pleased" with the move but "restrictions should have been imposed several years back in order to protect the jobs of textile workers that have been undermined and wiped out by textile dumping on the U.S. market."

The textile industry, burdened by many worker layoffs, the closing of more than 30 mills during the past three years and threatened with additional shutdowns, has long complained that its domestic market has become inundated by foreign imports, manufactured abroad by cheap labor.

Presidential economic adviser Peter Peterson said imports of manmade fibers increased by an estimated 40 per cent last year and are expected to go up over 70 per cent this year. The new agreements limit annual increases to 5 per cent for Japan and 7½ per cent for Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea.

Alabama's Hanley Mills and Coosa Pie Mills, with some 1,400 workers, have closed in the past year. Alabama Mills, which employs 850 in Alabama, has announced plans to discontinue operations, and Georgia's Bibb Manufacturing says it will close several mills.

The import curb was greeted more enthusiastically by Rep. Nick Galifianakis, D-N.C., who said: "The President deserves the thanks of all North Carolinians for his diligence in pursuing this elusive agreement to a successful conclusion for it will mean much to those thousands of Tar Heel people whose livelihoods depend on the health of our textile industry."

The restrictions should "go a long way towards decreasing the $2 billion unfavorable balance of trade in textiles and apparel," said Charles F. Myers Jr. of Greensboro, N.C., chairman and chief executive officer of Burlington Industries, Inc., one of the world's largest textile companies.

Clothing Prices to Rise?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will Americans be paying more for their clothes as the result of the new agreements reached with Japan and other major Asian producers to hold down exports of non-cotton textiles to this country?

The White House calls that a "good question" but doesn't say "no" to possible price increases.

Members of retailers organizations and representatives of foreign textile producers are predicting a 10 to 15 per cent rise.

But a spokesman for the domestic textile industry says this prediction is "totally without foundation" and there should be no increases in price.

Peter Peterson, presidential adviser on foreign economic policy, was asked if the restraint agreements would mean that textile apparel and madeup goods as well as fibers would cost more

He replied that it was "a good question," but added that in considering these matters there had to be a tradeoff.

He said that the restraints would result in saving the jobs of perhaps 150,000 American workers in the textile business. These jobs are concentrated in areas least able to handle the unemployment, Peterson said.

The importers, who have fought textile restraints, together with foreign producers expect a rather quick increase in the prices of apparel. They cite figures given by the retailers association earlier this year that quotas would bring a hike of 10 cents to 15 cents on the dollar.

Also it was pointed out that the popular double knits are in short supply and that buyers have been replenishing their stocks even though they had to pay the 10 per cent surcharge imposed since last Aug. 15.

Under the new agreements the surcharge was removed from shipments as of Oct. 1.

Robert Jackson, executive vice president of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, says textiles is a highly competitive industry and he does not expect any increases.

He said that the Wholesale Price Index, with 1967 serving a base of 100, shows all industrial commodities now stand at 113 per cent average. But the average for the manmade fibers is 101 and for the entire textile industry the average is about 103 Recent boosts in the cost of cotton have sent the price of cotton textiles up

"We are not contributing to inflation and they have not placed price controls on our commodities because of increases," he said

Nixon to Pick Boards Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — With less than a month remaining before Phase 2 of his economic policy takes effect, President Nixon reportedly is almost ready to name the members of the Pay Board and Price Commission that will have primary responsibility for making it work.

The White House said Friday members of the two groups, which will have chief responsibility for developing wage and price standards for the post-freeze period that begins Nov. 14, will be named within a few days.

They probably will hold their first meetings next week, the White House said.

"It's important that these people gather next week to do the work the President has assigned," said Donald Rumsfeld, newly named director of the Cost of Living Council.

Time Factors

Despite the time factor, Rumsfeld said he doubted that the Cost of Living Council—which has been the chief enforcer of Phase 1—would develop interim wage-price standards if the Pay Board and Price Commission fail to get them worked out by Nov. 13.

"I think it would not be useful to come up with an interim arrangement that would last only a few hours or a few days," Rumsfeld said.

"It's clear to the country," he said, "that the freeze remains in effect until something happens"

Rumsfeld also acknowledged that some persons who have been asked to serve on the two boards have declined.

Orders Signed

Treasury Secretary John B Connally, meanwhile, signed orders giving the boards authority to "establish criteria, standards, and implementation procedures designed to stabilize wages and salaries" during Phase 2.

The move apparently was designed to allay fears of organized labor that actions by the boards would be subject to veto by the Cost-of-Living Council

In other developments Friday:

—The White House said it probably will send legislation to Congress next Monday or Tuesday that would extend Nixon's authority to control wages, prices and rents from April 30, 1972, to April 30, 1973 The bill also will call for new standby controls on interest rates and dividends, creation of a federal court to handle wage-price cases and subpoena powers for the Pay Board and Price Commission.

Trade Pact

—A trade agreement was announced between the United States and Japan, South Korea, Taiwan amd Hong Kong to restrain the flow of noncotton textiles into the United States. As a result, the United States agreed to lift the 10 per cent import surcharge on those products.

—Ford Motor Co. announced federally approved price increases on several 1972 models to reflect equipment changes on domestic models and the 6.5 per cent tax surcharge on imported cars and parts.

Auto Engine Mounts Faulty

U.S. Urges Owners Of GM Models To Get Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Transportation Department says the owners of up to 6 million Chevrolet-built vehicles should bring them in for inspection because failure of engine mounts could cause loss of control.

The department's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration issued the warning late Friday on the basis, it said, of reports that engine mountings on about 500 vehicles failed

Spokesmen said it was believed many more than the reported 500 failures had occurred

Model Years

Spokesmen said owners of Chevrolets, Novas Chevelles and Camaros of the model years 1965 through 1969 should bring them in for front engine mount inspection and possible repair work

General Motors manufacturers of Chevrolet vehicles, said in a statement released in Detroit that it shared the agency's interest in the problem and pledged continued cooperation in the investigation

GM said the vehicle owner would have to pay the cost of any repairs

"Any safety risk that NHTSA has associated with this problem can be present only if an engine mount has failed and the engine is accelerated rapidly from very low speeds or from a standing start" GM said It is highly unlikely that this condition can occur at speeds above 25 miles per hour"

New State Insurance Rules OK'd

MADISON, Wis. (AP) —Wisconsin Insurance Commissioner Stanley DuRose said today he has approved a set of strict standards for the settlement practices of insurance companies, the first such standards in the state

DuRose said frequent violation of the new rules, which go into effect Nov. 1 could cause insurance company to forefeit its license

The commissioner said the rules will apply to all types of insurance companies in the state, including non-profit companies such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield

The standards include prohibition of the failure of a company to execute a claims investigation with reasonable dispatch failure to attempt in good faith to effect fair and equitable claim settlement

'Political Tactics' Claimed

Top U.S. Attorney Quits Under Fire About Ties

Will R. Wilson

Wilson said he has been the target of politically based character assassinations and was resigning to save the Nixon administration further embarrassment

Rep Henry B Gonzalez, D-Tex., carried on a one-man campaign to force Wilson's dismissal since mid-June In recent weeks a number of national publications also suggested Wilson should quit

General Counsel

Wilson was general counsel for Sharp's bank, realty firm and an insurance company in a period from 1967 to early 1969 during which the Securities and Exchange Commission said their assets were "systematically looted"

Wilson has not been accused of any crime in the Sharp scandal.

Federal grand juries in Dallas and Houston are still considering material in the case, which broke nine months ago and implicated top state Democratic officeholders.

In a four-page letter to President Nixon dated Friday night, Wilson spoke of his fight against organized crime and then, on the final page, said:

"Political enemies of the past, misplaced confidences and forces whose faces I do not recognize have assailed my character. They have attempted to pull attention away from goals

"Events involving former clients which have unfolded in Texas in the past few months have, through no fault of mine, created difficulties and embarrassment which your administration should not be taxed with."

Wilson said he is the victim of "character assassination which is currently being used as a political tactic" and he told Nixon that "I must fight my own fight freed from the restraints of this office."

The White House had no immediate comment.

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell praised Wilson's "experience, skill and dedication" and said he had "contributed significantly to the substantial progress that has been achieved in the war on organized crime" in his 30 months at Justice.

Arson Suspected In Madison Fires

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Three fires broke out within 200 feet of each other early today in Madison's Mifflin Street area, and officials speculated whether the apparent arson was connected with the $200,000 fire Friday at the Midvale Community Lutheran Church

The two-alarm fires, discovered at about 4 a.m., destroyed most of the Monona Tire Co. and a small garage, and caused only minor damage to an apartment building

Fire Marshal John R Tappen said "there is a good possibility that the fires are connected"

Firemen were still battling the Monona Tire Co. blaze four hours after it was discovered.

A Madison fire dispatcher, Hugh Emerson, said the fires today followed a week of apparent arsonist activity.

Before Friday's fire at the Midvale Community Church, there were at least two other incidents officials believe were caused by an arsonist.

Another Madison apartment building fire occurred shortly after midnight Wednesday. Wednesday afternoon, a hand towel dispenser and a number of fire prevention posters were set on fire at the Madison Area Technical Collge.

Officials said they have no firm evidence the incidents are related.

Delay Seen in Trial of Youth

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — The start of the trial for Douglas Dean on charges of killing five persons last summer could be delayed past Nov. 1, Circuit Court Judge Charles Larson said Friday.

Larson said briefs by the defense attorney, Robert Halvorsen, and Dist. Atty. Lance Jones on Halvorsen's motion to suppress some evidence in the case must be filed by Oct. 28

Although Larson said he would make a decision as soon as possible, he said the start of the trial might have to be delayed—especially if his decision is appealed to the Wisconsin Supreme Court

The motion alleges the state moved improperly in seizing the 19-year-old youth's clothing, while he was hospitalized

Cleaver Hits China, Returning to U.S.

ALGIERS (AP) — Scornfully rebuking the Communist regimes in China and Cuba, Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver says he will end his Algerian exile and devote himself to urban guerrilla struggle in the United States.

The 36-year-old fugitive called Peking's invitation to President Nixon a setback to the worldwide revolutionary movement and said the Chinese about-face helped him make up his mind to go home.

Cleaver declined in an interview Friday to indicate when he would return, but he said it would be soon. The U.S. State Department has refused to renew his passport since he fled from the country in 1968 when his parole was revoked following a shootout with police in Oakland, Calif

Wife Returns

His wife Kathleen and their two children arrived in Boston Friday night. She said her husband was expected to return "very soon."

Cleaver said some of his followers would remain in Algeria to continue the "revolutionary peoples' communications network" set up with financial aid from the Algerian government.

His future struggle, he said, would follow the example of urban guerrilla movements in Latin America, Quebec and Northern Ireland and "openly and proudly admit our exploits"

He handed his visitors a manual on "organizing urban guerrilla units" published by the so-called Afro-American liberation army and written by Panther "field marshal" Don Cox, who has shared Cleaver's two-year exile here.

Political Manual

The manual urged political kidnapings on the Latin American model "of such a nature that they will receive nationwide and worldwide coverage through the pigs' news media" It also gave detailed directions on how to make time bombs, Molotov cocktails and hand grenades.

Cleaver has abandoned his semi-Afro hairdo and now wears his hair and full beard neatly trimmed He wore a blue T-shirt and blue jeans, and two pear-shaped stones dangled from chains around his neck. The room of the comfortable villa put at his disposal by the Algerian authorities was filled with modern recording equipment

Moon May Have Water, Scientist Says

HOUSTON, Tex (AP) — A Rice University scientist says water vapor has been detected in the moon's atmosphere by instruments left by Apollo astronauts

Dr John W Freeman told a news conference Friday that the vapor may come from pools of water deep beneath the lunar surface and erupt in geysers which could supply water and energy for colonies on the moon

A space agency official said the announcement was a "possibly important new discovery about the moon"

'Very Interesting'

"I look at it as a very interesting observation about the moon which nobody had anticipated," said Dr. Paul Gast chief of planetary and earth sciences at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Freeman said the water vapor was detected by instruments left by the Apollo 12 and Apollo 14 astronauts He said the instruments, called suprathermal ion detection experiments (SIDE), are able to sense and identify ionized gases in the near-vacuum of the moon

On March 7, 1971, Freeman said, the instrument reported three groups of readings which indicated the presence of water vapor clouds which quickly dissipated into space The scientist said each reading came about two hours after a seismograph had detected a series of small quakes, which he said may have triggered a geyser

A long analysis of the data, Freeman said, has eliminated all but natural sources for the cloud of water vapor

Freeman's data goes against most current theories. Many geochemists have said that lunar rocks examined so far indicate the moon has been dry They note that the presence of water changes the chemistry of rocks cooling from lava, lava.

However, Gast said the findings are not mutually exclusive

Gast said rocks which have been examined came from no deeper than 100 to 200 kilometers beneath the lunar surface

"If you go deeper and deeper down" he said, "You may have more volatile material," such as water or water-bearing rock

Moon quakes detected by the seismographs, he said, are thought to be coming from about 800 kilometers beneath the lunar surface. The water vapor, he said, could come from the same depth.

Freeman said his findings indicated "there's a good possibility of liquid water somewhere on the moon"

The Rice University scientist said this raises the possibility that one day colonies could find and use water on the moon

Since the water escapes in the form of geysers of hot gas, he said, this could be a source of energy for men living on the moon

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — When the fisheries officials of the state Department of Natural Resources responded to worried environmentalists by defending the use of toxicants to remove carp from public waters, they disclosed a signification conclusion of the state fish management division

The old method of carp and other "rough fish" control through the use of seines, employed for more than 30 years, is wasteful, inefficient, and incapable of achieving a serious reduction of such undesirable and harmful fish species, they declared flatly

Carp netting by state-employed crews or commercial fishermen has continued in some degree since the early days of the Depression, when it was seized upon as a work relief project

Rapid Breeding

Over the years, tens of millions of dollars have been spent on such work under the name of "control."

Whatever the intensity of the seining effort, some carp escape the nets and survive to breed new generations of their kind, the state officers told their supervising board So prolifically do they reproduce that they quickly take over many bodies of water, destroy vegetation and muddy the waters to a degree that makes it impossible for normal populations of the desirable game fishes to survive, they explained

The favorite toxicant now in use is antimycin, an antibiotic Fish managers net game fish from the waters, keep them in hatchery ponds pending the carp treatment program and then restock them Even if a few carp survive the chemical, predatory game fish are able to destroy them because the water has cleared sufficiently for them to attack the inferior fish.

Richer Variety

A E Ehly, a district manager of the DNR for southern counties, told the board that a toxicant application in the upper Fox River, heavily infested by carp for decades, destroyed 100,000 pounds of the fish. But only 57 pounds of game fish were found after the treatment, he said, emphasizing the efficiency of the sports species removal

Such waters are typically restocked with a richer variety of game fish than were able to thrive when they were infested with huge population of carp, Ehly and other district managers told the board.

Norman Hacker of the Oshkosh state fisheries station, a biologist, echoed Ehly's statement that riparian owners generally favor overwhelmingly the application of antimycin for carp control. Once waters are rendered turbid through an excessive carp population, game fish are permanently discouraged, he warned.

Fisheries men emphasized that the chemical was tested before its use in the field at a cost of about $132,000. They have also made surveys of the effects on other organisms after the application of the chemical and have found no damage and some improvement, as in an increase in the population of aquatic insects, they said.

Some critics have demanded that the use of the new toxicant be forbidden until more extensive studies of potential damage can be made.

But the reactions of the fish professionals and the members of the DNR board suggest that they are not inclined to abandon a method for the control or possibly the elimination of a pest fish that has competed with game fish for many decades

Charles Lloyd, fisheries chief for the state, recalled that carp were introduced to Wisconsin waters in the late 19th century by enthusiastic but scientifically illisterate anglers Nearly 100 years later, he suggested to his superiors, a method may be at hand to correct that historic blunder

Live Fish Found; Waupaca River May be Re-Treated

WAUPACA — Crewmen from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) prepared to restock the Upper Tomorrow and Middle Tomorrow River with 5,000 German Brown and Brook Trout Wednesday, one week after the treatment of the Tomorrow-Waupaca River system with antimycin

Live carp have been found however and Vern Hacker, director of the project, put crews out Friday to check from Waupaca to Weyauwega for live fish

"The aim of the project was the total eradication of carp and rough fish and if there are living carp in this portion of the stream, we will re-treat," he said Friday.

"The high water and the cold weather could have affected the carp kill and if the crews find carp we will treat again," Hacker explained "This will necessitate the drawing down of the Weyauwega Pond again, and should take from five to seven days before we can use the antimycin effectively."

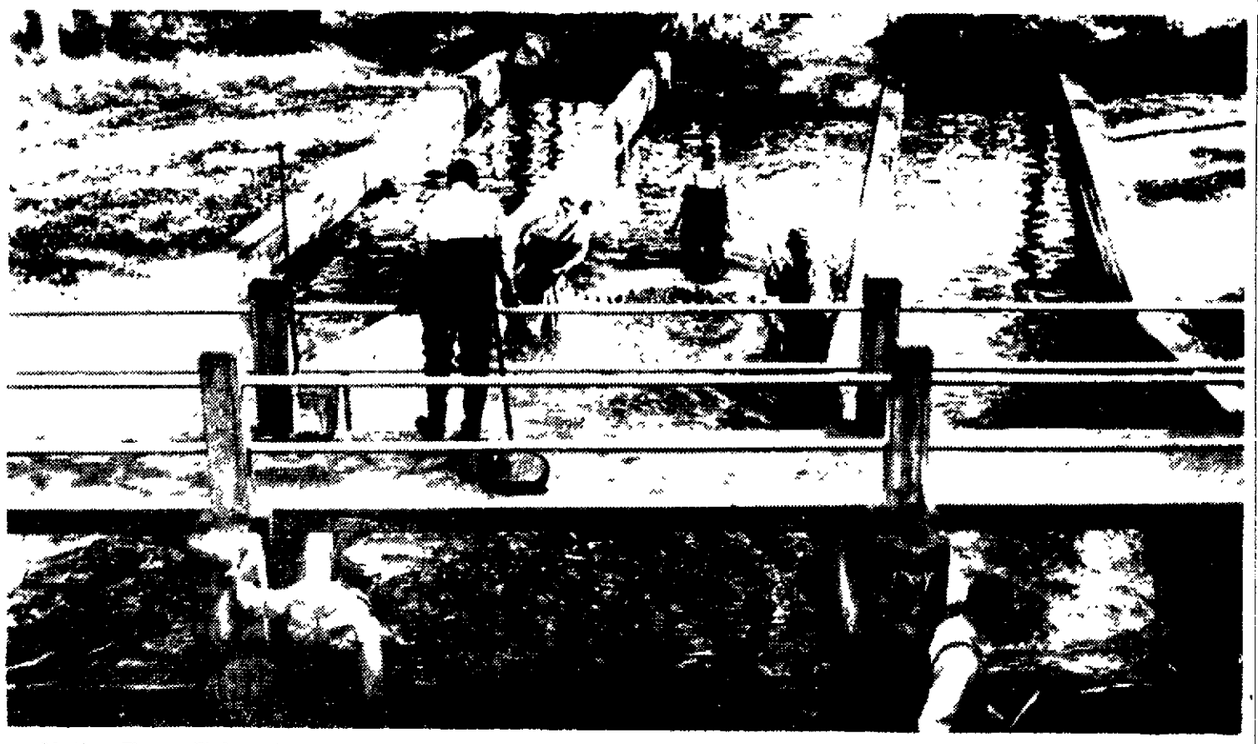

To date 8,000 pounds of dead fish have been taken from the Waupaca River at the Weyauwega mill pond, Dan Folz, district fish manager reported "In the treatment of the lower Crystal River, Shadow and Mirror Lakes, and the Tomorrow and Waupaca River, our records show that the chemical treatment has killed between 1,000 and 1,100 trout, most of them fingerlings

Project Hampered

"The scientific evaluation of the project has been hampered all along by the 'interest' of a few who have appointed themselves to interfere in the project," Hacker charged "We are receiving favorably comments, however, although the project is not complete. The owner of the dam at Nelsonville told me that he is able to see the bottom of the mill pond for the first time in the 20 years he has lived in the area. The dam keeper at Weyauwega also told me that he is able to see the river bottom below the dam for the first time in years.

"This proves one of the points — that where there are carp the bottom is disturbed and the silt showers down stream."

No time had been set late Friday for drawing down of the Weyauwega mill pond if it becomes necessary

Native Trout Taken from the Tomorrow River system were stored in the Hartman Creek Pond while treatment of the system to eliminate rough fish took place. Here crews of the Department of Natural Resources sorts the fish in preparation for their return to the water. (Post-Crescent Photos)

$52 Million for State 57 Plan

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The cost of improving State 57 to freeway standards from Saukville to Kiel and from Kiel to Green Bay would be about $52 million, the state Department of Transporation says in a fiscal advisory note to the Legislature

The department said that such a project would require about five years to complete, so that the expenditure could be budgeted at about $10 3 million yearly

But the result, even if the funding is derived from bond issues as directed in a legislative proposal, would be to defer highway improvements planned for other districts of the state during the state period, the lawmakers were told

The State 57 plan was proposed by Sen Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan when Gov Lucey ordered the deferral of plans to build a new federal Interate highway connecting Milwaukee with the Fox River Valley and Green Bay.

Keppler was joined in the plan by several co-authors, including Reps Kafka and Vanderperren of Brown County and Hephner of Calumet County

Cities to Help Draft Tax Plan

EAU CLAIRE Wis (AP) — Mayors of Wisconsin's big cities plan to send their finance directors to Madison Monday to draft a compromise tax redistribution proposal with the help of the state Revenue Department.

The mayors decided upon the move Friday at a Wisconsin Alliance of Cities meeting after reconsidering at the request of Gov Patrick Lucey a resolution opposing the latest Assembly-passed shared tax plan

Alliance members had voted 14-0 against the proposal adopted Thursday in the lower house, which they charged would take away large sums of money from 11 of the big cities.

Reconsider Action

They reconsidered their action after William Beyer, executive secretary of the alliance, told them he had received a call from Lucey—who felt tax reform was finally at the point of passage and the mayors' action would jeopardize the bill

After James Ritsch, finance director at Eau Claire, told the Alliance that city officials felt they should have been allowed to help with the drafting of tax reform bills, the mayors decided to rescind their resolution if Lucey set up the meeting with the Revenue Department

The representative from Milwaukee, William Carey of the city's Bureau of Fiscal Liaison abstained from the original vote

"We agree with you that we're for something better ge" he said But at this juncture we can't afford to turn down anything"

Lower Payments

A compromise plan lowering per capita payment, in the shared tax formula from $35 to possibly $25 is favored by the mayors, who feel the current proposal doesn't give enough consideration of actual need

Beyer said none of the redistribution measures introduced during the current session of the legislature had been acceptable to the alliance because of the higher per capita payments proposed in them

"It looks like it's finally going to happen, but why do they have to clobber us in the process" he asked.

Racine Mayor Kenneth Huck said it would be "an irresponsible act" for the legislature to pass the Assembly version of shared tax redistribution.

"This is not a compromise," he said. "Stealing from villages and towns to give to the cities is not the answer"

Fond du Lac City Manager Myron Medin said, however, "Gov Lucey has been too willing to compromise just so he can have some sort of tax redistribution to brag about"

New Approach

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A new approach to the management of the increasingly challenging problem of accommodating solid waste disposal is likely to emerge from legislation approved by the Senate and Assembly and expected to be made effective with the approving signature of Gov. Patrick J. Lucey

It would authorize county boards to establish cooperative districts, singly or jointly, for the collection and disposal of solid wastes as well as others.

The immediate effect will be in solid waste management, according to the sponsors, because of the pressure of state law on municipalities and the concern of some of the smaller communities about the state standards and the costs accruing from compliance as well as the difficulties some of the larger cities have encountered in locating suitable landfill sites

The measure was sponsored by the Wisconsin County Boards Association and supported by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities. Impetus to the bill was provided in studies conducted last year by the joint Legislative Council

The measure will be permissive only, but government officials believe that it will be welcomed in many districts. Counties would be authorized to contract with municipalities for collection and disposal, and groups of counties could collaborate in establishing such a utility.

The enabling legislation is broad enough to permit counties to handle liquid waste collection and disposal also, but such enterprises are not anticipated immediately. They also will be authorized to operate research projects, however, including recycling of wastes and "any other innovative form of disposal"

The County Boards Association said it sponsored the bill because of an increasing public concern about waste disposal problems and costs, and the conviction that counties could provide such services in many instances more efficiently than individual municipalities Many cities are prepared immediately to support the idea of county waste management facilities, said Robert Mortensen of the WCBA

Farmers Union Head Warns Cities Of Need for Tax System Reform

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP) — The present state share tax distribution system is driving rural families from their farms into the cities and adding to urban problems, the president of the Wisconsin Farmers Union told the Wisconsin Alliance of Cities Friday.

"If the fabric of the cities begins to come apart under the heavy demands of the property tax with no relief from the state forthcoming, the shock will be felt through the rural areas as well," said Gilbert Rohde.

"In a like manner, if the rural areas of Wisconsin are permitted to be further depopulated and devitalized, the problems of the cities will be enlarged manyfold"

An estimated 1,450 of Wisconsin's 1,839 communities would have gained property tax relief under the proposals of Gov. Patrick Lucy and those originally passed in the state Assembly but later killed in the state Senate, he said But he did not support the plan passed Thursday in the Assembly

About 850 rural farm towns would have gained from the earlier proposals, Rohde said and tax redistribution should be the state's top priority for rural, as well as urban communities.

Field Fertile

"The field is fertile for state tax reform, and this can and will be achieved by city and rural folks putting their shoulders and voting muscle together," he said, and got a standing ovation for the city officials

The Farmers Union president lashed out at senators from rural areas whose districts would gain by shared tax reform, but who have been voting against it. He said they were blinding themselves to the needs of their constitutents

"There appears to be a maverick minority in the GOP-controlled Senate that wants no reform and would rather stay glued to the pages of the past," he said.

Rohde said his organization supported Lucey's refusal to sign any state budget which does not contain reform of the state's tax distribution system.

Steiger Bill Expected to Help Farmers

WASHINGTON — Charging that U.S farmers could lose over $1 billion in foreign agricultural sales because of present European Common Market trade policy, Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, says he is co-sponsoring a resolution urging President Nixon to try to negotiate lower agricultural tariffs with the six-nation European community.

If the protected and subsidized European competition can be forced to compete on equal terms with American farm products, the clear superiority of our efficient farm production will become apparent," Steiger said in a news release.

Steiger said he was among a bi-partisan group of congressmen trying to improve the position of the American farmer and eliminate "unfair trade practices by the European Common Market."

Steiger, noting that common market countries represent the largest market for U.S. agricultural exports, said the market's tariff "cuts deeply into our farm exports to Europe while, at the same time, European farm exports receive government subsidies that allow them to export into markets in other parts of the world"

He said the situation could worsen when Great Britain makes its expected entry soon into the European economic community

Steiger said Common Market farm trade restrictions "violate the spirit of the trade agreement and aggravate both the current situation on monetary crisis and the United States' unfavorable balance of trade"

Wussow Plans Redrawing of City Lines

Supv Charles Wussow chairman of the Outagamie County Board's reapportionment committee, still feels the proposed Appleton ward lines were drawn to deliberately throw certain supervisors together and plans to redraw the wards more to the county's satisfaction

Wussow's action Friday indicated that the 42 supervisor concept submitted by the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) will probably be the one recommended to the county board for adoption

The 42 supervisor plan, with Wussow's modification of Appleton ward lines, along with its companion 21-supervisor plan and a plan to retain the present 47 supervisors will be submitted in November

Wussow said he had no personal complaints on the Appleton ward lines since he was left alone in a district But, he said it seems that by coincidence two or three groups of supervisors are thrown together It also seems too much of a coincidence to be a coincidence," Wussow added, "I think there is more than one way to divide the city"

City Planner Jack Hetu drew the ward lines on the basis continuing 20 wards 18½ of which are in Outagamie County The 42 supervisor plan uses the ward lines for the supervisory districts in the city

The three other members of the committee present said they had no arguments with the 42-supervisor plan as presented

Supv George Kroes, Town of VandenBroek, said he would never go for any 42 district plan in which the supervisory lines and wards lines did not coincide in Appleton

If you don't use the ward lines then talk about keeping 47 supervisors, Kroes said If we go 42 for heavens sakes use the ward lines We're supposed to be working for the people he said

Gerrymander

Wussow claimed there was nothing sacred about the lines as drawn by Hetu Which comes first" he asked The original gerrymander or a new one?" He said he had been told by several aldermen that the proposed ward map 'wouldn't survive"

Supv Gene Retzlaff, Horton ville said he felt GOG had done an excellent job and that it was ridiculous not to use its plan "I don't object to other proposals, but don't throw this one out," he said

Wussow said if the other members of the committee were satisfied with the COG map for the rest of the county, he would just concentrate on Appleton

He said he had attempted to work out other plans but that 42 and 21 were the only numbers which left most of the rural towns intact

Wussow said he had also contacted Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission for assistance but was informed by Charles Hervey, commission executive director, that it would take a minimum of 27 days for Northeastern to work up any redistricting maps

He said Hervey suggested contacting Prof Milan Vuchich of the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh (UWO) to do the redistricting by computer. Vuchich did the Winnebago County remapping

The committee was informed, however, that no money had been allocated for hiring an outside firm

Kroes said he felt that COG would assist in preparing a 47 district plan o supervisors could compare that with the 42 and 21 supervisor plans

By The Associated Press

I'm losing a million dollars and I want to make a change snapped owner Paul Snyder of the Buffalo Braves in announcing that scout Johnny McCarthy had been named to replace Dolph Schayes as coach

Snyder's change made one day after Buffalo had been swamped by Seattle 123-90 in its opening game of the National Basketball Association season proved beneficial

McCarthy in his first game as coach guided the Braves to a dramatic 111-109 overtime victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers Friday night

Battle Back

Buffalo looked almost as bad in the opening quarter against Cleveland as it did in its one game under Schayes falling behind the Cavaliers by 18 points But the Braves battled back tenaciously and finally tied the score 97-97 late in the fourth quarter At the end of regulation time the teams were deadlocked 101-101

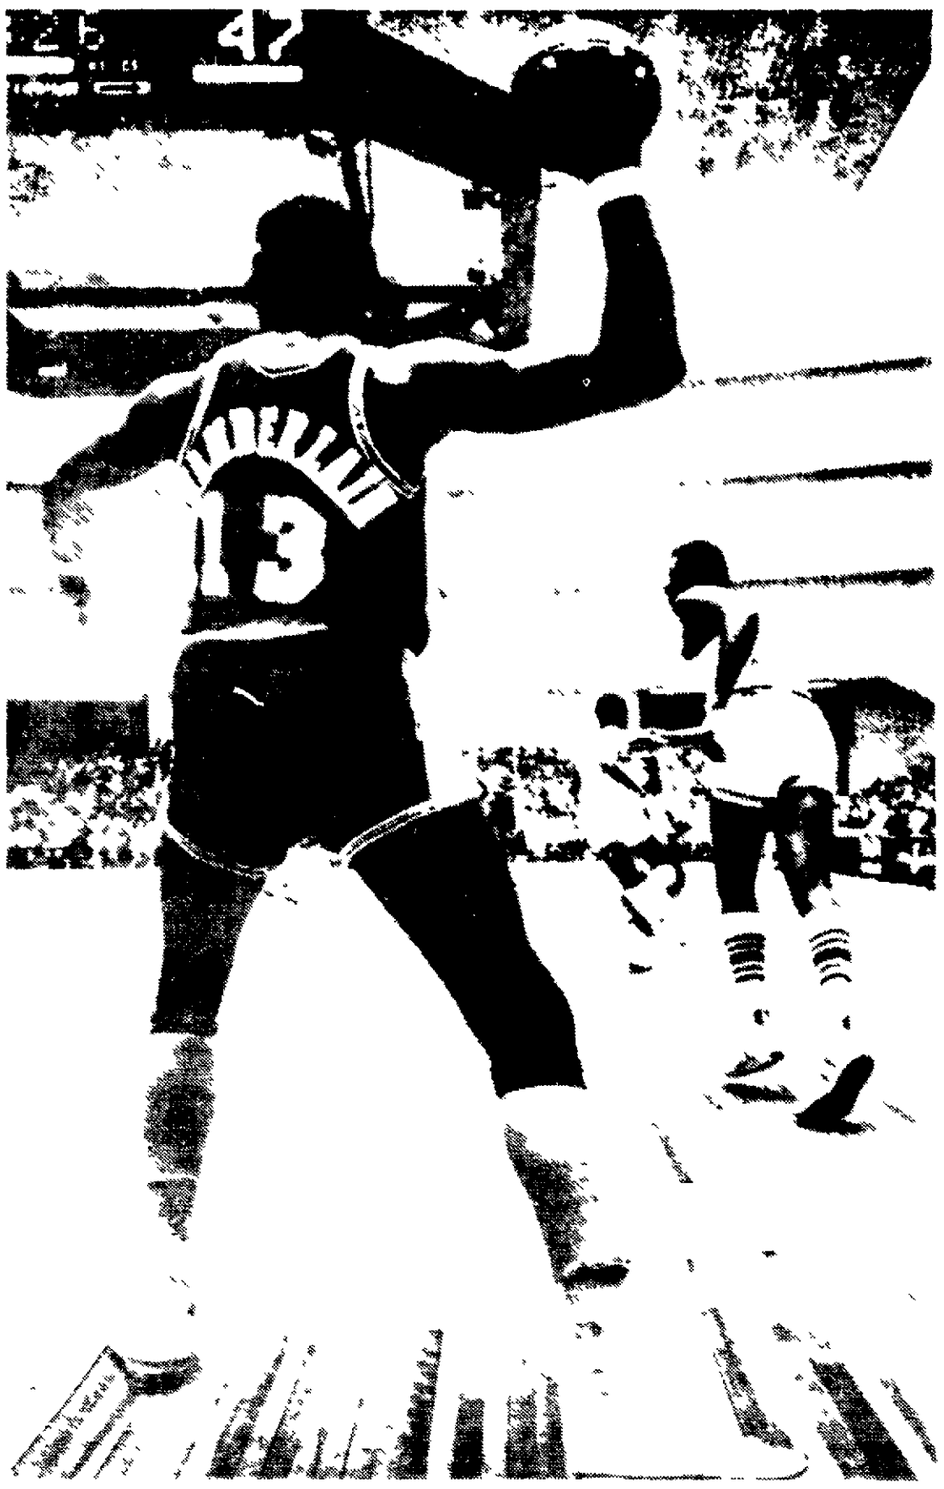

Buffalo again fell back in overtime 107-105 but Walt Hazzard's jump shot tied the score and Bill Hosket's rebound basket gave the Braves the lead for good

Hazzard led all scorers with 30 points 27 after intermission John Johnson had 22 points for Cleveland

Los Angeles making its debut under Coach Bill Sharman who piloted the Utah Stars to the American Basketball Association title last season overwhelmed Detroit with a balanced offense paced by Wilt Chamberlain's 26 points and Jim McMillian's 25

Bob Lanier topped Detroit with 25 points but scored only

Minnesota Injury List Growing

MINNEAPOLIS ST PAUL (AP) — Coach Bud Grant probably is wondering if football injuries are contagious, especially to offensive lineman

The Minnesota Vikings have lost another regular, center Mick Tingelhoff, for Sunday's National Football League game at Green Bay

"This is the worst shape we've been in since I came here," Grant said Friday after announcing that Tingelhoff will miss the Packer game with a pulled muscle in his right leg

Godfrey Zaunbrecker, in his second year of taxi squad duty will start at center The Vikings have not yet announced who will be moved to the taxi squad to make room for the 6-foot-2 235-pound rookie from Louisiana State

The Vikings already have lost guard Jim Vellone, because of Hodgkin's disease, and tight end John Beasley, knee surgery, for the season Grady Alderman, a tackle, will not start for the second straight week because of a shoulder injury

Guard Milt Sunde will play despite a knee injury suffered last week in a 13-0 victory over Philadelphia John Henderson wide receiver, will be left at home with a bruised shoulder

Middle linebacker Lonnie Warwick played only in the season opener against Detroit and then underwent knee surgery

Zaunbrecher will be the third inexperienced man in the starting lineup this season Carl Gersbach is manning the middle linebacker spot and Stu Voigt a second-year man from Wisconsin who saw little action in 1970 has started at tight end since Beasley was lost in the final preseason game

Grant had a few other surprise changes in his starting lineup for the Packers

Bill Brown will take over the fullback slot with Dave Osborn moving over to Clint Jones' starting spot.

Al Denson will make his first start at wide receiver for Henderson since acquired in an off-season trade with Denver Grant said it was possible Gene Washington, bothered all season with a sore ankle may play Washington caught his first pass of the season last week

Gary Cuozzo, who started the first two games of the season, will replace Norm Snead at quarterback

Winkler and Pitts to be Activated

GREEN BAY, Wis (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, who have been scoring over 30 points per game this season, win or lose, meet the Minnesota Vikings, who haven't allowed a point in their last two National Football League games, Sunday afternoon

The resultant collision could rock the non-artificial turf at Lambreau Field—but then again, it may just be the opportunity of the year for the Viking offense

For while the Packers 2-2, have been scoring and running up total yardage figures averaging over 300 yards per game, their defense has been anything but a fortress

The Green Bay secondary was riddled for over 300 yards passing by Detroit's Greg Landry last Sunday, and has given up 842 yards in the four league games

Replaces Snead

Viking Coach Bud Grant decided Friday to switch quarterbacks and the starter will be Gary Gary Cuozzo in place of veteran Norm Snead

Cuozzo has completed 30 of 58 passes for 394 yards and three touchdowns and his favorite receivers have been running back Dave Osborn with 16 receptions, and end Bob Grim with 15

Dave Hampton was reported doubtful for the Packers after hobbling around on a severe charlie horse all week Devine said he would activate Elijah Pitts from the taxi squad for insurance at running back

Devine also plans to activate Randy Winkler to take the place of injured guard Dave Bradley, out with a torn calf muscle

The Packers, a team Devine says is "getting better every week," will try and break through the rugged defensive lineup of the Vikings with a running attack only slightly slowed by the Detroit defense a week ago

Donny Anderson, John Brockington and the doubtful Hampton lead Green Bay rushers, but the Vikings have been allowing only about 86 yards per game on the ground

Hawks Pick Up LaCroix in Trade For Flyers' Foley

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks Friday traded defense Rick Foley to the Philadelphia Flyers for center Andre LaCroix

LaCroix 27 has scored 24-22 and 20 goals in his last three seasons and is expected to report in time for Saturday's game in Minnesota

Foley a rugged 6-foot-4 and 232 pounds played defense most of last year for Portland of the Western League He had been in the Hawk training camp but was sent to Dallas when the season began

Each Threatens Once in Scoreless Tilt

Manawa, Bonduel Deadlock

MANAWA — Bonduel managed to stop the powerful offense of Manawa but failed to put together any of its own as a rough defensive battle ended in a 0-0 tie here Friday night

The tie keeps runnerup Manawa in contention for the Central Wisconsin Conference title as their record goes to 6-0-1 overall and 3-0-1 in the league Bonduel dropped to 2-1-1 in the CWC and 4-1-1 in all games

Each team had one sustained drive in the fourth quarter Manawa drove to Bonduel's 10 yard line but a 25 yard field goal attempt was wide to the right

On the ensuing series Bonduel headed down the field all the way to the Manawa 8 but the Wolves defense tightened up and forced the bears back to its 15 The field goal try was faked and quarterback Bob Schmidt rolled to his left only to fire an incomplete pass

The game's premier runner was Bonduel's Mike Boettcher who carried 12 times for 74 yards

The game was just as close as the statistics indicate Manawa led in first downs 13-11 and total yards 191-158 while Bonduel dominated the passing game Schmidt connected on four of 11 for 47 yards whereas Manawa's Tim Drath was 3-13 The reserves

Miami Hurricanes Defeat Navy, 31-6

MIAMI (AP) — Navy's football Middies may have another set Perry or Dewey within their ranks

Perhaps even a second John Paul Jone

But the well-trained Midshipmen are short on guys with names like Nunah Plunkett and O J

Miami's Hurricanes thumped Navy 31-6 Friday night drowning the 1971 Middies for the fifth time in six games and extending Coach Rick Forzano's four-season miseries to 4-23

I think we shocked Miami with our fight said a still proud Forzano They didn't know men at the U S Naval Academy had so much spirit

The Hurricanes 3-2 swirled to an early 24-0 cushion and began fighting the football war with subs The reserves — including one-time star quarterback Kelly Cochrane — played like well people said Miami Coach Fran Curci The errors started coming but we got through it okay

Three Pilfers

Cochrane who lost his job to John Hornibrook hit 2-of-7 passes and was intercepted three times

Tom Sullivan blazed 48 yards for a touchdown after only 1:59 of action and wound up the night with a career high of 129 yards in 11 carries

The Jacksonville Beach Fla senior hiked his season's total to 462 yards just ahead of shifty running mate Chuck Foreman who gained 75 against the Middies for an aggregate of 454

There's no question that Sullivan-Foreman is one of the best running combinations in college football said Curci Either one can bust a home run anytime It's nice to have them around

Breaks Loose

The two scatbacks scored once piece backup speedster Sylvio Cardoso busted loose on a 30-yard TD romp and Mike Burke hit a 47-yard field goal to pile up the 24-0 edge

Navy looked capable of taking a licking of the 60-0 neighborhood when the sophomore passing combination of Fred Stuvek to Larry Van Loan began to rip through the Miami defense

A Stuvek-Van Loan bomb for 36 yards set up the Middies first touchdown a one yard plunge by Dan Howard and the passing combo connected from three yards out for the other one

That aerial came with 10:07 left in the game and the Bulldogs down 8-0 That Snyder pass capped an 84-yard drive

Clemente, F. Robby Feud

BALTIMORE (AP) —A tasty little controversy was cooking in right field at Baltimore's grassy Memorial Stadium today as the Orioles and Pittsburgh Pirates met in the sixth game of the 1971 World Series

The chefs were Roberto Clemente of the Pirates and Frank Robinson of the Orioles—coincidentally, the leading hitters for their respective clubs in this flip-flop series which saw Baltimore win the first two games at home only to have Pittsburgh take three straight on the Tartan surface of Three Rivers Stadium

Clemente whose nine hits are four short of the series record started it when he blasted the Baltimore ballpark

'The conditions of this park are not up to major league standards said Clemente

There Are Ditches

It's hard to pick up the ball in the outfield because of the background There are ditches out there in right field'

Clemente said the conditions of the field affected the way he played

'You can't execute the way you're supposed to" the veteran Pittsburgh star said 'I like to play shallow, but in Baltimore there's no way you can play shallow If you do you misjudge the ball

Clemente claimed the Memorial Stadium outfield is bumpy in many spots

You run here it is high and then you take two steps and it is low he said as he indicated the fluctuations of the surface with a wave of his hand

Clemente said he talked to the Pittsburgh players following the two defeats at the start of the series in Baltimore

I said to them fellas we're going to a major league park now We'll show them that we're not as bad as people think we are'

Clemente's blast got a rise out of Robinson who had seven hits for the Orioles going into today's game

'He's supposed to be such a great outfielder' said Robinson he should be able to adjust to any park"

Clemente in his 17th season with the Pirates spent the first 15½ years playing in ancient Forbes Field and Robinson had something to say about conditions there

Ziegler Keys Polar Bears Past Berlin

Two Long TD Runs Aid Hortonville To 21-8 Victory

HORTONVILLE — John Ziegler galloped for touchdowns of 46 and 67 yards to aid Hortonville to a 21-8 victory over Berlin in East Central Conference action here Friday night.

Both teams now have identical 3-3 loop records.

After a scoreless first quarter, Ziegler gave the Polar Bears a 6-0 advantage with his 46-yard jaunt around right end. John Kruel added the PAT boot.

In the third segment, Berlin got on the board when Jim Hackney sprinted around right end en route to a 42-yard TD. Paul Krause's 2-point conversion run gave the losers an 8-7 lead with 8:11 left.

Less than two minutes later Hortonville went ahead to stay as Dean Pingel intercepted a Mike Bartol aerial and ran for a 17-yard touchdown. Ziegler's 2-point run made it 15-8.

Zender Leads PGA School Tournament

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Bob Zender, three-time Illinois state amateur golf champion and a Purdue University graduate, surged to the fifth-round lead Friday in the PGA Approved Player School Tournament with a 71 for a four-under-par, 90-hole total of 356.

Lanny Wadkins, the U.S. Amateur champion from Winston-Salem, N.C., fired a three-over-par 75 for a 357 total for second. Tom Watson of Kansas City, Mo., recorded a 71 for a third-place 358.

Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla., a Walker Cup player, carded a 67 for the lowest score of the tournament for 359 and a fourth-place tie with Samuel Adams and former national amateur champion Steve Melnyk of Jacksonville, Fla. Another former amateur titlist, Bruce Fleisher of Miami, was tied for ninth at 368.

Four withdrawals Friday trimmed the field to 66.

The low 23 scorers and ties following today's final round over the par-72 East Course of the PGA Golf Club will qualify for the professional tour.

one point in the second half.

The Pistons played without all-pro guard Dave Bing, who underwent surgery earlier Friday for a detached retina in his right eye.

The Warriors built a 43-37 halftime advantage against Boston, then pulled away by scoring the first 13 points in the second half. Boston missed its first 13 shots from the floor after intermission and went scoreless for the first 4:35 of the second half.

Jeff Mullins led the Warriors with 28 points, while Jo Jo White was high for the Celtics with 22. Boston's John Havlicek, the league's second highest scorer last season, managed only six points against Golden State.

Bob Love, game high scorer with 31 points, triggered an early Chicago outburst, collecting nine straight points in the first quarter, in the Bulls' romp over Baltimore. Chicago's defense held Baltimore's Earl Monroe to 10 points. Jack Marin led the Bullets with 20 points.

Haywood Hits

Spencer Haywood and Lenny Wilkens each scored 23 points for the Sonics as the Blazers suffered from erratic shooting. Seattle outscored Portland 69-40 in the second half. Sidney Wicks hit only five of 27 shots from the floor and had an unimpressive 13-point performance.

Giants' Coffey Out for Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Running back Junior Coffey has been placed on the injured reserve list and will miss the rest of the National Football League season, the New York Giants said Friday.

A Giants spokesman said Coffey has been suffering from a series of hamstring muscle pulls which have not responded to treatment. Defensive back Scott Eaton, currently on the taxi squad, probably will take Coffey's place on the roster, the Giants said.

Appleton East Girls Achieve Successful Net Campaign

Appleton East's girls tennis team recently concluded a successful campaign by finishing fifth in the state meet.

Led by Karen Crosby's runnerup finish in the singles competition, the Patriot girls compiled 10 points to tie Janesville Craig for fifth place. The only schools earning more points were Whitefish Bay (21), Nicolet (15), Wauwatosa West (15) and Oconomowoc (12).

Miss Crosby, an East transfer student, lost in the finals, 6-1, 7-6, to Wauwatosa Wests' Debbie Arps. Miss Crosby had won three matches — including a 6-3, 7-6 semi-finals win over Nicolet's Cindy Berger — to enter the finals.

Robin Rohloff, East's other singles player, won one match before losing to Betsy Blaney, the No. 1 seed.

The AHS-E doubles team, of Barb Sorcic and Sue Downey, lost in the first round to a Nicolet duo.

In the previous week's sectional meet, Miss Crosby won the title, Miss Rohloff finished fourth and the doubles team was third.

Panthers Whip Clints

OCONTO FALLS — The combination of Pat Hickey and Erv Tomalak in a powerful rushing attack proved to be too much for Clintonville to handle as Oconto Falls raced to a 27-0 win in Bay Conference action here Friday night.

Hickey, scoring a pair of touchdowns, and Tomalak, one, combined rushing efforts to stack up a total of 321 yards out of the total 361 team rushing yards.

Hickey's first TD and the first score of the game came on a 20-yard run in to the end zone. The conversion attempt was incomplete.

Tomalak came up with his first touchdown with :45 remaining in the second quarter, on a 6-yard dash over the goal line. The PAT was again unsuccessful.

In the third quarter, Tom Reim scored from three yards out to put Oconto Falls ahead 18-0. On the PAT attempt Reim passed to Dave Young for two more.

The final tally came in the fourth quarter on a 16-yard run by Hickey. Dick Jahnke booted the extra point to end the game at 27-0.

Oconto Falls completely dominated the test with a total of 21 first downs to the Trucks' seven. The winners totaled 376 yards, while holding the losers to 92, 50 of them on passing and 42 on rushing.

Oconto Falls boosted its record to 4-3, while Clintonville dropped to 1-6.

Says Falcons Will Tip LA

AP Writer Picks Vikings Over Bays

NEW YORK (AP) — Talking about the sweet smell of success. The 1971 National Football League season has been a bed of roses for the Washington Redskins while the Buffalo Bills have been playing in a rock garden.

This weekend the Redskins will smell victory for the fifth time in as many games while the Bills will catch the scent for the first time this season.

Thats how it looks from here, where the speciality is raising winning picks with a thumb whose green matches either grass or artificial turf.

Last week, we had a 9-4 record for a two-week mark of 16-9-1.

Washington 27, St. Louis 24—Washington's Curt Knight and Jim Baaken should get their kicks, but the Redskins' consistency gives them an edge over the Cardinals who run hot and cold.

Buffalo 31, New York Jets 21—The winless Bills have been shut out twice in a row and are hungry for a score. The points should come more easily against a New York defense missing end John Elliott and tackle Gerry Philbin

Baltimore 27, New York Giants 17—The Giants have been taking advantage of opponents mistakes but making plenty of their own. Baltimore doesn't make many mistakes.

Detroit 17, Houston 7—Shapes up as a good defensive game. Houston scared Kansas City and Washington and might scare the Lions, but the Oilers won't beat them.

Minnesota 24, Green Bay 14—Green Bay can run, but the Vikings have the best defense against the rush and they also like to do things to rookies, which is what Packers quarterback Scott Hunter is.

Cleveland 17, Cincinnati 10—Paul Brown will have Cincinnati sky high against the team he used to run, but the Browns figure to have too much savvy for the Bengals and rookie quarterback Ken Anderson.

Oakland 38, Philadelphia 3—The same old story. The Eagles opponent is solid, the Eagles aren't.

San Francisco 28, Chicago 16—Kent Nix has done wonders at quarterback for Chicago, but San Francisco's John Brodie is better and angry after losing to Los Angeles.

Denver 20, San Diego 17—Denver is tough at home and better than 0-3-1. San Diego is coming off a game, which it lost, with Kansas City, always a tough physical experience.

Atlanta 24, Los Angeles 21—Injuries, of which both clubs have several, records etc. aside, Norm Van Brocklin has a way of getting Atlanta up for teams he used to play with.

Dallas 35, New Orleans 17—Calvin Hill is out for two weeks with a knee injury, but the way Duane Thomas ran against the Giants Hill shouldn't be missed.

Miami 42, New England 14—Rookie quarterback Jim Plunkett has done wonders for New England, but this time the wonders cease

Kansas City 23, Pittsburgh 17—Pittsburgh is improving, but Kansas City is rolling and that's even better.

Houston Beats Villanova '11'

Gain 632 Yards Total Offense In 42-9 Triumph

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Cougars didn't have to worry about making the third down play Friday night against Villanova — they did it all on first down.

The Cougars oiled their famed ground gobbling offense with 632 yards total offense in burying the Wildcats 42-9 in a tuneup for next week's battle against unbeaten Alabama—and the big plays were on first down.

Robert Newhouse set the tempo. He ran 75 yards on the first offensive play of the game to get the rout in motion.

Later in Houston's 28-point first quarter, quarterback Gary Mullins ran 13 yards on first down for a touchdown and second string quarterback D. C. Nobles threw an 87-yard touchdown pass to Willie Roberts on first down.

Tough First Quarter

The nightmarish first quarter wilted the Wildcats, now 2-4, although they recovered enough for a four-yard touchdown pass from Drew Gordon to split end Mike Siani with 51 seconds remaining in the half. The Cats added two points on a safety in the fourth quarter.

Nobles' touchdown pass was the first completion of his college career.

Mishicot Unit Outruns All League Foes

REEDSVILLE — The Mishicot cross country team scored 46 points to win the Olympian Conference harrier meet for the second year in a row here Thursday.

Other team scores were: Brillion, 61; Valders, 88; Reedsville, 94; Hilbert, 117; Denmark, 124, and Freedom, 164

Mishicot's Tom Garceau ran second, while Dennis Abts of Denmark finished third.

Then Robinson went to work on the Tartan field at Pittsburgh.

"I don't like the artificial surfaces," he said. "I like natural playing fields. It's a different kind of game at Pittsburgh. You have to be wary when a ball is hit to you.

"It's tough in Baltimore," Robinson continued, "but I don't go around crying about it. I just do the best I can. Tell Clemente to sit it out if he doesn't like it. I'll get him a seat in the stands. Tell him to watch the way I play it."

Robinson was sure to be playing right field today as the Orioles battled for their lives against the Pirates, who were trying to become the first team in series history to win four straight games after dropping the first two.

Court Candidates Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversy over filling two Supreme Court vacancies is growing in intensity, with two Democratic senators accusing President Nixon of insulting and cheapening the court.

Sens Edward M Kennedy, D-Mass., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind., sharply criticized the caliber of nominees being considered even before any final selections have been made.

Although Nixon has said he would announce his choices next week to succeed Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan, signs developed that the list of potential candidates may be expanded and thus, delayed.

Check Abilities

So far the Justice Department has requested the American Bar Association's committee on the federal judiciary to investigate the qualifications of only six potential nominees

But administration spokesmen say they are not the only ones under consideration, and in the next few days the ABA panel may receive additional names to check out.

Kennedy, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said in a statement Friday that "no American who respects the Supreme Court and its role in our system of government can be silent in the face of the list of six potential justices" submitted to the ABA

"Surely, the compilation and submission of this list will rank as one of the great insults to the Supreme Court in its history," he said.

'Lack Excellence'

Bayh, also a Judiciary Committee member, criticized the six for "lack of excellence" and said the court was being degraded by what he termed a "political balancing act" in the selection process

He also accused Nixon of "playing an undignified little game with the Senate, the Supreme Court, and the people," saying this involved the floating of trial balloons about potential nominees.

Kennedy and Bayh were leaders in the fights that led to Senate rejection of two Southern judges, Clement F Haynsworth Jr and G. Harrold Carswell, who were nominated by Nixon for a previous court vacancy.

Bayh said he would like to avoid the kind of "donny-brooks" that developed over the Haynsworth and Carswell nominations because of their divisive effect on the country.

But he said "I am not going to play dead" if Nixon does not submit nominees with distinguished legal ability, unimpeachable personal integrity, and a demonstrated commitment to fundamental human rights."

Woman on Probation For Florida Abortion

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — Shirley Ann Wheeler, who faced a 20-year prison term for having an abortion, has been put on probation for two years and told to go home to North Carolina.

Felony Court Judge Uriel Blount told the 23-year-old housewife Friday that she must return to Morganton, N.C., in two weeks to live with relatives.

Mrs. Wheeler said the court order, which she described as "harsh and restrictive," will force her to leave 25-year-old Robert Wheeler, the man with whom she has been living, and under whose name she was charged.

'Can't Go'

"He can't go with me," said the longhaired strawberry blonde. "I was told I could stay in Florida if I got married, but I don't believe in marriage."

Mrs. Wheeler moved to Daytona Beach 3½ years ago after leaving her young son with relatives in Morganton.

"I will have to go back to Morganton and stay with my brother," she said. "I have to get a job and pay the state of Florida about $525 for my defense, and I'm not allowed to go out at night."

The 103-year-old Florida law under which Mrs. Wheeler was convicted in July makes it a felony to perform or have an abortion unless it is "necessary to protect the life and health of the mother," and is recommended by two doctors. The maximum sentence is the same as for manslaughter.

30 Days

Public Defender James S. At her trial, Mrs. Wheeler ad-30 days to decide whether to appeal the sentence.

At hr trial, Mrs. Wheeler admitted she paid $150 to have an illegal abortion in Jacksonville. She said she had the abortion because a doctor in Morganton had told her a pregnancy could be dangerous because she once had rheumatic fever. She did not name the doctor and the defense said he could not be found.

As she left the courthouse after sentencing Mrs. Wheeler said she would accept an invitation by the Women's National Abortion Action Coalition and join a demonstration against abortion laws in Washington on Nov. 20.

Asked if she planned to have any more children Mrs. Wheeler said: "I will never have another child. I don't want to bring one into this overpopulated world."

Hostages Die After Robbery

Cashier, Husband Found in Basement Of Indiana Home

FREMONT, Ind. (AP) — Police sought today intruders who held the assistant cashier of a bank and her husband hostage, robbed the bank where she worked of at least $25,000, authorities said, and then shot the couple to death.

Police throughout the Midwest sought the killers of Esther Ferguson, 50, who worked at the bank, and her ailing husband, Everett, 55, who was home recovering from a heart attack.

The couple was found in the basement of their home early Friday.

Steuben County Sheriff Ronald Parker said he believed at least one robber remained with Ferguson while Mrs Ferguson was taken to the bank where she worked. An estimated $25,000 was taken from a vault with a time lock, Parker said.

Authorities speculated that Mrs. Ferguson may have received a call at the bank from the robbers Thursday afternoon, saying they were holding her husband hostage.

Bank employes reported Mrs. Ferguson told them she had set the lock on the vault before leaving for home Thursday. It was earlier believed that only about $9,000 was taken from a smaller safe.

Ex-Convict Is Parole Officer

Washington State Conducts Program, Provides Opportunity

SEATTLE (AP) — Ex-convicts have no trouble making this parole officer understand their problems. He is an ex-con.

Larry Brooks, 30, was hired by the Washington State Office of Probation and Parole in 1968. On parole after serving five years of a 15-year sentence for burglary, he is one of two ex-convicts who are now probation officers.

The chief of the probation and parole office, Ellis Stout, says the program has worked well in its three years.

There have been 38 persons through the program since its start. Nineteen are still with the program, two as full probation officers and 17 as assistants. Most who left went to jobs that paid more than the position's $435 a month.

U.S. Program

The use of ex-prisoners as probation officers started under an Office of Economic Opportunity program.

"The idea was to hire poverty level people with the ability and drive to go somewhere, but who hadn't had the opportunity. We are looking for people who didn't have the educational background, but whom we thought we could train," Stout recalled.

"Then we thought, who could be more disadvantaged than an ex-offender? So we decided we might as well hire them," he added.

Brooks was in the first group of 10 men hired In the three years, he has gone to college part time and moved up from an assistant to full probation officer.

"They (parolees) accept an ex-con better than a regular parole officer," Brooks said. "But it depends on the individual and the relationship the man can set up with the ex-convict. He might accept the ex-con quicker, but, in the end, you still have to work out a relationship.

The prison experience, Stout said, is less valuable than the qualities of emotional maturity, the ability to communicate and an empathy for the parolees.

Vice President to Visit Greece, Confer With Military Leaders

PERSEPOLIS, Iran (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew flies today to Greece, "the country of my ancestors," for talks with the military leaders after conferring with the country's exiled monarch, King Constantine II.

The trip has brought unprecedented reaction from groups opposed to the Greek government, which seized power in a coup in April 1967 Leaders of the regime, however, have interpreted Agnew's official visit as a gesture of support for their policies.

Agnew spent 70 minutes Friday conferring in Persepolis with Constantine, the self-exiled king who has not seen Athens in nearly four years

'Very Cordial'

"The meeting was very cordial and very informative," the vice president said. He added that Constantine requested the meeting.

He would not discuss the substance of his talks with the king, who now maintains his residence in Rome, nor would he say whether he carried to Athens any message or information for the military government of Premier George Papadopoulos.

It will be Agnew's first visit to the land where his father was born Theofrastos Spiro Anagnostopoulos. The vice president is to go Tuesday to Gargalianoi, the village his father left in 1911 for the United States.

The mission is complex because U.S. policy has been to treat the current regime cooly while seeking to encourage a return to constitutional government. Constantine fled from Greece after an attempted countercoup against the military regime failed.

Diplomatic sources say the vice president has no intention of "cajoling", the Greek leaders. The primary purpose of his meetings, they say, will be to review Greece's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and to discuss the possibility of reaching a solution to the Cyprus problem.

Groups opposed to the Athens regime have flooded foreign newsmen with open letters to Agnew, charging Washington has supported the military government since its first days.

The state-controlled radio and television network has used the trip as the lead story on every news broadcast for the past week.

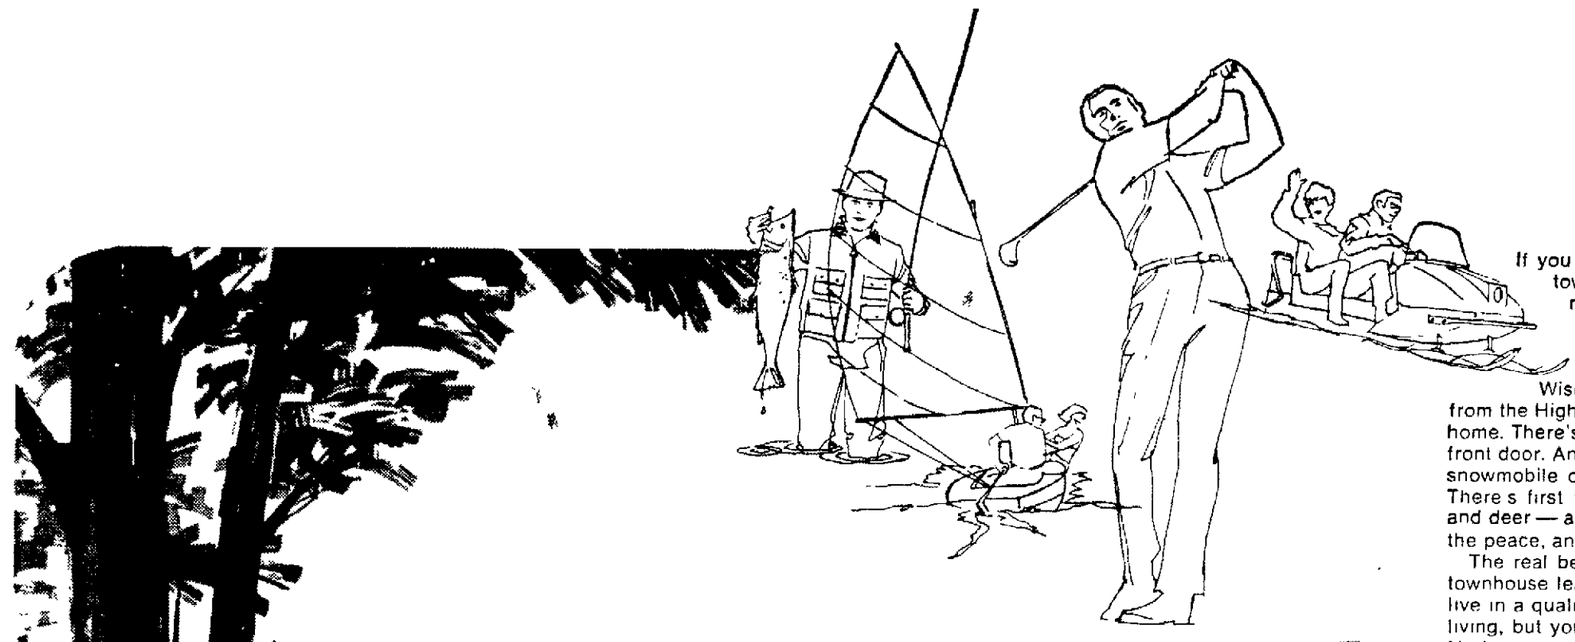

Agnew also conferred in Persepolis with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, just back from a visit to Communist China. President Nixon plans to go to mainland China before next May, and the vice president's talks presumably covered Selassie's visit to Peking.

The $150,000 unit was begun last November.

The Rev. Dr. Lloyd H. Goetz, president of the North Wisconsin District of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, will be the speaker. His message is "Looking Up To The Shepherd of the Hills." The Rev. Philip Hanson, pastor, will be the liturgist.

The nave of the Church seats 344 people. Included in the lower half of the building is the pastor's office, altar care room, conference room, mothers' room and choir cove. The mechanical room, a storage room and the restrooms are in the northeast corner of the building.

At present only the the front half of the nave is used for worship services. The rear half is divided into seven classrooms for Sunday school. Future plans included a Christian education building to the north of the present building. The nave will then be used entirely for worship.

With two services on Sunday morning and a Monday evening worship service, the present arrangement adequately serves the 280 member congregation.

Members of the congregation have made considerable contributions of time and talent to the building program. The painintg was done entirely by volunteers.

Men of the parish, led by Don Schmidt, shingled the roof. Used pews were purchased, and under the direction of Walter Hoewisch, were completely refinished. Richard Peters is making the pulpit, altar, baptismal font, communion railing and chancel wall cross. Ralph Puuri and Eugene Atkinson constructed the cross and verticals on the south end of the building.

The software for all four liturgical seasons was made by Mrs. Ralph Poepke. The landscaping will be done by the members. Many more of the members have offered many hours of work to complete the house of worship.

An opportunity for visitors and guests to tour the building will be provided after the worship service during the fellowship hour. Light refreshments will be served.

Bethany Church To Have Chili Day

KAUKAUNA — The Ladies Guild of Bethany Lutheran Church has organized a chili day, Thursday. Serving time is from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m.

Items on the menu in addition to chili will be hot beef, hot dogs, beverages, homemade pies and cakes and ice cream. Chili will also be sold but patrons are asked to bring their own containers.

Other stands will include a country store featuring a variety of homemade items, a Christmas card and cookbook booth and a fish pond for children. Proceeds from the affair will be used for various projects.

Tickets are being sold by seventh and eighth grade pupils. Earlier this month a problem arose with unknown youngsters selling counterfeit tickets to a chili supper. These tickets are printed professionally.

Underground Evangelism Film Slated

The Rev. Benjamin Moore,

Moore

pastor of St. John United Church of Christ, Wisconsin Rapids, will represent the organization formed to reach behind the Iron Curtain countries with Christian literature.

The 35-minute film portrays the life of Christians in communist lands today.

A professional photographer, with minimum equipment was sent into Russia as a common tourist. The result was the behind-the-scenes shots of the problems and life of the Christians.

Shown also is Underground Evangelism's Bible press in Western Europe, where thousands of pocket-size "smuggling" Bibles and other literature is printed for distribution behind the Iron Curtain.

An actual border crossing is shown to demonstrate the Bible-smuggling ministry.

Moore served for 22 years in the armed services, and was stationed in both Korea and Vietnam. After service, he went to Taiwan as a missionary and began five Chinese churches and a Christian servicemen's center, raising all the needed funds himself. It was while in Taiwan that he realized the religious needs behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

Celibacy Stays Official Synod Report States

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A majority of delegates who have spoken at the third World Bishops' Synod opposed ordaining married men to the Roman Catholic priesthood, an official synod report said today.

The report, prepared by Vicente Cardinal Enriquey Tarancon of Spain, did not give any figures but said "a majority" feared the establishment of a first class and second class priesthood if married men were ordained.

The cardinal's report, midway through the month-long synod, also confirmed that only a handful of speakers suggested the readmission to the ministry of priests who had defected to marry. A similarly small group favored a role for women in the Catholic ministry, the report said.

The document was a summing-up of discussion on practical aspects of the priesthood, the synod's first topic. The 209-member body will continue to debate the priesthood until the middle of next week, when it will turn to the second theme, social justice.

All Have Spoken

Almost all synod delegates have spoken in the closed session, with the Vatican and briefing officers giving only excerpts of what has been said.

Eventually, the synod will vote on resolutions on what to change and what to keep of present priestly regulations, including celibacy.

"The majority holds," the Spanish cardinal said, "that ordaining married men would not only fail to be a solution of fundamental problems but would, rather, bring about other and more serious problems in the church."

He spoke of "a lessened mobility of priests living in marriage ... and lessened capacity for missionary work."

"There then would arise a dual ministry of first and second class priests and that would bring with it very serious consequences that would affect today's priests, seminaries and future vocations."

Split Issue

The minority that favored ordination of married men was split into two groups, the cardinal reported. He said the smaller group felt that married priests would make a new and positive contribution to the church, "showing today's world truly new values."

Pope Paul has said that he would reluctantly consider allowing mature married men to become priests in some priest-short countries. The report showed that a majority in the synod is now counseling him against this.

The report upheld Pope

St. Paul, Wittenberg, To Observe 90th Year

WITTENBERG — St. Paul Lutheran Church will observe the 90th anniversary of organization today and Sunday, with a number of special features planned.

At 8 p.m. tonight, there will be a vesper service with the Rev. Donald Wesener, of Gleason, formerly of Tigerton, as the special speaker. He served St. Paul as interim pastor in 1967. It will be followed by a fellowship hour.

On Sunday, the regular 8:15 a.m. service will feature special music by the Sunday school children and the choir. The pastor will deliver the sermon.

All classes will meet in the parsonage for the Sunday school session, with special movies presented. A coffee and fellowship hour is set from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m. There will be no worship service at 10:30 a.m.

A dinner from 11:30 to 2 p.m. will be served by the Ladies aid, with tickets available at the door.

Climaxing the anniversary event will be a 3 p.m. service with the Rev. Edwin C. Beversdorf, Rockford, Ill., as the featured speaker. He was the student pastor in 1929 and is married to Emily Fierke, daughter of the former pastor. Built on a Rock" is the theme for the festivities.

2 Episcopalian Dioceses Plan Merger Talks

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Episcopalians are discussing the possibility of reuniting their two Wisconsin dioceses into one large division.

Under the plan which will be considered by church bodies in the next few weeks, the Milwaukee diocese and the Eau Claire diocese—split from Milwaukee in 1928—would merge to form the Diocese of Wisconsin.

The Milwaukee Diocesan Council will take up the proposal Oct. 22-23 in Madison and the Eau Claire Diocesan Council will take it up next month.

The merger would have to be approved by both dioceses and by Bishops Donald Hallock of Milwaukee and Stanley Atkins of Eau Claire, plus a majority of Episcopal bishops throughout the nation.

The Milwaukee diocese has baptized membership of 25,168 men, women and children, while in there are only 4,000 members in the Eau Claire diocese.

Assembly of God, Kaukauna, Sets Missionary Convention

KAUKAUNA — A local missionary convention, featuring three speakers, will be held Sunday through Tuesday at the Assembly of God here. The Rev. Walter Tyson is pastor.

Olson

Dwelle

Miss Peterson

The 10:30 a.m. service Sunday will feature the Rev. and Mrs. Arland Dwelle, newly-appointed home missionaries who recently moved to the Kiel-New Holstein area to organize a church there.

Miss Ruby Peterson, who has spent two terms on the missions of Nigeria, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Her first term was spent in analyzing and reducing the Bette language to writing. During her second term she began a literacy program for the Bette people and translated the books of Mark and the Acts as well as the Sunday school lessons for pastors and teachers.

The Rev. Lawrence Olson, a missionary from Brazil, will conclude the convention at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Dwelles are both graduates of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., and for two years participated in pioneering new churchs in Illinois. For the past three years Dwelle has been studying at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Ill.

Miss Peterson was graduated from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo., and attended the Institute of Linguistics at the University of Oklahoma, before going into the mission fields.

Olson has spent 33 years in Brazil. He instituted an Assemblies of God radio broadcast in 1947, a ministry which he still continues over a number of Brazilian stations. The Rio Bible Institute, which trains Christian workers for pastoral, evangelistic and teaching duties, also was founded by him.

He is a graduate of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., and attended Northern Baptist Seminary in Chicago. A native of Wisconsin, he pastored churches in Portage and Appleton and helped set up the Assembly of God here.

St. John Parsonage Groundbreaking Set

A groundbreaking ceremony for a parsonage for St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church, State 47, will be at 10:30 p.m. Sunday following the regular service.

The Rev. Arden Wood, Black Creek, is serving as the interim pastor.

Court Candidates Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversy over filling two Supreme Court vacancies is growing in intensity, with two Democratic senators accusing President Nixon of insulting and cheapening the court.

Sens Edward M Kennedy, D-Mass., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind., sharply criticized the caliber of nominees being considered even before any final selections have been made

Although Nixon has said he would announce his choices next week to succeed Hugo L. Black and John M Harlan, signs developed that the list of potential candidates may be expanded and thus, delayed

Check Abilities

So far the Justice Department has requested the American Bar Association's committee on the federal judiciary to investigate the qualifications of only six potential nominees

But administration spokesmen say they are not the only ones under consideration, and in the next few days the ABA panel may receive additional names to check out

Kennedy, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said in a statement Friday that "no American who respects the Supreme Court and its role in our system of government can be silent in the face of the list of six potential justices" submitted to the ABA

"Surely, the compilation and submission of this list will rank as one of the great insults to the Supreme Court in its history," he said

'Lack Excellence'

Bayh, also a Judiciary Committee member, criticized the six for "lack of excellence" and said the court was being degraded by what he termed a "political balancing act" in the selection process.

He also accused Nixon of "playing an undignified little game with the Senate, the Supreme Court, and the people," saying this involved the floating of trial balloons about potential nominees.

Kennedy and Bayh were leaders in the fights that led to Senate rejection of two Southern judges, Clement F Haynsworth Jr and G. Harrold Carswell, who were nominated by Nixon for a previous court vacancy.

Bayh said he would like to avoid the kind of "donny-brooks" that developed over the Haynsworth and Carswell nominations because of their divisive effect on the country.

But he said "I am not going to play dead" if Nixon does not submit nominees with distinguished legal ability, unimpeachable personal integrity, and a demonstrated commitment to fundamental human rights."

Woman on Probation For Florida Abortion

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — Shirley Ann Wheeler, who faced a 20-year prison term for having an abortion, has been put on probation for two years and told to go home to North Carolina

Felony Court Judge Uriel Blount told the 23-year-old housewife Friday that she must return to Morganton, N.C., in two weeks to live with relatives

Mrs. Wheeler said the court order, which she described as "harsh and restrictive," will force her to leave 25-year-old Robert Wheeler, the man with whom she has been living, and under whose name she was charged.

'Can't Go'

"He can't go with me," said the longhaired strawberry blonde "I was told I could stay in Florida if I got married, but I don't believe in marriage."

Mrs Wheeler moved to Daytona Beach 3½ years ago after leaving her young son with relatives in Morganton.

"I will have to go back to Morganton and stay with my brother," she said. "I have to get a job and pay the state of Florida about $525 for my defense, and I'm not allowed to go out at night."

The 103-year-old Florida law under which Mrs Wheeler was convicted in July makes it a felony to perform or have an abortion unless it is "necessary to protect the life and health of the mother," and is recommended by two doctors. The maximum sentence is the same as for manslaughter.

30 Days

Public Defender James S. At her trial, Mrs. Wheeler ad- 30 days to decide whether to appeal the sentence.

At hr trial, Mrs. Wheeler admitted she paid $150 to have an illegal abortion in Jacksonville. She said she had the abortion because a doctor in Morganton had told her a pregnancy could be dangerous because she once had rheumatic fever. She did not name the doctor and the defense said he could not be found

As she left the courthouse after sentencing Mrs. Wheeler said she would accept an invitation by the Women's National Abortion Action Coalition and join a demonstration against abortion laws in Washington on Nov. 20.

Asked if she planned to have any more children Mrs. Wheeler said: "I will never have another child. I don't want to bring one into this overpopulated world."

Hostages Die After Robbery

Cashier, Husband Found in Basement Of Indiana Home

FREMONT, Ind. (AP) — Police sought today intruders who held the assistant cashier of a bank and her husband hostage, robbed the bank where she worked of at least $25,000, authorities said, and then shot the couple to death.

Police throughout the Midwest sought the killers of Esther Ferguson, 50, who worked at the bank, and her ailing husband, Everett, 55, who was home recovering from a heart attack.

The couple was found in the basement of their home early Friday.

Steuben County Sheriff Ronald Parker said he believed at least one robber remained with Ferguson while Mrs Ferguson was taken to the bank where she worked. An estimated $25,000 was taken from a vault with a time lock, Parker said.

Authorities speculated that Mrs. Ferguson may have received a call at the bank from the robbers Thursday afternoon, saying they were holding her husband hostage.

Bank employes reported Mrs. Ferguson told them she had set the lock on the vault before leaving for home Thursday. It was earlier believed that only about $9,000 was taken from a smaller safe.

Ex-Convict Is Parole Officer

Washington State Conducts Program, Provides Opportunity

SEATTLE (AP) — Ex-convicts have no trouble making this parole officer understand their problems. He is an ex-con.

Larry Brooks, 30, was hired by the Washington State Office of Probation and Parole in 1968. On parole after serving five years of a 15-year sentence for burglary, he is one of two ex-convicts who are now probation officers.

The chief of the probation and parole office, Ellis Stout, says the program has worked well in its three years.

There have been 38 persons through the program since its start. Nineteen are still with the program, two as full probation officers and 17 as assistants. Most who left went to jobs that paid more than the position's $435 a month.

U.S. Program

The use of ex-prisoners as probation officers started under an Office of Economic Opportunity program.

"The idea was to hire poverty level people with the ability and drive to go somewhere, but who hadn't had the opportunity. We are looking for people who didn't have the educational background, but whom we thought we could train," Stout recalled.

"Then we thought, who could be more disadvantaged than an ex-offender? So we decided we might as well hire them," he added.

Brooks was in the first group of 10 men hired. In the three years, he has gone to college part time and moved up from an assistant to full probation officer.

"They (parolees) accept an ex-con better than a regular parole officer," Brooks said "But it depends on the individual and the relationship the man can set up with the ex-convict. He might accept the ex-con quicker, but, in the end, you still have to work out a relationship

The prison experience, Stout said, is less valuable than the qualities of emotional maturity, the ability to communicate and an empathy for the parolees.

Vice President to Visit Greece, Confer With Military Leaders

PERSEPOLIS, Iran (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew flies today to Greece, "the country of my ancestors," for talks with the military leaders after conferring with the country's exiled monarch, King Constantine II

The trip has brought unprecedented reaction from groups opposed to the Greek government, which seized power in a coup in April 1967 Leaders of the regime, however, have interpreted Agnew's official visit as a gesture of support for their policies

Agnew spent 70 minutes Friday conferring in Persepolis with Constantine, the self-exiled king who has not seen Athens in nearly four years

'Very Cordial'

"The meeting was very cordial and very informative," the vice president said. He added that Constantine requested the meeting

He would not discuss the substance of his talks with the king, who now maintains his residence in Rome, nor would he say whether he carried to Athens any message or information for the military government of Premier George Papadopoulos.

It will be Agnew's first visit to the land where his father was born Theofrastos Spiro Anagnostopoulos The vice president is to go Tuesday to Gargalianoi, the village his father left in 1911 for the United States

The mission is complex because U S policy has been to treat the current regime cooly while seeking to encourage a return to constitutional government. Constantine fled from Greece after an attempted countercoup against the military regime failed.

Diplomatic sources say the vice president has no intention of "cajoling", the Greek leaders. The primary purpose of his meetings, they say, will be to review Greece's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and to discuss the possibility of reaching a solution to the Cyprus problem.

Groups opposed to the Athens regime have flooded foreign newsmen with open letters to Agnew, charging Washington has supported the military government since its first days

The state-controlled radio and television network has used the trip as the lead story on every news broadcast for the past week

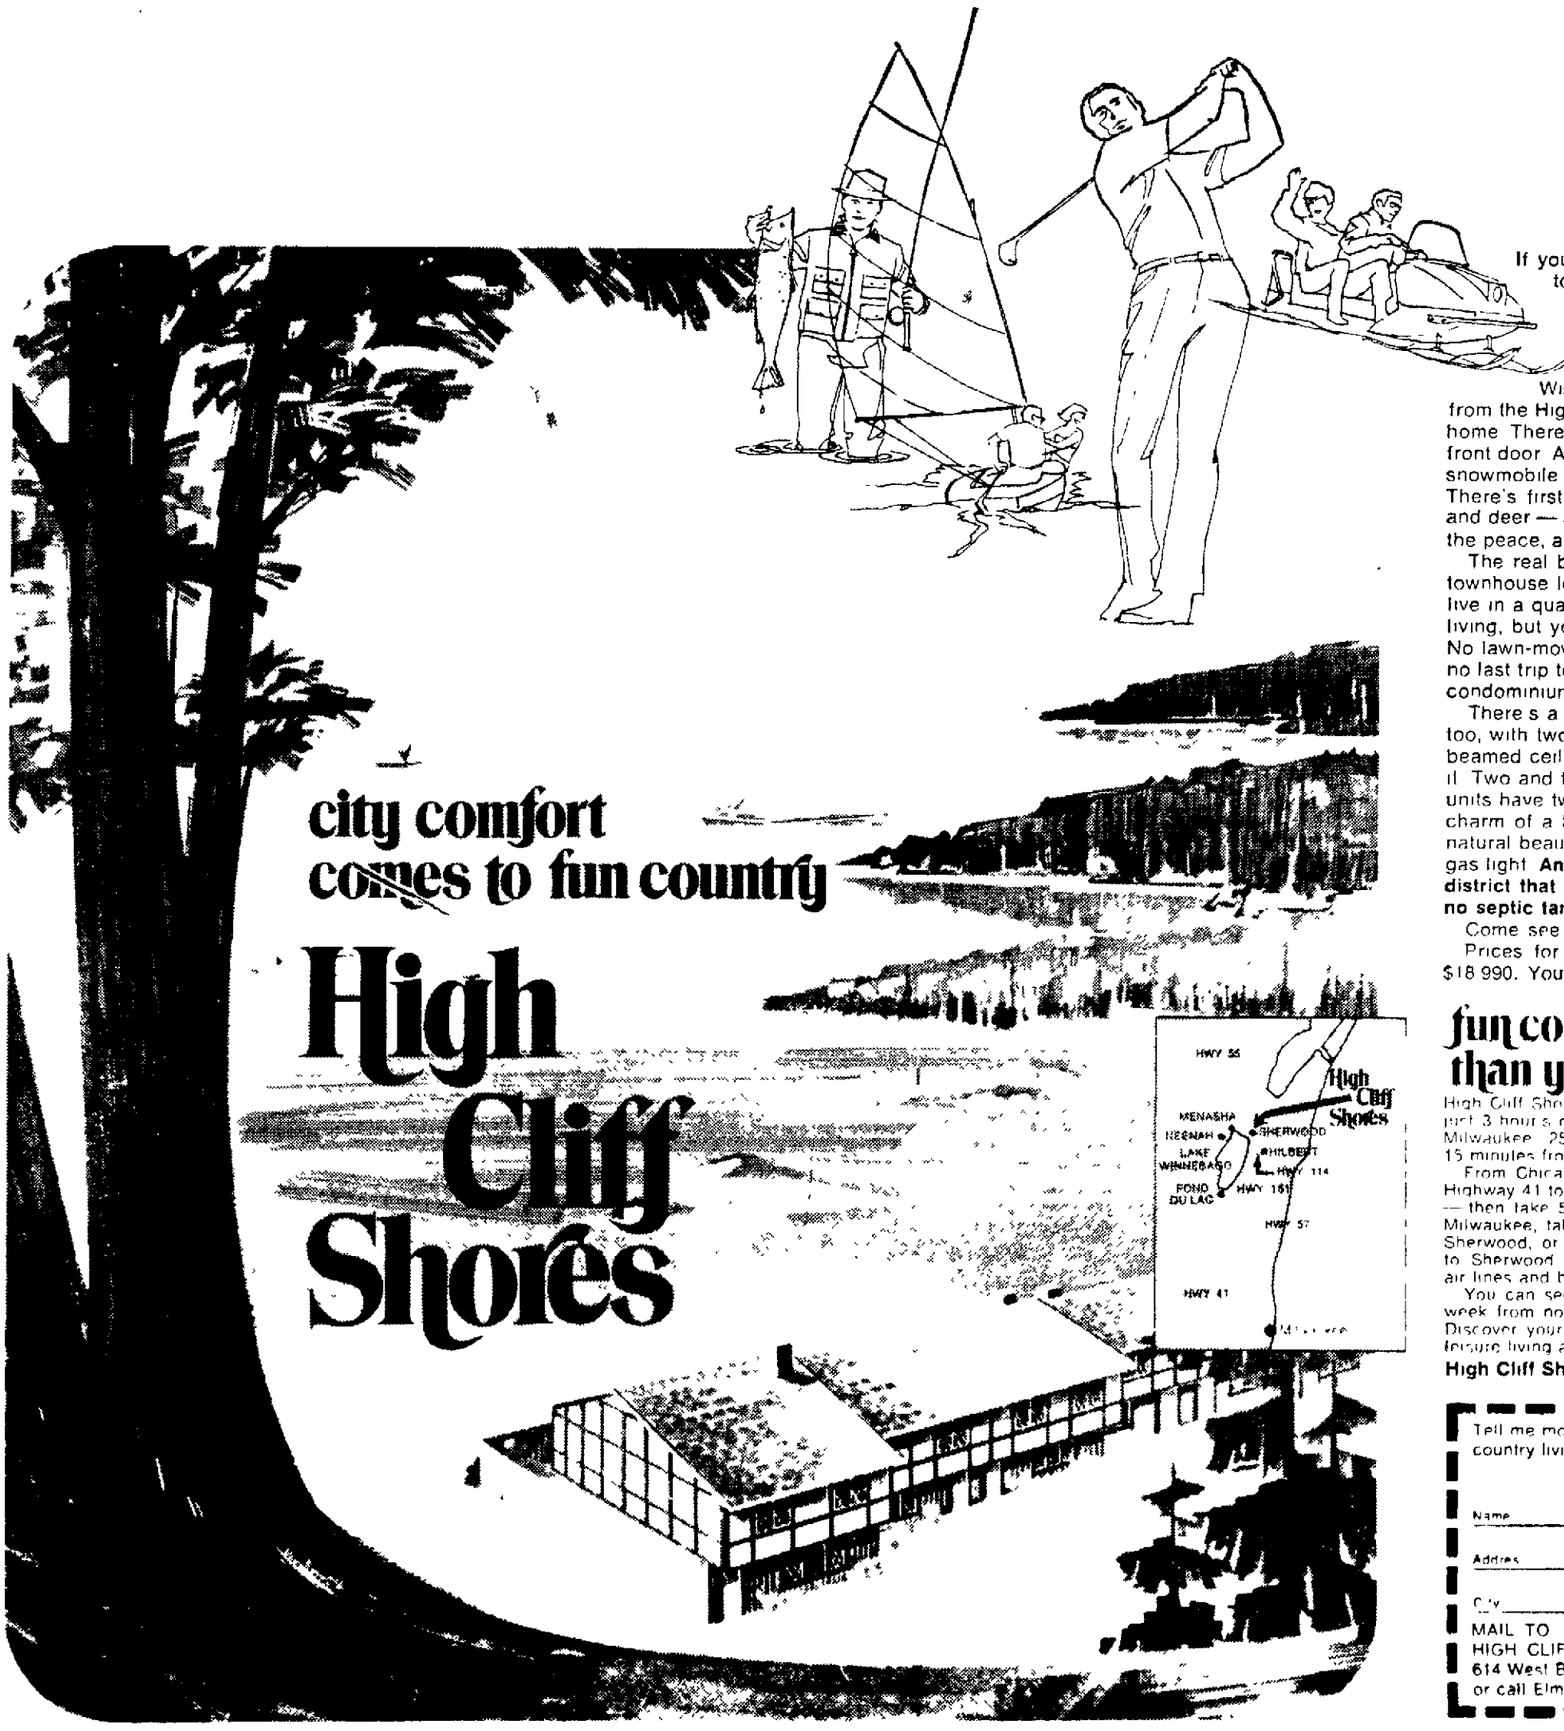

Agnew also conferred in Persepolis with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, just back from a visit to Communist China. President Nixon plans to go to mainland China before next May, and the vice president's talks presumably covered Selassie's visit to Peking.

Legislating Morality

From time to time we have expressed doubts about the attempt to use the law to establish or maintain attitudes or actions considered to be moral or, more often, to attempt to restrain immoral actions through legislation.

Recently, on network television, commentator Howard K. Smith, generally considered conservative in opinions, suggested legalizing prostitution, gambling and even drug use. Such actions, he argued, would serve at least to do away with crimes committed for these particular frailties of mankind. Pimps would no longer be needed and prostitutes would be supervised as to cleanliness. Gambling could bring in needed tax monies, as it does in some states. The drug addict would not have to steal or commit other serious crimes to maintain his habit. Mr. Smith conceded that his advice was unlikely to be taken and we agree; our Puritan heritage is too strong.

But what is the relation of law and morality?

In a recent, well thought out and documented pamphlet on abortion, Robert Byrn, professor of law at Fordham University School of Law, quotes from On Law and Justice by Dr. Paul Freud that "the great fundamental guarantees of the Constitution are, after all, moral standards wrapped in legal commands," and that "morality and law stand in a reciprocal relation. Moral attitudes and standards may themselves be a product of law." Professor Byrn turns this around to say that "law and morality interact with each other. Morality is a source of law."

While Professor Byrn's pamphlet deals almost completely with abortion, an issue that has many more ramifications than its relationship to law, morality and the varied opinions of individuals concerning it, the relationship of law and morality must be carefully considered before statutes are passed. It seems obvious that such consideration is not always met.

The 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution appears to be the most obvious failure in this country to legislate morality, or at least what one particular group of people — prohibitionists — considered to be a morality. But Professor Byrn, again citing Dr. Freud, argues that "it ultimately appeared that prohibitionists opposed drinking not so much for the pain it caused to society or to the drinker, but for the pleasure which the drinker derived from it." Thus if the aim of legislation is only to prohibit some form of pleasure, it can be considered wrong. But if the aim is to prevent the results of that pleasure — say illegitimate children — it might be considered all right.

Nevertheless, had the prohibitionists' true intention been to halt the broken homes, the degredation, the beaten wives and children, the wasted lives which may come from alcoholism, the 18th Amendment would have been just as great a failure as it turned out to be. And although the incidence of alcoholism did not increase with the amendment, the side effects — rum running and racketeering, for instance — could be attributed directly to the 18th Amendment and might well have served to balance the evils that already existed because of the abuse of alcohol.

A major problem of legislation concerning morals is the effect of what some people consider immoral behavior. Does reading a pornographic book lead to rape? Does the availability of contraceptives lead to sexual intercourse outside of marriage? Or, in both cases, is it the other way around?

We agree with Mr. Byrn that moral beliefs lead to certain laws — the outlawing of capital punishment or any "cruel and unusual punishment," for instance. Doubts over when human life begins make important some sort of regulations concerning abortion. But when legislation is employed to try to order certain types of behavior considered by legislators or their constituents as particularly moral, there is little evidence that it can be remotely successful. Perhaps the fact that laws against cohabitation are on the books might deter the timid from illicit sexual activities. But when such laws are unenforceable, the much more serious effect is the development of lack of respect for law itself. Even when the aim of Wisconsin's anti-gambling legislation is to keep out the evils of the rackets and their side effects rather than to keep anyone from betting, there must be doubts about its overall results. Such laws as those against contraceptives are of course ridiculous.

Professor Byrn sees abortion on demand as a foot in the door toward legalizing infanticide and euthanasia and he may be right. But when laws are unenforceable and deal with the activities of "consenting adults" they should be enacted with great restraint. It also should be noted that infanticide and euthanasia — and perhaps abortion — involve someone more than a consenting adult.

Cut-Back on Pep Pills

The new law which makes amphetamines — the pep or diet pills — harder to get seems to be having its effects, even if a black market in the pills does develop.

According to spot checks among druggists, sales have gone down a remarkable fifty per cent. Doctors in general also seem less inclined to prescribe the amphetamines and a prescription, renewed in person by the patient, is required for legally obtaining the drugs.

It also seems likely that the amount of publicity given to the dangers of psychological addiction and other harmful side effects to amphetamines may have made some difference. It was accepted that many university students, for instance, took pep pills to stay awake during exam time. The use of dangerous drugs, other than marijuana which may not be necessarily so classified anyway, appears to have dropped among students. The dangers of LSD and heroin in particular have been noted and the work of agencies like drug abuse centers, hot lines for help, the Jesus freaks, apparently have persuaded many young people to shake the habit even under considerable difficulties.

There also appears to be some turning away from artificial means of adjusting to society. A decade or so ago various tranquilizing drugs were extolled as the answer to practically every problem and probably were overprescribed, even by the medical profession. They still have legitimate purpose in dealing with many mental and emotional illnesses or disturbances and have helped in reducing the percentage of people who must be confined to institutions. But they have not turned out to be the 1984 drug that cured all aches, pains and anxieties. It has been pointed out that stress of a sort may be a necessary ingredient in the lives of some people. The repeal of the 18th Amendment didn't solve all problems for all Americans either. Concern that advertising pill popping might be influencing young people to believe there could be salvation in drugs has made some difference in that area too although some companies, notably those in the various aspirin manufacturing industries, don't seem to have caught the message yet.

The fact is that while our scientific advances have massively reduced the dangers of many illnesses, including emotional ones, merely finding the right pill isn't always the answer. Obesity is dangerous but can be caused by poor eating habits or a seeking for security. Stress is not always to be avoided. The young Americans who indulge in drugs before they go into combat in Vietnam may become as dangerous to their buddies and themselves as are the Viet Cong.

There may develop a black market in amphetamines as the legal outlets dry up. One way to check will be to scrutinize the output of the manufacturing companies which are already on record as running much higher than medical prescriptions would indicate they should.

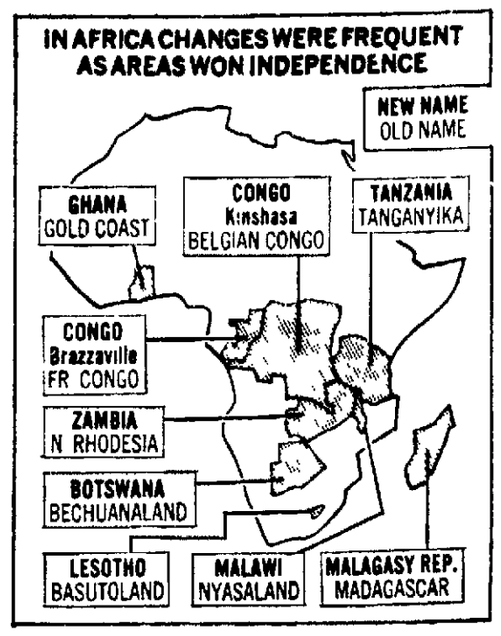

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

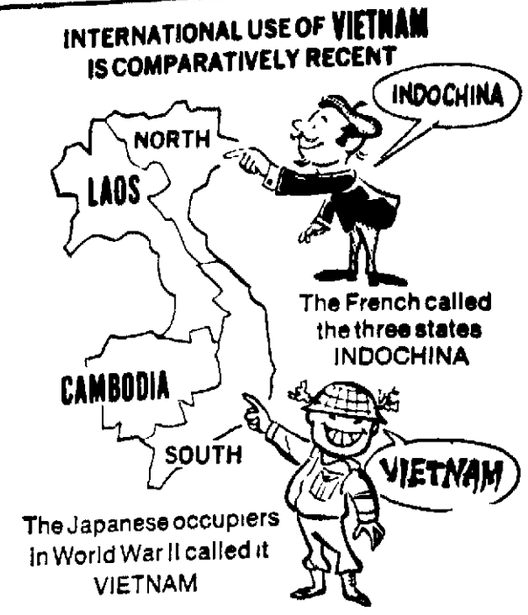

A number of countries and cities have undergone changes over the past 25 years and some have two or three titles.

Pity the Harried Cartographer

BY BEN BASSETT
AP Foreign News Editor

Soon the pilgrims will be going again to Bethlehem.

Arab Christians call it Bayt Lahm. The Israelis, who control the area, use the Hebrew term Beit Lehem.

And Brazil's city of the same name uses the Portuguese word Belem.

That illustrates the world's language differences, but it is only part of the problem of identifying places in the news. Many have undergone changes in the past 25 years; some places are known two or three ways.

Take the two Chinas, the big one based at Peking and the Nationalist regime on Taiwan.

The early Portuguese called this island Formosa, meaning beautiful, and that name survived into the era when U.S. warships began guarding Formosa Strait. But in recent years, "Taiwan" became standard in international usage; it is accepted by both Peking and Taipei capital of the island regime.

Different Meaning

The Nationalists on Taiwan, incidentally, speak of Peking as Peiping. The U.S. State Department did likewise until a few years ago. Peking means "northern capital," Peiping "northern peace."

International use of "Vietnam" is comparatively recent. The area was defined earlier by its parts, Tonkin, Annam and Cochin China. The French, who came to rule there, decided that these three states plus Laos constituted the Indochina Union. The area became known as Indochina, but the Japanese occupiers of World War II set up the bounds of Tonkin, Annam and Cochin China as the "autonomous region of Vietnam." It became North and South Vietnam while French rule was being banished in the '50s.

Another divided nation, Korea, was ruled by the Japanese 1910-45. They called it Chosen; earlier under the Yi dynasty it was known for centuries as Chaohsien or Choson.

English Varient

When the Indonesians banished the Dutch, they lost little time changing the capital from Batavia to Djakarta; an English variant is Jakarta.

The country once known as Siam has been called Thailand 32 years, but on most maps the adjoining waters are still the Gulf of Siam. A country can call itself what it wishes, but international waters remain a map-maker's realm.

Malaysia emerged eight years ago as a combination of Malaya, Singapore and other areas; Singapore broke away in 1965 and is a separate nation.

Changes were frequent as African areas won independence from colonial powers. Ghana was formerly the Gold Coast, Malawi was Nyasaland, and before that British Central Africa. Zambia was Northern Rhodesia; Botswana was Buchuanaland; Lesotho was Basutoland, Tanzania emerged in 1964 as an amalgam of Tanganyika, Zanzibar and Pemba.

The colony known as Madagascar when it was under French rule has become the Malagasy Republic, but geographically the main island is still Madagascar.

Two Congos

There are two Congos; the United Nations differentiates by calling them after their capitals, Congo Kinshasa and Congo Brazzaville. The former is the one most people know as "the Congo." Its capital, Kinshasa, used to be Leopoldville.

In South America, British Guiana became Guyana in 1966.

Many of the names we use for foreign places are English equivalents of names spelled differently in the original language. The place known to Germans as "Koln," with an umlaut mark over the "o," is Cologne in English. The city Italians call Livorno is Leghorn. It's Wien to Austrians; Vienna to Americans.

We know Praha as Prague and Moskva as Moscow. In Quebec you may find that the city known as Trois Rivieres to French-Canadians is Three Rivers to many who speak English.

Northern Ireland, a disputed area ruled by the United Kingdom (usually called Britain), is also known as Ulster and the Six Counties. The latter term comes from the fact that many in the Irish Republic or Ireland, also known as Eire, consider Ulster's counties to be Ireland's.

Quick Changes

Sometimes changes in personalities bring new names. In Russia, for instance, the city of Tsaritsyn became Stalingrad for 30 years, then Volgograe, St. Petersburg became Petrograd, then Leningrad.

Thanks to Stalin, the city the Russians called Tiflis is again Tbilsi. That's in Georgia, the Georgia that is part of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, common called the Soviet Union or U.S.S.R. Stalin came from Georgia and that let the people of Tbilsi get back their original name. Incidentally, the name Russia is often erroneously applied to that country as a whole; the Russian Federation is only one of its units, albeit the main one.

People in the Dominican Republic — not to be confused with the island Dominica — changed their capital back from Ciudad Trujillo to Santo Domingo when dictator Rafael Trujillo died. In Cambodia, the successors to Prince Norodom Sihanouk changed Sihanoukville to Kompong Som.

Iran was formerly Persia, and most Iranians don't object if you use the historic name. Iraq was Mesopotamia. Jordan was Transjordan. The capital city of Finland, Helsinki, used to be known by the Swedish name Helsingfors.

Wars and conquest of territory have resulted in many changes of spellings.

Reverted Back

Danzig, long contested between Poles and Germans, reverted to Gdansk when Poland regained it in 1945. Wroclaw was restored to Polish rule after a 200-year link with Germany, which called it Breslau. The town the Germans ruled as Stettin took back the name Szczecin.

Long ago the Romans decided to turn Byzantium into Constantinople, in honor of Constantine I, but the modern Turkish republic made it Istanbul in 1930.

There are quirks in spellings. The largest city in the Canadian province of New Brunswick is officially Saint John. The refusal to abbreviate "saint" helps it differentiate St. Johns, in Newfoundland. But the river that meets the sea at Saint John is called the St. John.

The building of a new capital city called Brasilia provided an oddity. The country that is officially Brasil in its Portuguese derivation is spelled Brazil in English because "z" brings the pronunciation closer. But when Brasilia came into being in the '50s, nobody thought it necessary to spell it Brazilia. An American might write "Brasilia, Brazil," but hardly anyone does; generally the city stands alone because it's distinctive.

Burglars Chased, But Get Away

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Oct. 12, 1871.

Last Friday evening our night watchman gave chase to some burglars who were prowling around our city "seeking whom they might devour."

They were heard first in the vicinity of Malone's Jewelry Store. Upon the approach of one of the watchmen, a man was seen to retreat to the rear of the buildings in that block.

Patrick Golden started in pursuit, ordering him to halt. The command was disobeyed, whereupon a shot was fired after him by the officer, without taking effect.

The chase was continued for two blocks north, where the pursued was joined by two of his associates. The night, being quite dark, the desperadoes succeeded in making good their escape.

25 YEARS AGO
Saturday, Oct. 12, 1946.

Joseph Haag, Appleton, was to preside at the district meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters in New London. More than 150 members were expected to attend. Hosts of the meeting were New London Foresters, J. W. Schoenhaar, chief ranger, and his committee composed of Edward Jagoditsch, P. J. Dernbach, Harry Lemke, Steve Visocky and J. G. Knapstein.

Ralph Seuss, Menasha, Valley Council Boy Scout training chairman, was in charge of a two-day leaders' session at Gardner Dam camp. Lloyd Pinkowski, Clintonville, was chairman of the workshop on program building. W. C. Friedlandt, Menasha, was to head the group on advancement in Scouting; Lester Osterloth, Clintonville, was chairman of the scoutmaster group.

10 YEARS AGO
Monday, Oct. 14, 1961.

Mrs. Hubert Wetak, Appleton, was elected president of the Green Bay Council of Catholic Women. Mrs. John Mullarkey, New London, was elected vice president; Miss Marie Haag, Appleton, secretary; and Miss Helen Neurenberger, Two Rivers, treasurer.

Herbert A. Beall, Appleton, took part in professional research and development work at the Esso Research Laboratories in Baton Rouge, La. A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Mr. Neall was a student at Harvard University that fall, working toward a doctorate in the field of chemistry.

Part of Kodiak May be Rising

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Karl Armstrong, editor of the Kodiak Mirror, says the tiny community is being swept by rumors that its waterfront is rising after sinking nearly six feet during the great earthquake of 1964.

Armstrong says it's believed a portion of Kodiak Island has risen about two feet since the quake. He's asked persons who might have information on the possible rise to step forward with any facts they may have.

Wisconsin Report

State's Highway Fund Not as Flush as Its Critics Claim

BY NORMAN CLAPP

MADISON — In all of the agonizing over state finances there has been a common assumption that at least one state fund — the highway fund — is comfortably fixed and out of trouble.

This notion has been encouraged by critics who regard any visible road construction as evidence of too much money for such purposes. It is also a matter of faith with still others who struggle with the hard realities of state funding in other fields. They cling to the belief that all would be solved if only they could tap the highway fund with all its imagined surplus.

Norman Clapp, chief of the state Department of Transportation, concludes a series of guest columns arranged by John Wyngaard, who has been on vacation. His column will resume next week.

The truth of the matter is quite different. It is true that Wisconsin is moving ahead with a substantial road improvement program. It will add up to a total investment of about $125 million in actual construction this year. It will continue next year and the year after, at approximately the same level. But there will come a day of reckoning.

Much Money Borrowed

Two things need to be understood about the current program.

First, it is being carried on with a very sizable infusion of borrowed money, $235 million over a six-year period.

Second, it is primarily committed to the major traffic arteries of the state, the four-lane freeways and expressways.

This is the nature of the accelerated highway and bridge improvement program

enacted by the legislature in 1969. The legislature authorized the state to borrow about half of the estimated cost of the total program. The balance has to come from current state construction funds.

But now, two additional factors are making themselves felt: the mounting costs of inflation and the impact of repaying the borrowed money. Both will have to come out of current revenues of the highway fund.

Cost Increases Cited

Inflation has raised some highway material costs as much as 25 per cent since 1969. Steel is the greatest offender. But concrete masonry for bridges is not far behind.

Overall, the highway engineers figure all construction costs have been going up at an average rate of six to seven per cent a year. That means that a million dollar project under the 1969 accelerated highway improvement program adopted by the legislature, which was expected to be funded half from bond proceeds and half from the current state construction fund, is now costing as much as $1,140,000 — and the difference has to come out of current highway revenues.

Repayment of the money borrowed so far has already started, but this demand upon the highway fund will hit its peak in 1975 when it will require an annual payment of $25 5 million.

With the major commitment to freeway construction, what will happen to our other road needs, the bread-and-butter roads?

The Highway Commission finds that it takes $40 million a year to keep up with the needs of these less glamorous, but just as essential, highway improvements. This year, about $30 million will be available for them. That will shrink to less than $15 million in 1973-74 and to less than $5 million in 1974-75.

We are, today, one year behind a reasonable construction schedule for fulfilling current, non-freeway type highway needs, and we can expect to be at least five years behind by 1975.

Recognizing this, members of the legislature are beginning to ask what can be done about the essential sectional and local highways that are vital, in their own right, to statewide transportation services.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

BY CAPPY DICK

A desk photo that is held upright by two easels will present an especially interesting effect if it has cloth drapes at each side as shown in figure 1. The preparation of this frame is today's fun-project for boys and girls.

Easels at Back

Select a favorite photo, or clip a favorite movie star's picture from a magazine, and paste it on a square of poster board. The image should be at the center of the board.

Glue two triangular easels to the back to hold the frame upright. Cut these easels from cardboard.

Then, select some pieces of colored fabric for the drapes to be attached at the sides of the front. Use cloth that is soft so it can be folded easily. Cloth that is too springy will be difficult to pleat.

Fold the cloth to create the effect shown in figure 1. Apply strong glue close to the top edge of the board and lay the pleated cloth in it, using a stapler to fasten it in place.

This completes the frame.

Baritone Will Open UW-O Chamber Series

Talented Greek-American Singer To Give Concert Monday Night

Young Greek-American baritone Theodore Lambrinos opens the Chamber Arts Series over at Oshkosh, where the University now is called University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh

This is the fourth year for the series, sponsored by the Music Student Council of the University music department. Concert time is 8 p m Monday in the Music Hall of the recently dedicated Arts and Communication Center on the Oshkosh campus.

Hailed as one of the major and most exciting baritones now performing, Lambrinos brings to the operatic stage a unique combination of dramatic and vocal excitement. Lambrinos made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera in 1968

Tickets are available for the entire series or for single concerts. They may be reserved by telephoning the music department office at UW-Oshkosh.

Trio Nov. 8

The Marlboro Trio is scheduled to perform Nov. 8. This group features pianist Mitchell Andrews, violinist Gerald Tarack and cellist Charles McCracken

Founded at Marlboro, Vt., in 1961 under the guidance of the venerable Rudolph Serkin, the trio has gone on to big successes. It has toured internationally with great success, appearing on every major chamber music series. Press acclamations herald the threesome as one of the finest and most important ensembles in the country today

Biggs Consort

The John Biggs Consort will return to the Oshkosh campus Feb. 14. This group appeared on the first chamber series and captivated the audience with a genuine warmth of spirit and an impeccable musical style.

The Consort features music from medieval, Renaissance, Baroque and contemporary times, using instruments which are authentic reproductions of their times.

Munich Orchestra

As a special centennial year highlight, the final attraction of the series will be a concert by the Munich Chamber Orchestra This chamber orchestra performs regularly in its own city of Munich, Germany, and in addition has toured regularly throughout the world.

In Munich, tourists and residents alike have filled the winter series to capacity and have flocked to the orchestra's summer candlelight festival at historic Nymphenburg Palace.

The date for this concert will be announced later.

Filming of Two Operas Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — Coloratura soprano Joan Sutherland says she will star in two operas, each condensed to a half hour, for showing on National Educational Television.

The two operas, "The Barber of Seville" and "The Daughter of the Regiment," will be filmed in London and probably will be aired in April, Miss Sutherland said Thursday.

Miss Sutherland said she will sing and between arias will discuss the plots of the two operas, which will be shown during prime viewing time.

The venture is being carried out with a $160,000 grant from General Telephone and Electronics, she said.

Dick Van Dyke Performs His Tipsy Routine

BY TV SCOUT

8-8:30 Channel 2 — The New Dick Van Dyke Show has an episode tailored to all of Dick's talents, including his great drunk act. Seems wife Jenny (Hope Lange) is hyped on tennis and he doesn't play. Her partner is Skip the Pip, a dashing bachelor (Ted Bessell), and together they start climbing in a local tournament which means she spends more and more time away from home and Dick gets more and more jealous — and finally drunk.

1:30-3 Channels 11-9 — Wide World of Sports presents the PBA National Bowling Championship from Paramus Lanes in Paramus, N.J. Jim McKay hosts, with Billy Welu doing the commentary.

7-7:30 Channel 5 — The Partners has its funniest episode to date with Don Adams and Rupert Crosse going down to the airport to meet Rupert's mother (Juanita Moore), just back from Florida with some grapefruit which, because of a combination of funny circumstances, contains an extremely hot and expensive diamond

7:30-8 Channel 2 — Obviously the powers - that - be hope you won't remember the first episode of Funny Face which revolved around Sandy Duncan's efforts to buy a car. Because tonight's episode is all about the fact that she doesn't know how to drive and has to take a crash course so that she can do a TV commercial which requires her to drive.

7:30-9 Channels 11-9 — You can understand why Richard Boone chose to make his first TV acting appearance in some time in the leading role of "In Broad Daylight," the Movie of the Weekend. It's a good acting part and he does it justice, but unfortunately he is wasted on a script with more holes than Swiss cheese. He plays a once famous actor who has been blinded (we never learn how) and who learns, as he is returning home with his therapist (Suzanne Pleshette), that his wife (Stella Stevens) is having an affair with his lawyer (Fred Beir). So he does what any blind actor would do: plots a killing which is carried out by creating the character of a sighted Greek tourist

8:30-9 Channel 2 — Nancy Walker returns to The Mary Tyler Moore Show as Rhoda's (Valerie Harper) mother, a role she played last year in a segment that won an Emmy for the writers. She hasn't changed much this year, still nagging until she sees how neighbor Cloris Leachman acts with her daughter, Lisa Gerritsen. So Rhoda's mother decides to take a leaf from Cloris' book and be a pal to her daughter, which is even worse — particularly when she starts dressing like Rhoda

9-10 Channel 11 — The Persuaders takes place in the woods where Roger Moore and Tony Curtis are on a camping trip. Lots of this is visual, with spies and counterspies and heroes and villains all chasing each other and Tony with an attache case locked to his wrist and a funny touch at the end when he is finally free of the case he has treated so roughly

9-10 Channels 2-7 — It's not easy to find waterfront ghost stories, but that's what Mission: Impossible has. The gang is out to get evidence to break an underworld stranglehold on a seaport and they do it by setting up Lynda Day George as the daughter of a murdered man and, Peter Graves as a Norwegian sea captain. Between them, they manage to release enough information about ghosts and jinxes to play on the superstitions of the bosses and, as usual, turn one against the other.
